NYLON PRICES GOING UP SOON

MONTREAL (CP)—A price increase in women's nylon stockings is coming shortly, a trade spokesman said today. It should show up in the shops after Easter.

The increase may not affect some "nationally branded" lines but will range from 10 to 30 cents a dozen pairs wholesale elsewhere, he said.

Canada Splits With U.S. Over UN Plan for Israel

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Canada decided today to withdraw as a sponsor of a U.S.-backed resolution aimed at breaking the Sinai desert deadlock, informed sources said today.

These informants said Canada's decision was to allow itself freedom to move an amendment if it felt such action necessary in the course of debate in the General Assembly.

The United States was planning to introduce two resolutions.

The first would call for an Israeli withdrawal from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area. The second would permit the UN Emergency Force to be stationed in both areas.

Informed sources said Canada's attitude would be governed by the interpretation given to the latter resolution.

Hon. L. B. Pearson, leader of the Canadian delegation, had favored a strongly-worded resolution on the second point. This would have outlined with some precision how the UN Emergency Force would be deployed following an Israeli withdrawal.

Up until today, the Canadian and U.S. delegations had worked together on this resolution. Then the U.S. decided to sponsor a resolution of its own wording—much more general in its terms.

Canada was said to fear this watering down of the resolution had left it open to interpretations that would not be acceptable to Israel.

Informed sources said that if Canada finds itself in agreement with the interpretations given it during the General Assembly debate starting this afternoon, it will vote for the resolution.

If it does not, it will move an amendment aimed at securing a clearer definition of the functions of the UN force.

Earlier, a U.S. spokesman, conceding Canada had not been won over to the American draft, had expressed hope Canada might still decide to come in as a sponsor at the last moment.

SHE'S MAD AT IKE

Mrs. Charles Wilson, wife of the U.S. secretary of defence, was much in the U.S. foreground today after rising to the defence of her husband against what she called the criticism of President Eisenhower. At press conference Ike said that Wilson made "a very . . . unwise statement, without stopping to think" when he mentioned "draft dodging" in connection with U.S. National Guard during the Korea war. Mrs. Wilson termed the president's comment "uncalled for." (AP Wirephoto.)

U.S. MAY BAN TEST FLIGHTS OVER CITIES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil Aeronautics Administration today ordered immediate steps toward restricting of plane-flight testing to remote areas.

The action followed Thursday's mid-air collision near Van Nuys, Calif., when wreckage plunged into a school yard killing two students and injuring 78.

1 Survives Active Pass Sinking

Two Nanaimo men are missing and believed drowned in Active Pass following the sinking at 9.30 a.m. today of the 40-foot fishboat Lady Billie.

There was one survivor of the sinking, the owner-skipper of Lady Billie, Peter Kelly, 1140 Strathmore Street, Nanaimo.

He was saved by his father, Nicholas Kelly, 34 Robart Street, who was alone on his fishing craft, the Rose Lind.

Active Pass is on the main steamship route to Vancouver, about 40 miles from Victoria.

The Rose Lind was about a half mile behind the Lady Billie, near Georgina Light, in a fresh gale. Mr. Kelly Sr. told RCAF air-sea rescue that the Lady Billie "suddenly disappeared."

It is believed the father found his son clinging to wreckage and hauled him aboard.

CALL FOR HELP

Call for assistance was answered by four towboats—including the Victoria tug Island Despatcher—an RCAF motor launch, and an RCAF helicopter.

At 1 p.m. today, practically all hope for safety of the missing men had been abandoned.

Their names are withheld pending notification of relatives in England. They were both residents of Nanaimo after coming here from England a few months ago. Each was married, and each had a small child. Their wives and children are in Nanaimo.

The helicopter was recalled to base shortly after 12 noon, following an intensive, low-level search of the shoreline near the scene of the sinking.

WRECKAGE FOUND

The surface craft picked up a considerable quantity of wreckage, indicating the Lady Billie broke up in heavy seas.

Air-sea rescue officials believe the fishboat must have sprung its seams in the heavy going and gone down quickly.

U.S. Speeds Plans For A-War-Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia today accused the Western Powers of deliberately evading a solution to the problem of world disarmament.

The Soviet government charged in a statement distributed by Tass, that the United States is "speeding up preparations" for a new atomic war.

The statement said the U.S. used not only evasion but delaying tactics within the United Nations to avoid a solution on the disarmament problem.

Foreign ministry spokesman Leonid F. Ilyichev, who called a press conference to announce the official statement, said that despite what he called Western provocations the Soviet Union "is and will continue its efforts towards solving the problem."

The Soviet statement said the new plan of the U.S. government for the establishment and expansion of military bases abroad, and for equipping them with atomic weapons, is "proof that the United States is speeding up preparations for an atomic war."

Prices Here Kept At High Level, Parliament Told

OTTAWA (CP)—The B.C. Sugar Refining Co. today was accused before Parliament of monopolizing most of sugar sales in the west and setting prices at the highest possible level.

The allegations were contained in a 200-page report by the restrictive trade practices commission, tabled in Commons by Justice Minister Garson.

The report said it would be in the public's best interests to prevent extension of B.C. Sugar Refining Co. to Manitoba.

The three-man body recommended that the company be prevented from carrying through its merger with the Manitoba Sugar Co. Ltd. of Fort Garry, Man.

The amalgamation, the commission said, would increase the B.C. company's share of the Manitoba market to about 75 per cent from the present 25 per cent and destroy effective competition in that province.

Justice Minister Garson said the Company will be given an opportunity to consider its position before the federal government decides whether to take legal action.

(In Winnipeg, R. R. Hetherington, assistant manager of the Manitoba firm, said the merger of the Manitoba and the B.C. companies took place several months ago when the Vancouver company acquired 40 per cent of the shares of the Manitoba company and took an option on another 55 per cent. The B.C. company also has a management contract to operate the Manitoba firm.)

Vancouver Price Used as Yardstick

The report tabled in Commons today said the B.C. company has maintained its wholesale factory price of refined sugar at Vancouver about 35 cents for each 100 pounds higher than Montreal factory prices and has used this Vancouver price for setting the tab in other provinces.

Its pricing system had the effect of enabling its subsidiary, Canadian Sugar Factories Ltd., to sell sugar at the highest possible price throughout Alberta without regard to the actual shipping costs from Alberta factories.

(In Victoria, sugar prices were practically static until October with the wholesale price $8.62 per 100 pounds. Since late October, prices have risen—sometimes twice a month, and sometimes even once a week—to the present wholesale level of $11.27 per 100 pounds. Retail price increases during the same period were from 47 to 62 cents for five-pound sacks, and 93 cents to $1.23 for 10 pounds. The present price is said by veteran grocers to be the highest since the First World War.)

The B.C. company, during an inquiry last year, countered that its labor costs were higher than in the east. But the commission suggested the lack of foreign competition had something to do with the price level. It found the highest sugar prices in eastern Saskatchewan.

Tariff protection provided for Canadian refineries was sufficiently high to keep almost the entire Canadian market for Canadian producers. If the Manitoba Sugar Company was allowed to remain independent, there would be only one way in which western sugar prices could go under increased competition and that was down, the commission said.

The commission made no charge of collusion between B.C. sugar and eastern refineries.

Toronto Police Intensify Hunt For Woman Beater

TORONTO (CP) — Police methodically checked scores of automobiles in suburban North York today after a brutal attack on an attractive 35-year-old mother run down by the motorist whose advances she ignored.

Mrs. Phyllis Cumming suffered a broken spine and leg, internal injuries and multiple lacerations.

The assailant was linked to similar attacks on three women, one of them injured seriously, and an attempt to run down two boy scouts last evening.

63 MILES PER HOUR GUSTS LASH CITY

Mercury Dips to 20 Tonight; Partial Relief Due Sunday

Winter galloped back into Victoria today astride winds that reached 63 miles per hour in gusts at 7.30 a.m., and with temperatures down to 31 degrees at 1 p.m.

Weatherman William Mackie—who did not expect the cold air to hit Victoria for another 12 hours—said the thermometer started dropping from a comparatively warm 39 degrees Thursday at 10.30 p.m.

"We are predicting a minimum temperature tonight of from 20 to 25 degrees, and a maximum Saturday of 32," he said. "But with good fortune our skies will remain clear tonight and Saturday."

RELIEF SUNDAY

He predicted some relief Sunday or Monday. There are signs of milder air creeping across western Alaska today.

A summary of January's weather, prepared by Mr. Mackie, showed that although the last month was one of the coldest in 58 years of recording, its mean temperature of 33.8 degrees was well above the mean of 26.1 degrees recorded in January of 1950.

11.6 DEGREE LOW

It was still 5.3 degrees lower than the customary 39.1 degrees. Maximum temperature was 46.8 degrees Jan. 1, and the minimum was 16.8 degrees Jan. 25. Minimum at ground level was 11.6 degrees, also on Jan. 25.

Rainfall totaled 1.63 inches, or 2.29 below normal, and there were 12.4 inches of snow, or 6.8 more than normal. Total precipitation (with snow converted to rain) was 2.87 inches, or 1.61 inches under the average.

There were 13 days with precipitation, five less than normal, and 95.2 hours of sunshine, to make the month the fourth sunniest January on record. Others were in 1922, with 107.1 hours; 1930, with 138.1, and 1949, with 117.5.

2 Die in Stabbing; Policeman Critical

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) — A high school teacher and his wife were slain in their boarding house today and police said three of the four constables who overpowered a suspect were stabbed, one of them critically.

Mrs. Charlotte Castonguay was killed in her bedroom, and her husband, Gerard, wounded so severely that he died after staggering across the street to the home of a sister-in-law.

Constable Gino Pollesel was in critical condition in hospital, his stomach slashed by the six-inch blade of a knife swung upward by a crouching man who opened the rooming house door at the policeman's knock.

Constable Richard Dixon was stabbed in the thigh by a vicious upward swing described as "commando-like." The third officer, Constable Robert Young, was wounded in the hand.

The knife wielder was finally overpowered.

John Petrie, Dies

VANCOUVER (CP) — John Petrie, 45, sentenced to 14 years for conspiracy to traffic in drugs, died of a heart attack in Oakalla Prison Farm Thursday night.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

O heavenly Father, I pray today that this may not be just another day of monotonous routine in which I seek only to get through its hours. Free me from the curse of loneliness, which holds me back from fellowship with friends; through Christ. Amen.

Death Toll at 13 In U.S. Floods

BARBOURVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The toll of death and destruction mounted today as new heavy rains fed one of the worst floods in the history of the Appalachian Mountains region and carried the threat into the south.

Thirteen were dead in Kentucky, West Virginia and Virginia—first to be struck when flood water rolled out of the mountains four days ago.

PREMIER'S PURCHASE OMEN?

Sunday Ball Backers See New Ray of Hope

VANCOUVER (CP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett Thursday bought shares in the Vancouver Mounties Baseball Club and stock sales chairman Bill Clancey seems to think it was a good omen for the Sunday sport issue in Vancouver.

Mr. Bennett stopped in at the stock-selling offices of the Pacific coast League club and bought "shares"—more than one, at $25 each—to boost the club's current drive for funds.

Clancey said the premier wished the club luck in its campaign, adding: "You'd almost think that was a tipoff, wouldn't you."

Vancouver city council has asked the Legislature for permission to allow commercial Sunday afternoon sport here, the request being included in a list of proposed amendments to the city charter.

Tugboat Strike Hits New York, Great Lakes

NEW YORK (AP)—Crews of tugboats along the east coast and Great Lakes went on strike today in a contract dispute over improved wages and working conditions. Four thousand men walked out in the New York harbor area.

The strike held a threat to the movement of fuel oil, coal and some foods to the city.

CHEK Transmitter Move Aim of 150

Salt Spring Island Site Asked At Meeting on Interference Issue

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

A meeting that early threatened to erupt into fireworks fizzled out Friday night, and about 150 persons settled for a petition to be started to ask the CBC to look into and then eliminate interference set up by local television station.

The meeting was sponsored by the Saanich Voters' Association at the instigation of the TV Interference Committee, a group of Saanich residents. It was held in the Lake Hill Women's Institute Hall.

Prime concern of the majority of speakers and those present was that David M. Armstrong, CHEK-TV president, should, at the earliest possible moment, have the station's transmitter, now located at Epsom Drive, Saanich, moved to Salt Spring Island where "it would interfere with no one."

However, James J. Proudfoot, legal adviser to Mr. Armstrong, arose to read two telegrams to the meeting.

The first, addressed to F. C. Nixon, controller of telecommunications, department of transport, Ottawa, sought permission for CHEK-TV to move its transmitter to Mount Bruce on Salt Spring Island.

The second, from Mr. Nixon to Mr. Armstrong, stated, in part: "Regret department cannot consider granting special permission to move CHEK-TV transmitter site to Mount Bruce . . . because this location would not be in accordance with the technical rule used in the application of the government television coverage policy . . ."

After two panel speakers, W. R. Margetts and E. W. Wilkinson, had stated their case against the local station, Mr. Armstrong started reading a prepared statement.

He had reached only the second paragraph—"CHEK-TV is providing viewers with many of the finest programs available in the U.S. and Canada"—when he was interrupted by boos and catcalls by a small but noisy minority.

Armstrong Told to 'Sit Down'

"Do you want to hear this?" Mr. Armstrong asked, beginning to gather up his papers, "or will I sit down?"

"Sit down," a few shouted.

Panel moderator Dr. J. M. Thomas intervened.

"I would suggest," he said, "that we ask Mr. Armstrong to please come back and continue and surely those who have voiced their protest just now will remain silent until he is through."

After that, the speaker continued in a comparative calm to outline the objectives of CHEK-TV.

He promised: "The finest Hollywood movies . . . will be seen on CHEK-TV right in the heart of the evening. Local live amateur talent shows, a hunting and fishing program, a live local panel quiz show, and an audience participation show should be on the air in the next few weeks."

He then pointed out that CHEK-TV "actively supports all of the important medical and community service drives as part of its service to the community" and, with the completion of the cross-Canada microwave link next year, CHEK-TV will carry many of the top U.S. and Canadian network shows on a live basis.

He mentioned the Friday night fights, the World Series, Grey Cup, All-Star game, U.S. Bowl games.

Mr. Armstrong concluded by listing the channels open to this area.

"All the channels available have now been taken or spoken for," he said, "and if we hadn't moved when we did Victoria now wouldn't have a television station at all."

'We're Not Here to Apologize'

In explaining CHEK-TV's request to the Department of Transport for change of transmitter site, Mr. Proudfoot told the meeting:

"We did not come here to apologize for CHEK-TV. We believe we are doing very well."

"Yes," a voice called from the floor, "by ramming it down our throats."

"Maybe the gentleman would like to come up and say a few words," Mr. Proudfoot suggested.

But no one stepped forward.

E. W. Langston, representing the TV interference committee, pointed out that set-owners in the Greater Victoria area had invested some $10,000,000 in sets and antennas as against the local station's $250,000 investment.

Not only was CHEK-TV a "nuisance," he said, but it was having a definitely adverse effect upon real estate values in Saanich. He concluded by adjuring the meeting "to get behind CHEK-TV and help it get its transmitter moved by starting a petition to Ottawa."

Another committee speaker, R. Baird, also spoke about the local station having an adverse effect upon Saanich real estate.

When questioned by various members from the floor, Roy Farrett, local television technician, said a transmitter located on Salt Spring Island would not set up interference for anyone in the Victoria area.

The meeting concluded with the request for volunteers to circulate petitions throughout the Greater Victoria area asking that the transmitter site be changed. Exact wording of the petition was still to be worked out.

PLEAD GUILTY, APOLOGIZE

Hungary Expels Youthful U.K. 'Spies'

LONDON (Reuters) — The Hungarian government has informed Britain that four young Britons held in Hungary on spying charges will be expelled from the country Saturday, a British foreign office spokesman said today.

The four students are Miss Judith Cripps, 18-year-old granddaughter of the late Sir Stafford Cripps; Roger Cooper, 21; Basil Lord, 25, and his brother, Christopher, 22.

The spokesman said Hungarian Ambassador Janos Katona told British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore this afternoon that the four have "pleaded guilty and apologized."

The four were accused of carrying forged passes, trying to make contact with members of the revolutionary committee in Budapest and trying to gather information about Russian and Hungarian troops.

CCF Advance Polling Proposal Voted Down

(From Times News Services)

The House of Commons, headed for an election later this year, has debated and rejected a CCF member's plan for rewriting the rules on advance polling.

The bill sponsored by CCF whip Stanley Knowles (Winnipeg North Centre) would have allowed all eligible voters who expect to be away from home on election day to cast their ballots in advance polls.

After more than three hours of debate it was defeated 131 to 33 in a vote in which three Liberals sided with CCF and Social Credit backers of the proposal. Other Liberals, Progressive Conservatives and the three independents were in the majority.

Mr. Knowles, whose bill was voted down last session too, argued that there is discrimination in the present law which restricts use of advance polls to commercial travellers, fishermen, transportation workers and members of the RCMP away from home in the normal course of employment.

STANLEY KNOWLES

Would Accommodate Holidayers

If persons are on holiday at election time, he said, they should not be deprived of their voting rights. Not all could afford to return home from holidays to vote.

His measure called for two advance polling days nine and 10 days before election day, and for changing nomination day to three weeks ahead of the election instead of two weeks.

State Secretary Pinard, opposing the bill, said it would eliminate the significance and importance of a single voting day. It might lead to more votes being cast in the advance polls than on election day. He had been informed it would cost $500,000 to provide advance polls on the scale proposed by Mr. Knowles.

Of the three Liberals who backed Mr. Knowles' bill, one was Ross Thatcher of Moose Jaw-Lake Centre, a former CCF member who voted for it last year when he was an independent.

Mr. Knowles said the four western provinces provided advance polls. Their experience refuted the suggestion of Mr. Pinard that the advance polling days might become more important than election day.

Davie Fulton (PC—Kamloops) raised another objection to having three polling days. He said it would "increase opportunities for organized skullduggery at the polls."

Elmore Philpott (L—Vancouver South), who voted for the bill last session and changed his mind this year, criticized the proposal to move nomination day three weeks ahead of election day. He said election campaigns already are too extended and too expensive.

Thomas M. Barnett (CCF—Comox-Alberni) said there should be provision for absentee voting so that those away from home could vote in other constituencies.

Harold E. Winch (CCF—Vancouver East) said B.C.'s experience with unrestricted advance polling does not tend to substantiate Mr. Pinard's fear that it reduces the actual election-day vote.

Oil Fever Blamed for Indian Trouble

A suggestion that oil fever is at the bottom of the Hobbema Indian trouble was made by Prime Minister St. Laurent in declining Opposition leader Diefenbaker's proposal that a Royal commission determine Indians' rights.

Parliament, by its approval of the Indian Act, had given the courts the responsibility of deciding who is an Indian and therefore entitled to live on a reserve and share its fortunes, he said.

Referring to the disfranchisement under the act—through action by fellow inhabitants—of 118 residents of the oil-rich Hobbema Reserve in Alberta, he added: "I do not think it would be proper, when there is a dispute about proprietory rights, nt oattempt to set up a Royal commission to make a decision on that dispute instead of having it decided by the ordinary courts of the country."

At another point, as both he and Citizenship Minister Pickersgill came under a volley of opposition questions, Mr. St. Laurent said: "It may be a very popular cause at this time to try to make much out of the unfortunate situation in which some of those who have been found to be residing on this reserve and not to be Indians find themselves.

Legal Proceedings Should Be Taken

"However, there are legal proceedings that can be taken and should be taken and which I hope will be taken." This was a reference to the fact that the disfranchised Indians may lodge an appeal, for which the deadline is Feb. 6.

"If it is not taken it can be supplemented by action recommended to this parliament to see that there is consideration by the courts of the question of fact involved in this matter," the prime minister said.

Then he added: "This is something which was apparently not considered of very much importance by anyone until a very greatly enhanced value was given to the lands of this reserve by the oil finds either on it or in the surrounding territory."

Douglas Harkness (PC—Calgary North) told the House Jan. 21 the reserve has oil leases valued at $20,000,000. Expulsion of the 118 Indians would leave $2,000,000 more for distribution among those remaining on the reserve. Payments now amounted to $25 a month for each Indian.

The act, as revised in 1951, provides that if 10 or more reserve residents sign a petition asking an investigation of a fellow resident's legal Indianhood, the citizenship department's Indian affairs branch must look into it.

In this way the 118 members of the Samson band at Hobbema were ordered to leave the reserve, 55 miles south of Edmonton, because their ancestors accepted payment of land or money in return for giving up their treaty rights.

A new venture by a Canadian company to pump oil into the developing areas of the Yukon and Alaska received approval in principle in the Senate.

Given second reading and sent to a committee for further study was a bill to incorporate Alaska-Yukon Pipelines Ltd.

Senator Stanley McKeen (L—British Columbia) said the all-Canadian company plans to construct an oil pipeline from Haines Junction in the Yukon to Haines, Alaska, and build a refinery at the latter seaboard point.

A Senate committee postponed for another month any action on possible ousting of Senator Joseph James Duffus of Peterborough from his Senate seat for non-attendance.

Federal Gov't Fails to Guard B.C. Resources Charge Tories

Two top Conservatives attacked the federal government Thursday night for "disregarding the principles of Parliament" and "failing to safeguard British Columbia's natural resources.

The charges were made at a meeting of Victoria branch of Progressive Conservative Association.

Leon J. Ladner, QC, president of the B.C. Conservative Council, said Ottawa's action in approaching the U.S. government for top-level talks on international waterways could lead to a new international treaty which would cost B.C. about $90,000,000.

"These meetings could be a fatal step so far as B.C. is concerned," Mr. Ladner said.

Mr. Ladner also charged the Ottawa government with tax-grabbing.

"While they ask everyone else to tighten their belts, the government raises taxes" so that they now have a gigantic surplus, he said.

A. De B. McPhillips, Progressive Conservative candidate for Victoria federal riding, called for a general clean-up of the Ogden Point docks and construction of a new federal terminal.

"The docks have been allowed to get to the point where they are an eyesore," he said.

SNOW-TRAPPED WORKERS RESCUED FROM TRAINS

CHAMA, N.M. (AP)—Five men were brought out by helicopter and six others by army weasels Thursday from two trains caught in heavy snow atop Cumbres Pass on the Colorado-New Mexico line.

Another 49 still are stranded. "They are full of spunk," an official said. "They have plenty food, plenty fuel, plenty shelter."

The workers have been on overtime pay since last Sunday.

A Dam for Free

PREMIER BENNETT'S OPPOSITION to electrical power exports would be more convincing if it were not denied by the record of his Government.

When the Gordon Commission proposed that Canada export "for stated periods of years" some of the power from such rivers as the Columbia, Mr. Bennett at once condemned this recommendation. He said he was opposed to any power exports and thus he seemed to support the long-standing policy of successive Canadian Governments.

But Mr. Bennett himself tried to export power from the Columbia in the case of the famous Kaiser Dam on Lower Arrow Lake. To be sure he did not try to export power directly. He intended only to let American interests dam the Columbia and use the resulting supplies of water to make electricity south of the international boundary. Yet this was exactly the same as making direct exports. The water to be stored in Canada was the equivalent of electricity.

The Federal Government promptly quashed the Kaiser Dam deal as negotiated by Mr. Sommers, then minister of lands and forests. At this interference Mr. Bennett was furious. He said Ottawa had no right to prevent the export of power which he now condemns.

The reason for all this confusion is that Mr. Bennett and the Federal Government have been talking about two different things.

The Federal Government is opposed to the export of any power, or its equivalent in water. Its policy on the Columbia, however, goes much farther than that.

It says that if Canada dams the Columbia at Mica Creek the resulting control of the river will vastly increase the annual output of American power plants south of the line, at no cost to the United States. Therefore, Canada should receive a large share, something like a half, of the extra American power which is known as "downstream benefits."

Mr. Bennett, like the Federal Government, is opposed to any power export from the Mica Creek dam but he is ready to alienate most of the downstream benefits, though they would probably represent the largest part of the total Columbia power.

His plan is to allow American interests to build the Mica Creek dam and hand it over to Canada "free." Of course it would not be free. Its cost would be extremely high. For Mr. Bennett would compensate the United States for its "gift" of the dam by handing over to it most of the downstream benefits.

We would thus lose a huge supply of power to which we are entitled in international law and in common equity. Actually, therefore, Mr. Bennett is in favor of power exports on a large scale, though doubtless he would give them another name while denouncing power exports in principle.

Fortunately for Canada Mr. Bennett does not control power exports. They fall under federal jurisdiction. At the moment the Canadian and American Governments are beginning negotiations to settle the whole Columbia power issue and divide the potential electricity of that river equitably between the two nations.

Ottawa certainly is bound to consider the views of the British Columbia Government but it must put the interests of the nation at large ahead of Mr. Bennett's convenience. The interests of the nation demand that we secure from the Columbia, for future Canadian use, every possible kilowatt, whether we can use it all immediately or not. For not long hence we shall certainly need it all in a growing British Columbia.

The Deathly Hush

ONLY A SMALL MINORITY OF the Canadian public may be expected to read the Gordon Commission's preliminary report, or the final report to be submitted next autumn. But the Federal Government and its civil servants have read the present document and apparently take a poor view of it.

The official reaction in Ottawa, the newspaper correspondents tell us, varies from indifference to bitter hostility. The chief critic of the report seems to be Mr. Howe, who was opposed to the appointment of the Royal Commission in the first place. He regarded it as a kind of assize on his administration of the Canadian economy and the Commision certainly has criticized some of his major policies.

For example, it advocates a system of wheat marketing which Mr. Howe has repeatedly rejected and which the Canadian Wheat Board regards as entirely unworkable.

Again, the Commission would remove the administration of electrical power and natural gas from the hands of Mr. Howe and place it under an independent commission.

Mr. Howe would not like that. But his management of the improvident Trans Canada Pipelines contract suggests that an independent administrative body might give the public interest better protection than it sometimes receives now. It is unlikely, however, that this recommendation will be implemented so long as Mr. Howe is in the Government.

Neither the Government nor the Opposition is likely to support the Gordon Commission's implied attack on the Crow's Nest Pass freight rate agreement, which fixes freight rates on grain throughout the prairies at a low and arbitrary figure.

The Commission does not think these rates are likely to be raised but suggests that the railways might be compensated for them by subsidies from the taxpayers—a proposal first advanced by Chief Justice Gordon Sloan when he investigated a railway wage dispute some years ago.

Since the railways are making huge profits from the grain trade on existing rates and virtually the entire prairies are opposed to any change in the present arrangements, no change is probable.

If the Government is tacitly rejecting the Commission's views on wheat marketing, power and grain rates, there are many other aspects of the report to be considered and much valuable information about the nation's economic prospects.

It is disappointing, therefore, to find the House of Comons almost ignoring all this material. The whole report, indeed, seems to have been received with a deathly hush in Ottawa after its long advance billing.

It may turn out to be what Hollywood calls a "sleeper"—a production which makes a slow start but, later on, catches the public imagination. In any case, it is unfair to judge the Commission on a preliminary and drastically condensed version of its final conclusions.

The Ottawa politicians of all parties are pre-occupied with many other urgent matters, including an election. Perhaps they will return to the Commission's finding when the June polls have closed.

Money for Horsepower

THE ANNOUNCED B.C. ELECTRIC program of nearly $102 millions for expansion of hydro-electric and service facilities in this province is at once a measure of British Columbia's growing needs and of the company's determination to fill them.

The submarine cable linking Vancouver Island with the mainland gives local residents a direct interest in the Bridge River, Cheakamus and other expansion projects. It will be noted that the scheduled expenditures are for further work on production units already begun — evidence that the need for more power was recognized years ago in the formation of programs now nearing completion.

It is vast constructive plans such as this which contribute to the $8-billion industrial program which has been estimated for Canada during the coming year. The extent of the projected investment has caused concern to economists, who foresee a powerful inflationary factor in the increasing demand for labor and materials.

The labor and materials just do not exist in the quantities which would be required if all the plans—both government and private—were carried out. For this reason prospective builders have been urged to postpone certain types of development until the inflationary pressure can be somewhat relieved.

Obviously hydro-electric developments should receive priority in this regard if the end result of the projects is to deliver more power for industry. Increased productivity is a basic answer to inflationary trends, and if the great expenditures entailed in such programs as that announced by B.C. Electric result eventually in a larger output of goods they will have contributed materially to the stabilization of our economy—quite apart from the direct material benefits to be derived.

MINGLING OF THE RACES — By B. A. TOBIN

House of High Hopes

IT WAS just a little over 300 years ago that a couple of English tobacco growers laid out a plantation on the east side of the island of Manhattan, about a quarter of the way up its length. The farm lay around a little cove called Turtle Bay and must have been a pleasant location. By the 19th century, however, the district was feeling the encroachment of the growing population. It became a fashionable residential section for New York City. Later on it degenerated into a tenement area, with breweries and slaughter houses in the neighborhood. It appeared that Turtle Bay, by now filled in, had had its day.

Tobin

The original tobacco growers could little have dreamed that someday their farm would be the site of a new experiment in world living, a new approach to international co-operation, a new hope of global peace for mankind.

For out of that farm-turned-slum has arisen a city within a city, a world within a world—the headquarters buildings of the United Nations.

Today the 39-storey centre block of the U.N. Secretariat, and the smaller structures clustered at the base of the vast glass and marble tower, are at once a symbol and a workshop.

The soaring height of the building well represents the soaring hopes in which the United Nations concept was launched. The spaciousness of the grounds and the great interior chambers speaks of the breadth of understanding and tolerance in which the whole idea was born.

Best We Have

The United Nations is not a 100 per cent success. Its failures have been many. But it is still the best thing that the nations of the world can fashion; its imperfections are those of man himself.

Voltaire has said that if there were no God, man would have to invent one. The same idea might well be applied to the U.N. If through some cataclysm it ceased to exist, man would immediately have to fashion another in order to safeguard his security.

But viewing this imposing building, it is difficult to imagine it falling vacant. Here are housed the various organs and branches of the United Nations. The 505-foot-high block contains the Secretariat, headed by Mr. Dag Hammarskjold, the Secretary General. More than 3,000 persons work here each day, drawn from the 80 nations that make up the U.N.

Besides these permanent employees, there are the delegations of the member countries and their staffs, there are the 300 accredited press correspondents, the radio and television men, and the thousands of visitors who come each day to see the building and the work.

The Secretariat building provides 20 acres of office space in its 39 glass-enclosed floors. The great banks of elevators, serving every floor with electronically-controlled precision, travel 250 miles a day. Scattered through the building are 2,300 typewriters with keyboards for 15 different languages.

There are cafeterias, lounges and other gathering places, and an extensive organization with everything from health centre to travel bureau to look after the needs of the large staff.

In the low-lying blocks at the skyscraper's base are the huge meeting places of the General Assembly, of the Security Council, and of the several committees which compose the working units of the U.N.

The Assembly building is designed on sweeping lines. From the soaring 75-foot ceiling of the lobby, which is reached through seven great bronze doors donated by Canada, to the acres of tiled floors, the whole impression is of freedom and space. Nickel, aluminum, glass, plastic—these are the materials of the building, fashioned into shapes as modern as the political concept which they house.

The World Forum

It is this section which contains the vast General Assembly room, the heart of the whole organization. Like a great theatre it holds the rows of seats for the delegates on the lower floor, with room for more than 1,000 reporters and visitors in the galleries.

Here the nations of the world present their cases, plead for help against aggressors, defend their words and actions, attack their opponents and strive to win world approval for their arguments.

As in all the conference rooms, each seat, whether delegate's or visitor's, is furnished with a headset, and the listener can switch in every speech made, in the language of his choice. Five languages are official in the U.N., and translators accompany each speaker, putting his words into English, French, Spanish, Chinese or Russian as required.

The committee rooms in the Conference Building, which connects the Assembly Building with the Secretariat, are slightly smaller but substantially the same.

Truly International

But it is in the halls and the large cafeteria that the visitor gets the most vivid impression of the international world that has grown up here.

Indian girls drift by in colorful saris, a Chinese secretary minces into the cafeteria in the slit dress of her country, a bearded Frenchman chooses a table near the window overlooking the East River, a sheet-draped delegate from some African land plods down the hall in his sandals. There is a mingling of races and nationalities here which could not be duplicated anywhere else in the world.

And there is a mingling of ideas too, which shows itself in the emergence of a "United Nations mind" which is very evident when you talk to some of the people you meet at the U.N.

Fish Vs. Power

According to a news report the B.C. Power Commission has now been authorized to start construction of power dams on the Ash, Sproat and Stamp Rivers.

A "commission spokesman" is reported to say that the Sproat and Stamp Rivers are salmon spawning streams and that the Ash is not.

Moran's Pool was certainly full of salmon last time I was there; aside from this the river carries a notable run of steelhead.

Discussions are said to be under way with federal fisheries men to get around the problem of safeguarding the spawning runs in these streams. Is the B.C. Power Commission naive enough to think that a solution will be found to this before they are due to start construction in the spring, when scientists in Canada, United States and Great Britain have been working fruitlessly on it for years?

Had any solution been in sight plans to dam the Fraser River would have been far more advanced, if not actually started by now. Meanwhile, the fishing resource in the smaller rivers is sacrificed piecemeal. There is an argument in favor of power rather than fish: but let us not be duped into thinking that we can have both in our present state of knowledge.

Clear Sidewalks

Nothing is more enjoyable than a walk in the glorious sunshine, such as we have basked in lately; but because so many pavements have not been cleared of snow, many elderly people have to stay indoors, or if they do get out are in danger of slipping.

Next time we have snow, let our motto be "All clear," and then everyone could thoroughly enjoy the snappy cold weather which is really a tonic. Isn't it about time that the by-law regarding the clearing of pavements was enforced? In some cities, I believe, people are given a certain time to clear, and after that the city takes control, adding the cost of clearing to the taxes—a jolly good idea, one which we could well adopt.

Church Attendance

In his tribute to the life of the late E. E. Winch—whom I never knew—"an Anglican" mentions the "many people who never miss their Communion and regular church services, and yet live the most selfish self-centred lives."

I have been a lay-reader, lay delegate, and vicar's warden for nearly 30 years, and of course this is only too true in ours, and probably all organized religions.

The reason is fairly clear. Money to maintain building, pay the clergy's stipend, augment the pension funds, is an absolute essential. It must be the foundation stone of most (all?) organized religion.

Hence, the clergy have to insist on regular attendance at church and communion services and regular and adequate donations as the essentials of a "Christian" life; as to the moral life of the individual — well, to dwell on that might offend some of the subscribers, even some wealthy ones — just ignore it!

I have heard Anglican parsons imply that to lead a good moral life without being a good churchman might prove a poor passport to St. Peter!

I wonder! No, I don't. I could, but will not take up more of your valuable space.

"ANOTHER ANGLICAN"

Saved the Commonwealth

The pages of history will record no more glaring and costly error than the intervention of Britain and France into Suez. An expedition which nearly wrecked the Commonwealth and which flouted the ideals of the United Nations.

Of course Britain was wrong. In her humiliation she would like to thrust the blame on the U.S. The Labor party and a large section of the Tories recognize this devastating mistake. Millions of Britishers have been crudely hurt. They now have to bear the brunt of petrol rationing, excess taxes and curtailed exports, which Britain can so ill afford.

Canadians can only hope that the gross tragedy of Suez will fade into the forgotten past and that Britain may, some day in the near future, regain her lost prestige. Our great neighbor to the south is to be congratulated on her courtesy and patience in handling our allied relations and great is the credit to St. Laurent and Pearson for the wise and diplomatic course they have taken. They saved the Commonwealth and held the breaking bond of unity betwen Britain and the U.S.

Interference

Is there nothing that can be done about the interference that Channel 6 is causing on Channel 5?

Sometimes we get the full picture of Channel 6 in the background of the picture on Channel 5 and the other times we get the black lines running through Channel 5 pictures.

I would definitely like to watch the programs I like and enjoy. To my opinion Channel 5 has far better and more advanced programs than 6. I'm sure I'm not the only one who thinks this in Greater Victoria so I believe that either Channel 6 should move it's transmitter elsewhere, where it would not bother our other stations or get something that would counteract the interference that it is causing on other stations.

Fire Insurance

A few days ago large headlines on your paper said:

"Colwood Home Razed by Fire; No Insurance."

This sort of fire loss happens quite frequently. On each occasion there is serious hardship as a result.

Is that hardship necessary?

Perhaps people owning houses and furniture do not know how very cheap it is to fully insure their home and furniture, even where there is no fire protection. The cost of buying fire insurance, even where there is no fire protection service, is only around four cents a day for $5,000 of insurance.

If the house has a composite roof the insurance cost is quite a bit lower.

If the house is in a "protected" area the cost of insurance for $5,000 is only around two cents a day.

Surely that is a cost anyone can pay, and it is well worth paying.

FROM WASHINGTON — By WALTER LIPPMANN

The Revival of Europe

IN the backwash of the disaster in the Middle East there are many in Britain and France who have turned toward the idea that their best hope for the future lies in the unification of Europe. Mr. Macmillan and his new Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Thorneycroft, are both supporters of British participation in the project to establish a limited free trade area in Western Europe. Within the free trade area, which Britain and the Scandinavian countries may join, there may soon be ready treaties to establish a still more intimate economic union consisting of France, West Germany, Italy and the three Low Countries.

Lippmann

These treaties would create what is called a common market and would provide also for collaboration in the development of the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

The French Prime Minister, M. Mollet, has long been an advocate of projects which go even further than that, and reach out towards certain tentative experiments in political confederation.

Popular Support

All these projects have been under negotiation for a considerable period of time. But they have acquired very considerable popular and political support since the Suez crisis in the autumn.

It had long been argued that while Western Europe was subdivided into a large number of small national economies, none of these separate nations would be able to compete successfully with big countries like the United States and Russia where a very large market sustains mass production.

This economic argument for greater European unity has been making some headway, although the resistance of the sheltered national vested interests is very powerful.

The autumn crisis over Suez has provided a powerful political argument—one which appeals to the pride and the patriotism of the European nations. What happened at Suez and in the United Nations provided a spectacular demonstration that in Europe, which was for so long the political centre of the world, there are no longer any world powers.

Europe is divided by the Iron Curtain, and Western Europe is subdivided into a number of weak and national states, none of them on the modern scale of a great power. It was shown in the autumn that this divided and subdivided Europe is unable, either by diplomacy or by force, to affirm and to defend its vital interests in the outer world.

Yet there are in Western Europe some 250,000,000 people, more than there are in either the Soviet Union or the United States. Their level of education is the highest in the world. Were they given a modernized large scale economy, there is no mass of people anywhere who would surpass them in capacity to work.

Weak Economics

It is plain that their economies are weak and their political influence is low because of their disunity. For what else can explain the fact that on the great international issues of life and death neither Europe as such nor any nation in Europe is treated as a principal power?

The question which troubles me does not come from any doubt that the case for greater unity is a good one, or that the projects for a common market, for a larger free trade area, and for atomic energy deserve encouragement and support by all men of good will. The question in my mind is whether Western Europe can be unified while Germany remains divided.

Western Germany is a principal member of Western Europe. Yet Western Europe must look to the East, it must look to reunion with Eastern Germany, and that means it must look to a settlement with Poland and with the Soviet Union.

Political Instability

Until the German question is resolved, Western Europe alone cannot be politically stable. If Western Europe is not politically stable, it cannot have power and influence in world affairs. If this is correct, then what Western Europe needs in addition to a common market and the like is a common policy for a settlement with Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union.

It is not mere fantasy to imagine that Britain, which is withdrawing and reducing its global commitments, may find a new field for the exercise of its political genius in the unification of Europe through a settlement with Eastern Europe. If that were to happen, something great and good for all the world will come out of the self-examination through which Great Britain is now passing.

ON THE TIMES

By ART STOTT

'Infinite Kindness of People'

WHEN IRA DILWORTH was convalescing from a serious illness a few years ago, I asked him if his enforced inactivity had changed his outlook on life. He told me his views had been modified. With nothing to do but rest and think, he had gained a sharper appreciation for "the infinite kindness of people."

Stott

It's a point you don't often give your mind to. Yet when misfortune strikes close, you catch the significance of Ira Dilworth's words. You find the comfort of kindness from others, the touch of sympathy expressed in countless ways.

TAKEN FOR GRANTED

It's normal, I guess, to overlook "the infinite kindness of people." If you like them, you take it for granted. The show of friendliness, the shared happiness, the favor without thought of recompense are all part of the business of living together—the kind of thing you give without thought and accept the same way from those joined in affection.

You don't expect them from casual acquaintances or relative strangers. And probably because you receive so much kindness in an off-hand way, your reaction to it isn't impressive.

You're more apt to notice the discourtesies than the courtesies. You feel the rough edges acutely. The smooth don't snag the fabric of your consciouness.

If, as they say in the north of England, too many people deal you a thick un, you respond actively enough and develop a retaliatory character. That, I think, is what happened some where along the line to John Dean, whose gravestone is probably the most remarkable piece of inscribed granite in this region. "It's a rotten world," the epitaph reads.

You look at it, smile cynically and then feel a little sorry for a man who passed through life to reach that final philosophy. Sure there are lots of things wrong with this world. But there's quite a lot that shines in it, too, if you look.

Call me Pollyanna if you like, but I'm reaching the point where I think there are few virtues greater than compassion. And I think, too, that it is expressed so often that it escapes attention.

When distress is your neighbor, you notice these things. Your sight is clearer. You see in sharper outline what somebody called "those little unremembered acts."

When you're in trouble, you're sensitive to the atmosphere around you. The efforts of people to help mean more.

REMINDER

Perhaps that is one of the consolations of a private grief. It reminds you that there is a lot to be grateful for in the consideration shown by others.

You begin to achieve a warmer appreciation for the human family. There's a great deal to be admired in it. And not in the field of big accomplishment so much as in the simple display of that "infinite kindness" Ira Dilworth and so many people have learned to recognize when some affliction has given them time for thought and, perhaps, wisdom.

Gallstones

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Many persons suffering from gallstones want to know why the surgeon insists on removing the gallbladder as well as the stones. The reason is that it was discovered years ago that if only the stones are removed, the symptoms will soon return in half of the cases. Then another operation may have to be performed. The trouble lies not so much in the gallstones as in the inflammation in the wall of the gallbladder.

Alvarez

Many persons say, "The other day, during a routine examination, the X-ray man discovered that I have several large gallstones. They never bothered me, but now my surgeon wonders if he ought to operate on me right away. What do you think?" Forty years ago I used to do what I had been taught to do, and I told persons with gallstones that they had better have them out. But gradually, as the years passed, and I saw so many hundreds of cases in which the gallstones, long present, had never produced any distress of any kind, and I saw at autopsies the bodies of so many hundreds of persons in whom "silent" gallstones were found incidentally, that I lost my enthusiasm for ordering the immediate removal of the gallbladder. Then my old friend, Dr. John Blackford, of Seattle, reported that for 25 years he had kept in touch with a few hundred persons who had had gallstones, and half of them had never had any trouble from them.

As a result, I now never ask a woman to part with her gallstones unless they are producing attacks of severe colicky pain, or are causing much indigestion, gas, abdominal discomfort or severe constipation. I tell her of the small risks that she will run, and then I let her decide what she prefers to do.

Years ago I was influenced by the statement of some authorities that gallstones commonly produce cancer of the gallbladder, but a while ago I stopped worrying about this possibility when I read that, in a large series of cases of persons with gallstones who long ago had been insured by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., it had been found that their final mortality rate had been only about 1 per cent higher than that for persons without gallbladder trouble. Obviously, then, the danger of getting cancer of the gallbladder, when one has stones, is mighty small.

DIABETICS AND CANDY

Diabetic persons, and especially those who are taking insulin, often want to know if they can ever take sugar or sweets. Yes; many a diabetic could take a certain amount of sugar and sweets if he were taking enough insulin to help him handle the sugar.

There are two schools of thought in the treatment of diabetes; some physicians prefer that a diabetic go as far as he can in the control of his disease by cutting down on the use of sugar, starches and sweets. Then, if he cannot control the situation in this way, he can take enough insulin to control it. Other experts feel that it is permissible, or even better, to let a diabetic eat fairly normally and then give him enough insulin to keep his blood sugar down.

There are two important points in the handling of diabetes; one is that the diabetic ought to stay thin. If he allows himself to get stout, he is likely to get arteriosclerosis, and he is likely to lose his life because of that. Also, it is extremely important that the diabetic live very sensibly and stick to his diet every day of his life. Then he is likely to keep his sight, to keep good arteries, and to live into his seventies. It is the man who occasionally goes on a binge and eats a couple of pounds of candy who is likely someday to lose some of his vision and to get into serious trouble.

Every person who has a diabetic ancestry ought to see to it that he never allows himself to get stout—even if he is not diabetic himself. If he stays thin, he has an immensely better chance of not getting diabetes.

SPOTS BEFORE THE EYES

Many worrisome persons wonder why, when they look at the sky, they can see dots and little strings floating about. Most of these are little imperfections in the tears that bathe the front of the eye, while others are due to imperfections in the fluid which lies between the front surface of the lens of the eye and the back of the cornea (the window of the eye). Such spots should never worry anyone.

The only spot that might worry a person would be one that could be seen always in the same place, or that could be seen with one eye when the other eye is covered with the hand. If, after middle age, such a spot shows up suddenly, the person should go and see an ophthalmologist. Usually, nothing can be done about it, but it is well to know what has happened.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

CITY'S WEATHER RECORD

Sunshine, 1957	95.2 hrs.
Last year	86.0 hrs.
Precip. to date	2.87 ins.
Last year	2.89 ins.

SYNOPSIS—A cold Arctic air mass now covers all of the province. Northeast winds blowing out of the Fraser Canyon and across southern Georgia Strait at times reached 60 miles per hour with the first rush of the cold air across the south coast.

In the southern interior light snow is falling from a weak disturbance south of the Arctic air. This disturbance will drift slowly southeastward so that there will be gradual clearing in this region during the day.

In other areas of B.C. the weather is clear and cold.

FIXED DATES FOR HOLIDAYS

OTTAWA (CP) — The Queen's birthday and Thanksgiving Day, only holidays fixed each year by government proclamation, have been made permanent dates on the Canadian calendar.

State Secretary Pinard announced them Thursday: the sovereign's birthday to coincide with Victoria Day, the Monday preceding May 25, and Thanksgiving Day to be the second Monday of October.

COST MAIN BUGABOO

Unified Mainland Police Plan Revived

VANCOUVER (CP) — Plans for a metropolitan Vancouver police force—gathering dust on municipal shelves for 26 years — are being taken down and given an airing.

But despite enthusiastic support from a number of Vancouver's municipal neighbors, a cross-section of civic leaders feel that now is not the time. The bugaboo is the cost.

The reeve in North Vancouver district says it "would be a very good idea" while the West Vancouver reeve calls a single police force for the whole Vancouver area a "logical step."

The reeve of Surrey says it will "definitely come in time" while New Westminster's mayor explains that he's "always ready to listen to a metropolitan policing plan" and the Delta reeve said the proposal "must be carefully studied."

There is considerable hedging, though, on putting the plan into action.

With the exception of New Westminster, which has its own force, all the smaller municipalities in the greater Vancouver area are served by the RCMP and all seem more than happy with RCMP service despite a sharp rise in costs.

The plan was revived this week when Burnaby municipal council voted to write to Vancouver city council and ask for its views on a joint Vancouver-Burnaby police force.

Mayor Fred Hume of Vancouver has pledged his support for a joint force with Burnaby, which is separated from Vancouver's east end only by imagination.

Burnaby's new spark of interest follows an announcement that the RCMP will increase its policing charge to 75 per cent of actual costs from 40 per cent next June 1.

The council's move came despite opposition from Reeve Charles MacSorley, who called it "harebrained."

Israelis Return Egyptian Officers

RAFFA, Sinai Desert (Reuters) —Israel Thursday handed back to Egypt 49 officers captured during the Sinai campaign last fall. Five civilians, including two women doctors, also were returned.

Canadians and other members of the United Nations Emergency Force witnessed the handover, part of a program to return 5,419 prisoners of war.

About 200 prisoners at Sharm el-Sheik, at Sinai's southern tip, will be returned to Egypt next week.

16,806 Lost Driver's Licences In 1956, 3,000 More Than '55

In in effort to cut the death toll on B.C. highways, the motor vehicle branch stepped up the number of licence suspensions in 1956 to 16,806 — 3,000 more than the year before — motor vehicles superintendent George Lindsay said today.

Mr. Lindsay said magistrates were responsible for the suspension of 1,738 licences; 3,163 drivers failed in their re-examinations; 9,896 failed to file financial responsibility, and 2,009 drivers were suspended.

Total suspensions numbered 16,806 compared with 13,525 in 1955.

Most of the drivers involved in fatal accidents last year were repeaters—those with previous convictions or bad-accident records.

Forest Market Bleak, Official Warns Labor

VANCOUVER (CP) — B. M. Hoffmeister, chairman of the board of Macmillan and Bloedel Ltd., said Wednesday the outlook for marketing forest products is not good and both sides must remember this when labor negotiations begin in a few weeks.

The industry is in a critical period, said Mr. Hoffmeister, during which every effort must be made to keep costs down. British Columbia was an exporting province and there was danger of the industry pricing itself out of major markets. This would result in economic disaster to the industry and unemployment.

Atom-Powered Battery Will Last Five Years

NEW YORK (AP)—Development of a tiny atomic-powered battery that will yield low-powered electricity for as long as five years was announced Tuesday by Elgin National Watch Co. and Walter Kidde Nuclear Laboratories Inc.

The cell, about the size of a cough drop, is the result of five years of development work, the companies said, and should prove useful in miniature radios, hearing aids and watches. It has only limited commercial use now because of the cost.

Mortgage Money for Homes Not Available, Says Banker

VANCOUVER (CP) — James Muir, president of the Royal Bank of Canada, said Thursday money is not available for new home mortgages.

And unless something unforeseen happens, it won't be available for a long time, Mr. Muir said.

"The sensible thing for a man to do today is save," he added in an interview. "We have to save to fight inflation."

The bank president, here on a routine visit to west coast branches, said money being poured into capital development is creating "tremendous purchasing power" without a compensating gain in production of goods. Until the two come into balance, inflation would continue.

Housing loans have been reduced to a trickle, Mr. Muir said.

"If the Bank of Canada had not instituted a more restrictive credit policy in 1955, beyond any doubt inflation would be more rampant than it is today."

INCO's $65 Million Contract Highest in Manitoba History

WINNIPEG (CP) — International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., today announced the signing of a $65,000,000 contract — largest in Manitoba's history—with the Foundation Company of Canada, for construction work at Moak Lake, 400 miles north of here.

J. C. Parlee, manager of INCO's newly-created Manitoba division, made the announcement from his office in Copper Cliff, Ont. He said the main work to be done under the contract will be construction of two mine surface plants, a mill smelter and service buildings. Work will start immediately, he said.

The contract is the third to be awarded on the $175,000,000 nickel mining project.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Prices Level Off After Two Advances

Profit-taking in oils sections and discouraging news about copper today levelled off prices on the Toronto Stock Exchange following two sessions of advancements.

International Nickel's reductions Thursday by 2¼ cents a pound in the price of domestic copper sent stocks downward in almost a solid line. The oils, which supplied leadership to the rise in the previous sessions, were taken back by investors' selling profits.

Steels and coppers took losses as a slow decline deepened late today on the New York exchange. Prices were at their worst of the day in late trading. Steels were under mild selling pressure.

AT TORONTO Trans Mountain Pipe Line went against the trend, adding a point at 111 as its shareholders awaited the proposed five-for-one split in common stock. Other than that issue, there were few bright spots in industrials. Losses ranged to two points.

Western oil price changes were nearly all confined to 10 cents or less. Bailey Selburn gave up ⅞ at 17½. There were few gains in the section.

AT NEW YORK Bethlehem Steel extended earlier losses to about two points, reversing the rising trend shown on the Pacific Coast Thursday after the dividend announcement. U.S. Steel was off close to a point.

Rising Canadian stocks included Dome Mines, up ¼. Going down were International Nickel, off 2¼, Distillers-Seagrams ¾, Aluminum Ltd. ⅝, Canadian Pacific ⅜, Hudson Bay Mining ⅛ and McIntyre ⅛.

On the American Stock Exchange gaining Canadian stocks included Preston East Dome, up ¼, Shawinigan ⅛, Molybdenite ⅛, and sapphire Petroleums 1/16. Brazilian Traction dropped ⅛.

AT MONTREAL the Canadian stock exchange went lower today as some industrial losses ran to two points in listless trading.

AT LONDON the demand continued on the stock market today, where a further rise in British funds was the feature.

Dominion and colonial issues were steady though foreign issues were easier where changed.

Industrials had a firm undertone but appeared easier. Engineering issues made a good showing but steels were dull. Leading tobaccos eased. Newspapers improved, textiles showed little change and shipping firmed. Electricals were irregular.

Gold shares opened lower but improved in later trading. Oils started off well but prices later wavered. Canadian Eagle firmed. Rubbers were neglected though teas continued to improve.

AT VANCOUVER prices varied on a moderate market. Fort St. John went to $6.15 on a sale of 2,000, Pacific Nickel sold 7,500 at 76.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prices generally showed irregularity today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

The easier tone reflected declines in United States markets, which had been affected by possible interruption of shipping due to a tugboat strike in U.S. ports. Foreign demand was quieter.

Some action in flax was reported, with buying indicating the development of possibility of overseas business. There were some selling by American interests. Prices were lower.

Rye prices were off in sympathy with U.S. trends. Offerings increased.

Oats and barley showed some resistence to downward trends and the commercial demand was mostly of a domestic nature.

Lakehead prices for class two, IWA and domestic wheat were all down one-eighth cent.

Stan Gets Foot in Door; Trails Leaders With 68

Maxwell, Palmer Lead; Leonard Tied for Fifth

PHOENIX, Ariz. (CP)—Stan Leonard of Vancouver and Lachute, Que., duplicated his opening round of last week's Thunderbird Open at Palm Beach, Calif., as he fired a two-under-par 68 in the $15,000 Phoenix Open Thursday.

However, it was good enough only for a nine-way tie for fifth place, two strokes behind a pair of young former U.S. amateur champions, Billy Maxwell and Arnold Palmer.

Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., and Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., both former national amateur champions and in the professional ranks only two years, fired 66s on the par 70 Arizona Country Club course.

One of the toughest of the old pros—former National Open champ Lloyd Mangrum, came within a foot of tieing them, but his 20-foot putt on the 18th green rolled short. Muscular Gene Bone, an in-and-outer from Louisville, Ky., was on target, too, as he carded a 67 to tie Mangrum.

National Open champion, Cary Middlecoff, defending titlist in this tournament was one under par at 69.

FURGOL WELL DOWN

Jimmy Demaret, Ed Furgol and Jay Herbert, winners of the recent Thunderbird Invitational at Palm Springs, Caliente Open and the Bing Crosby Tournament respectively, were in striking distance. But Furgol had the hardest pull from his first round 72. Demaret had a par 70 and Herbert was two strokes behind the leaders with a 68 along with Leonard.

Leonard has been knocking on the door of the big money on the U.S. pro circuit this year. But while he managed a pair of 68s in the first two rounds of the Thunderbird Open, he couldn't maintain the pace and finished down the list although he was a money winner.

It remains to be seen whether he can maintain his sub-par performances through the full four rounds, a feat which would almost certainly place him near or at the top.

Leonard put together nine-hole scores of 32-36 for his 68. Al Balding of Toronto, who remains the only Canadian ever to win a major U.S. pro tourney, fired a 35-35—70; Gerry Kesselring of Kitchener, Ont., had 36-39—75, and Jack Kay of Montreal, 34-43—77.

HANDS ARE ARTIFICIAL BUT COURAGE IS REAL

OAKVILLE, Ont. (CP)—No one knows better than Bob (Dutch) Holland that it would take more than the loss of nine fingers to make him give up goaltending for the senior B Oakville Meteors hockey team.

Bob, 24, lost all his right-hand fingers and thumb and all but the index finger of his left hand in an accident while working in the shipping department of his father's advertising business more than a year ago. He caught both hands in a paper-cutting machine.

When everyone thought his hockey days were over, Bob proved them wrong by getting a pair of artificial hands for hockey. This season he was able to return to his Oakville club for regular duties.

WHAT'S THE SCORE?
BY Denny Boyd

All of a sudden, the Victoria Cougars have become the hottest third period club in the Western Hockey League. By playing approximately 30 minutes of hockey in the first two games of their current prairie trip, the Cougars have come up with three big points in a couple of salvage jobs comparable to raising the Titanic off the ocean floor.

Against Edmonton and against Calgary, on successive nights, the Victoria club looks like escapees from the Sunday school league for two periods. It has been around their own blue line where the Cougars have foundered deepest as lack of clearing and botched-up checks had the club in more hot water than a dish-washer's thumbs.

But, just when it seemed they had hit the bottom of the hole, the Cougars started climbing, digging in with their finger-nails and hauling up the dead weight of their earlier mistakes.

The contrast between the first and last-period hockey has been unbelievable.

Against Calgary, when the Cats were three goals down going into the last period and Hank Bassen seemed assured of the easiest shutout any goal-tender ever had presented to him, I wouldn't have given a bent nickel for their chances.

But then Bruce Carmichael, who has, on this trip, been playing the kind of hockey he is capable of playing when he gets steamed up, got his second goal in two nights.

Second Goal Still Brings Raves

Then Colin Kilburn got the goal that the Cougar players were still raving about at lunch the next day.

Kilburn, in the first two periods, had been guilty of an old sin of his—driving himself so hard on the ice that he hurt his own effectiveness just through complete fatigue. At times in the second period, it seemed all he could do to put one skate before the other to back-check.

But when he got a chance in the third period, he came slowly off the boards, went around his check and slithered between two defencemen. He made it before four baffled Stampeders as he drew Bassen out before scoring. It was a real barn-burner of a goal.

Kilburn's reputation for being a tough man on goalies paid off in an unexpected way on the tying goal. The Cougars were jamming all around Bassen in the last minute, using six forwards after Marcel Pelletier had been taken out of the nets. Dougie Anderson made a brilliant soccer trap of a Calgary clearance attempt and shot the puck back in. Carmichael's game-winning shot went in off Bassen's body because Bassen had a bear-hug around Kilburn.

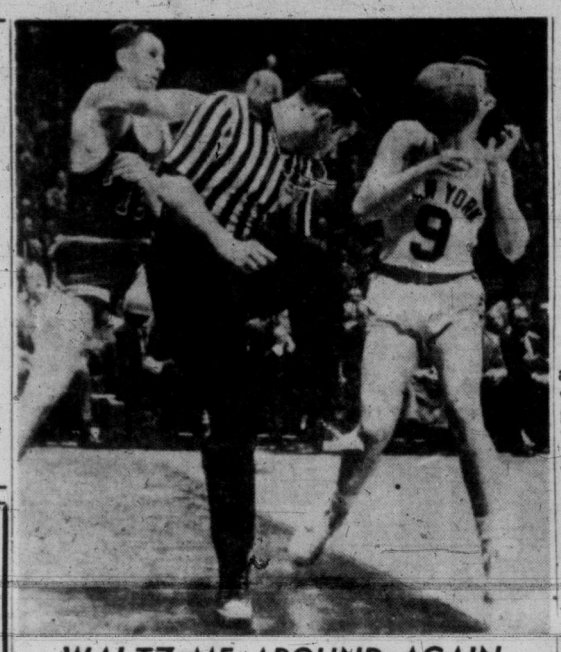
Bassen Tied Up Kilburn First

As Kilburn pointed out after the game, "I guess Bassen was so sure I was going to tie him up, he thought he'd beat me to it."

The Cougars didn't come out of the game completely unscathed. Stamp Coal Lee Fogolin, with two clean but wall-shaking checks, injured George Ranier's knee and slightly aggravated Lionel Heinrich's old back injury. However, neither player will be kept out of tonight's game with Winnipeg. Wayne Brown, the hardest-shooting 140-pounder in organized hockey, picked up a special corset-brace for his back here and wore it for the first time Wednesday.

Gordie Wilson, given his first big chance to crack the line-up in the Calgary game, showed flashes of the form that made him, according to several Cougar players, the best centre in the American Hockey League last season. Wilson seems to be over his knee trouble and is bursting to get back to full-time action.

Heinrich, who played on a forward line with Wilson at Hershey before he was converted into a defenceman, says, "Wilson can do things with a puck that Houdini used to do with a deck of cards. I figure we can make second place and Wilson could be the guy to take us there."



WALTZ ME AROUND AGAIN

DISCRIMINATION ALLEGED

Pickings, Pickets At Grid Meeting

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—There were pickings and pickets at the National Football League here Thursday, the clubs picking players and the pickets marching outside protesting alleged discrimination against Negro players by Washington Redskins.

The 12 NFL teams, represented by owners, general managers and coaches, opened their 1957 annual meeting with the final 26 rounds of the player draft. The first four rounds were held last November to gain an even start with Canadian teams in signing the top graduating college players.

SLIM PICKINGS

It was obvious from the start of the draft that the pickings were going to be slim. The 49 players, including Green Bay's bonus choice of Notre Dame quarterback Paul Hornung at the November draft, pretty well cleaned out the cream of the crop.

Philadelphia Eagles, selecting first under the draft rule which made the order of selection from last place to first in the 1956 standings, took Jimmy Harris, quarterback of the national champion Oklahoma Sooners. Cleveland named Milt Campbell, U.S. Olympic decathlon champion, who hasn't played football since 1955.

While the clubs busied themselves with player selections, outside pickets walked carrying signs urging George Preston Marshall, owner of the Redskins, to hire Negro players.

The pickets were led by John Young, president of an organization known as the New York Roosters Sports Club, and Eugene Davidson, president of the Washington, D.C., branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The pickets—they ranged from 14 down to two during the day—carried signs reading "Hitler banned the Jews, Marshall banned the Negro" and "President Eisenhower wants every vestige of discrimination eliminated, that includes the Washington Redskins."

TENNIS STAR Shirley Fry announced this week that she will not defend her Wimbledon and American women's titles this year. Miss Fry will marry American Karl Irvin in Sydney, Australia, Feb. 16, and live there for the next four years. She will not tour.

Canyens Close in On First

MONTREAL (BUP)—Dickie Moore's third-period power-play goal helped Montreal to a 5-3 triumph over Detroit last night and enabled the Canadiens to move within one point of the first-place Red Wings in the National Hockey League.

Left winger Bert Olmstead gave the Canadiens an insurance marker in the last minute of play when he scored into the open Detroit net. Red Wing goaler Glenn Hall was taken off the ice with 40 seconds left to play when a face-off was called in the Canadien end. A stray shot slid down the ice toward the Detroit bench and Hall leaned out to stop it. Fast skating Olmstead charged in and shot the puck into the unprotected cage.

The win gave the Canadiens a one-game edge in nine games played against each other here and in Detroit this season. Two games were tied.

Jean Beliveau and Gordie Howe emerged even on the night's points, but Beliveau went one point up in the scoring race with 61 points. Howe had a goal and an assist while Beliveau picked up two assists on Moore's winning marker and Olmstead's goal. Ted Lindsay had one assist to tie Howe for second place.

Montreal defenceman Tom Johnson gave the Canadiens the lead about halfway through the second period but the Wings fought back and Billy Dea tied it up a little over a minute later and the period ended with the score tied 1-1.

The Canadiens wrapped the game up with four goals in the final frame to Detroit's two. Maurice (The Rocket) Richard and Claude Provost each scored early in the third period before Detroit answered with goals by Howe and Normie Ullman to knot the count at 3-3.

Richard's goal came while Detroit's Gord Strate was off for holding. The Rocket and Dickie Moore received penalties simultaneously at 8.45 of the third period, giving the Red Wings a two-man advantage. Howe blasted the puck by Plante to close the gap to 3-2. While Doug Harvey was serving a penalty for high-sticking, Ullman tied it up at 3-3. That set the stage for Moore's winning marker.

Marlene Gains Second Round With Easy Win

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—Marlene Stewart, Fonthill, Ont., and her partner, Mrs. Cookie Swift Berger, Buffalo, won easily Thursday in the first round of the 12th women's international four-ball golf tournament.

They eliminated Virginia Ott, Williamsport, Pa., and Betty Long, Roxboro, N.C., 4 and 3 at Orange Brook Municipal Club.

Anne Quast, half of last year's winning team and victor in the Helen Lee Doherty tournament at Fort Lauderdale Sunday, and her partner, Ann Richardson, Columbus, O., scored a 2 and 1 triumph over Mrs. George Wilcox and Mrs. Evelyn Odum Trippe, both of Miami.

Oak Bay Girls Down Mount View

Oak Bay made it two straight victories in the newly-formed inter-high school senior girls' basketball league by downing Mount View, 18-12, at Oak Bay Wednesday.

Ann McKechnie paced the Bays' scoring attack with 10 points while Marilyn Godtel scored 10 points for the losers.

Lineups:

Mount View — Gerry Warshawski, Anne Logan, Lynn Snowsell, Diane Curling, Sharon Crowe 2, Gale Warshawski, Marilyn Godtel 10. Total—12.

PIERCE SIGNS UP

CHICAGO (AP) — Billy Pierce, star left-handed pitcher for Chicago White Sox, came to contract terms Thursday, vice-president Charles Comiskey announced.

Pierce, a holdout who rejected previous offers, was given a "substantial increase," Comiskey said.

Fullmer, Robinson Meet Again

CHICAGO (AP)—On April 24, at a time when the mink mating season is over and thoughts turn to rabbit punching, young Gene Fullmer will defend his world middleweight boxing title in a rematch with the old comebacker, Ray Robinson.

The site of the 15-rounder is Chicago Stadium, in an area satisfactory for blackout purposes to the television sponsors.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, forsees a $200,000 gate after talking Fullmer's mink-raising manager, Marv Jensen, out of a June shot in Yankee Stadium.

The bout originally was to have been within 90 days of the first fight, which was held in New York Jan 2. Although a March date was acceptable to Robinson, Jensen wanted to stay at his Utah home to take care of his mink business.

HEAVY ODDS ON GENE

Hopes for enough interest to make a $200,000 gate for the rematch undoubtedly will be built on the controversy raised by Fullmer's so-called rabbit punching in lifting the title from Robinson by unanimous decision Jan. 2.

Each will get 30 per cent of the receipts this time. Usually, the champion's share is 40 per cent and the challenger 20. The split of money from TV rights has not yet been announced.

Robinson plans to get back to heavy training as soon as a gash over his left eye will let him. It took five stitches to close it after Fullmer left him a bleeding ex-champion but still on his feet after their first 15-round battle.

Early odds make Fullmer the 13-to-5 favorite to win again.

Rudy Pilous Honored

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—Rudy Pilous, coach and general manager of St. Catharines Teepees junior hockey club, Thursday night was honored at a banquet upon his presentation with the hockey executive of the year award. He is the first person outside professional hockey ranks to be given the honor.

Dockers Take Second Win

Esquimalt Dockers won their second basketball game of the season Thursday afternoon, downing University School 44-20.

Dockers got away to a fast start and built up a 14-5 edge in the first quarter. By half-time the count stood at 22-12, and it was 37-15 for the Dockers at the end of the third frame.

Jim Whalen led all scorers with 12 points for Esquimalt.

Dallas — Buddy Turman, 179, Dallas, knocked out Otis Carr, 200, Wichita, 1.

Youngsters Take Turn In Hockey Spotlight

Canada's younger hockey players take an unaccustomed turn in the spotlight next week when the country's minor puck organizations observe the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association's "Young Canada Hockey Week."

With more than 150,000 youthful puck-chasers in action in organized leagues, the CAHA is sponsoring the special week to help raise funds that will keep the youngsters well equipped. The week is also aimed at acquainting parents with the work done to help hockey-minded boys.

Greater Victoria Minor Hockey Association will mark the occasion with its annual "Minor Hockey Night" at Memorial Arena Feb. 11.

Although hockey action will feature the program, the GVMHA has arranged extra attractions to liven up the evening for those whose interest in hockey is only lukewarm. Helping in the entertainment will be the S. J. Willis Junior High School band. Several door prizes, including a portable television set, will be given away.

Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross will officially open the program at 8.15, although hockey action gets under way at 7. Reverend Douglas Carr of Centennial United Church will lead the opening prayer.

Four hockey games, featured by a clash between Victoria and Nanaimo all-star midget clubs, are scheduled.

There will be two shorter pee-wee division contests and an exhibition tussle between players from the junior and juvenile divisions. Rosters for the pee-wee teams will be picked Feb. 9.

Ronnie Knox Drafted by U.S. Guard

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (CP)—Ronnie Knox, former UCLA quarterback who last fall played with Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Calgary Stampeders, was sworn into the California National Guard Thursday.

It will prevent his returning to Canada this year to resume his football career, Guard officials said. He begins a six-month active training hitch March 1, then must remain in the United States to attend four drill nights a month.

He started last season with the Tiger-Cats of the Big Four League then moved to Calgary in the Western Interprovincial Football Union saying he wasn't playing enough with Hamilton.

However, he will be able to play next season in the NFL. He told reporters he is considering signing with the Chicago Bears.

Frick Told to Lay Off Football Draft System

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — George Halas, owner of Chicago Bears, suggested Thursday baseball commissioner Ford Frick stick to his baseball and not to level unfair criticism at professional football.

Halas said Frick's recent attack on the national football player draft system was "away off base." Frick had said in Chicago that the football draft is not fair because it denies the boys the right to bargain for their services.

Halas, who is attending the annual NFL owner meeting here, said, "In the first place, players drafted by National Football League teams can bargain for their rights, and many of them elect to sign with teams in the Canadian leagues."

He said before the draft was adopted players were free to negotiate with any club in the pro league and this freedom was worth as much as $2,000 a season.

"Before the draft $2,000 was tops because three or four clubs dominated pro football. Attendance was low and we simply weren't drawing enough money at the gate to pay higher salaries. Nowadays, thanks to the successful operation of the player draft, the average drafted player is drawing three times as much salary as an undrafted star was free to negotiate for in 1934."

Halas said the tremendous competition which was responsible for pro football's popularity could be traced directly to the successful operation of the draft. He said the league's method of picking players in rotation, with the last-place team taking first selection, spreads talent evenly among all clubs and provides weaker teams the opportunity to overtake stronger clubs.

Mickey Expected To Get $55,000

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Mantle, baseball's player-of-the-year in 1956, is expected to sign before Monday a $55,000 contract, making him the third highest salaried player in New York Yankee history.

The 25-year-old slugger, first major leaguer to capture the triple batting crown since Ted Williams in 1947, probably will settle for $55,000, it was learned Thursday.

The figure, about $10,000 less than his original demand, is $25,000 more than Mantle earned last year when he led the American League in batting, home runs and runs batted in, and $5,000 more than Yankees' last reported offer.

Rugby, Soccer Squads Back in Action Again

Minor soccer officials, heeding weather forecasts of more cold and snow flurries, will wait another week before trying to get their teams back in action, but Victoria and District Football League and Victoria Rugby Union have scheduled matches this weekend.

Butler Bros. and Esquimalt are slated to clash at Beacon Hill Park Saturday at 2 in the semifinal round of the Jackson Cup soccer competition. Winner will meet Gorge Hotel for the Vancouver Island championship next weekend.

Two league matches are on tap for Sunday. The Tillicums tangle with Brodies Bakery at Central Park and Punjab United meets Canadian Scottish at Heywood Avenue. Both games start at 2.

Victoria's representative rugby side, prepping for the annual McKechnie Cup series, is due to get its first taste of competitive action at Macdonald Park Sunday at 2.45 in an exhibition match with Vancouver All-Stars.

Listed in the lineup of the mainland aggregation are Peter Watson, former member of the Oxford-Cambridge side; Graham Budge, a former Scottish international, and Mike Chambers, who impressed critics with his play during an Australian tour.

Cordova Bay and Brentwood will meet at Brentwood Community Hall at 9.30 tonight in the feature game of three-game Saanich and Suburban Basketball League card.

Opening the program at 7.30 will be a premidget boys' tussle between Brentwood and Cordova Bay. Brentwood and the Sooke midget girls will clash in the second game at 8.30.

Logart Favored

NEW YORK (AP)—Cuban Isaac Logart, ranked among the first five welterweight contenders, is a slight favorite over Yama Bahama 153-pounder from Bimini in the Bahamas, in tonight's 10-round match at Madison Square Garden. The match, scheduled for 7 p.m., PST, will be carried on network CBC and NBC radio and television.

SEEK INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION

Soccer Chiefs Do Somersault

LONDON (CP) — British soccer chiefs, with an envious eye on record attendances at European Cup matches, have invited continental football organizations to consider formation of a new international competition.

A joint statement issued by the Football Association and the Football League says soccer officials from England, Scotland, Wales, Ireland, France, Belgium, Spain and Italy will be invited to a meeting in London April 5 to discuss the plan.

The move represents a policy somersault by the Football League, which has long discouraged the trend toward international competitions. Two years ago the League prevented Chelsea from taking part in the European Cup competition, which is restricted to the champions of individual countries. And Manchester United, the current champions, entered this season against league wishes.

The fact that Manchester United expects to clear about £40,000 from their European Cup games is believed to have been a major factor in the league's change of heart.

Decision to call the meeting also represents a partial victory for Sir Stanley Rous, secretary of the Football Association, who has advocated streamlining the present league makeup, with top clubs going into a "super league" including a number of European clubs.

In other business, the league announced that Welsh international Trevor Ford has been suspended indefinitely and appointed a commission to investigate the affairs of first division Sunderland.

Ford has not played soccer for about three months. Early in November, he informed his club, Cardiff City, that he had decided to retire and then wrote a number of articles for British newspapers in which he criticized the league and said a number of clubs were engaging in under-the-counter deals with players contrary to league rules.

The Sunderland inquiry follows reports that the inland revenue department is investigating a business transaction between a firm of builders and the club concerning work done at Sunderland's home ground. League accountants have been examining the club's books for two weeks.

Hornsby Marries For Third Time

CHICAGO (AP)—Rogers Hornsby, one of the greatest right-handed hitters in major league history, has been married for the third time.

He was married Sunday to the former Marjorie Bernice Porter, Chicago.

Hornsby, 60, former big league manager as well as playing star, is chairman of Mayor Richard Daley's youth commission, planning city recreation.

Esks Retain Tucker

EDMONTON, Alta. (BUP)—John Ducey, general manager of the Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Canada Baseball League, has announced the signing of Wayne Tucker as player-manager for 1957.

Doug Peden OUTDOOR REPORT

When the use of roe and fish compounds for angling was legalized last year, a lot of fishermen thought steelhead were going to take a beating. Many happily figured it would be a cinch to haul in limit catches.

Although roe is probably taking slightly more than half the steelies, there has been a host of disillusioned fishermen along Vancouver Island rivers this winter. Roe has not proved to be the magic key to steelhead success.

There are times when roe fishermen can make a killing, but there are also times when the ironheads will spurn bait yet hit savagely at artificial lures.

The old theory that the man behind the rod is more important than the lure on the end of the line still holds good. An experienced angler using an artificial will often take a fish where a novice dunking the juiciest hunk of roe you ever saw has failed.

It has been proved many times this winter. For instance, a Victoria angler spent several fruitless hours throwing everything in his tackle box, including roe, into a pool just above the Silver Bridge on the Cowichan River. Then a Duncan resident arrived, landed a 10-pounder on his first cast, lost a gob of roe on his second and hooked another steelhead on his third cast.

Gordon Lamont tried a pool on the Cowichan the other day after three other anglers had worked it for two hours without raising a fish. Within a few minutes he had landed one steelie and lost another.

Cowichan Yields 17-Pound Steelhead

Lamont, incidentally, had a good day on the river Sunday, topping it off with a 17-pounder, taken just below the Skutz Falls.

Although Grant Hawthorne beached a husky 14-pounder near the top end Wednesday, most of the fish have been taken in the middle section of the Cowichan during the past week. Golfer Gordon Whan and Herman May hit a hot spot Tuesday. Whan took three on different lures, May landed a pair and several fish broke loose.

Alan Potts reeled in two Saturday and followed up with another pair Sunday. Marty Brown pulled in 12 and eight-pounder at the Cowichan Monday and Jim Stewart beached one fish Tuesday.

Most Island rivers are currently fair bets for steelhead with the Cowichan, Nanaimo and Quinsam rivers the heaviest producers on the east coast during the past week. Water conditions have been near perfect but a thaw could raise the streams and make things tough for weekend fishing.

* * *

While few fishermen have been able to get out at Saanich Inlet because of ice around the boathouse, the hardy regulars at Oak Bay have been enjoying a good week.

A good run of winter springs, averaging around 12 pounds, has made things interesting in the area between Cattle Point and Gonzales Point. Most of the fish have been hooked on strip teasers, used with six or eight ounces of weight and about 50 feet of line.

Sunday was one of the better days off Oak Bay. Tiny Richards came in with three springs and Gordie Bell had two. Pete Coleman also boated a pair while Charlie Guiget, who has been scoring consistently, and Dave Grey shared a catch of two.

Jack Scott and Ray Deall each boated two springs Monday. Scott's biggest hit the scales at 20 pounds while Deall had eight and 14-pounders. Ted Parry took one and Colin Corbett lost what appeared to be the biggest of the day in the kelp.

Rough water washed out fishing Tuesday and Wednesday but Parry was back out Thursday morning and connected with a 13½-pounder.

* * *

Grilse fishing is still rated fair off Crofton and Cowichan Bay and there should be some good action at Saanich Inlet when the ice goes out.

Inlet boathouse owners expect to have the ice cleared for the weekend but a telephone call to check on conditions is suggested for those planning a trip to the Inlet.

Quare Times Assigned Top National Weight

LONDON (AP) — Quare Times, winner of the 1955 Grand National steeplechase at Aintree but withdrawn last spring because of injury, was assigned top weight of 170 pounds Thursday for the big race March 29.

Weights were announced for 64 horses, including two American-owned jumpers, Virginius and Monkey Wrench.

E.S.B., who rushed up in the stretch to win the 1956 race after the Queen Mother Elizabeth's Devon Loch fell while leading near the finish, got 167 pounds. Devon Loch recently was scratched from this year's race.

Virginius, an eight-year-old owned and bred by Raymond R. Guest of King George, Va., drew 152 pounds. Monkey Wrench, owned by Mrs. John F. C. Bryce of the Mill River Stud, Vt., a 12-year-old, is one of 17 horses assigned the minimum weight of 140 pounds. Both Virginius and Monkey Wrench were bred and formerly raced in the United States.

When Quare Times won the four miles, 856 yards event over 30 tough jumps two years ago it carried 154 pounds, while E.S.B. had 157 last year.

Listed at 166 pounds were Earl Mist, the 1953 winner, and Royal Tan, winner in 1954.

Vincent O'Brien, the Irish trainer, saddled Early Mist, Royal Tan and Quare Times when they won the National. He is also trainer of Virginius and Sam Brownthorn, who was assigned 166 pounds.

Battleship, who won the 1938 Grand National for Mrs. Marian Du Pont Scott of Orange, Va., is the last American horse to take the race on which an Irish Hospital sweepstakes is based.

'Fish' Style On View To Skiers

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (AP)—The revolutionary "fish" style in ski jumping will be seen here in the American international championships Feb. 23-24 on Giant Pine mountain slide.

Finland's world champion, Antti Hyvarinen, who used the style in winning the Olympic event last year at Cortina, will be in Iron Mountain for the meet.

Another great Finnish jumper, Juhani Karkinen, will be on hand.

With the new style instead of being outstretched during the air flight, the arms are drawn back and remain close to the sides. Sometimes the hands are used as side rudders, and the result is a still, spectacular air flight.

The bigger the hill, the experts say, the better the fish style is executed.

Observers here believe that the 316-foot North American record established on the Steamboat Springs, Colo., hill, may be endangered. About 100 jumpers will compete.

Bold Ruler Sets Record

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Bold Ruler, promising colt whose future suddenly clouded over last fall, is back among the top three-year-olds in the U.S.

He showed he still has his old zip when he handily covered seven furlongs in 1.22 to win Hialeah's $26,050 Bahamas Stakes. His time equalled the track record and eclipsed the Bahamas record of 1.22 2-5 which had stood since 1941.

Bold Ruler left such Flamingo and Kentucky Derby prospects as Gallant Man, King Hairan and Federal Hill far behind. He came in 4½ lengths ahead of Gen. Duke. Federal Hill was third by two lengths.

His performance earned Wheatley Stables $18,625 and rewarded his $2 backers with $9.70.

HIGH SCHOOL SPORT NOTES

By IAN SMITH

Senior Squads Turn to Travel

Oak Bay and Vic High senior basketball squads put on their travelling boots this weekend.

Both teams journey to Vancouver today for return matches with Vancouver College and Lord Byng High in a last attempt to tighten their ranks for the interscholastic tournament at Vic High, Feb. 8 and 9.

Gary Taylor's Bays, currently basking in one of their better seasons, are hoping to improve upon their seven-three won-lost record when they tackle the College team on Friday.

On Saturday Taylor's club takes on Lord Byng, whom they defeated by a 36-30 count when the Byngs were on the Island earlier this year.

Meanwhile, Vic High Totems will cease their incessant rivalry with the Bays long enough to catch the same plane to Vancouver with them.

And their motive will be similar, too, although perhaps slightly more fervent; the Totems have not won a game this year, and, in the words of their coach Porky Andrews, "It's about time they did!"

Both Lord Byng, whom the Vics play Friday, and College, who are their Saturday opponents, have downed the Totems in earlier contests this season.

The losing margin in each game was a somewhat maddening three points. Mix the resulting humiliation and Andrews' hard eye from the bench, and maybe there's a winning combination, Totems believe.

Time will tell.

And time will also reveal the situation in the provincial senior soccer league finals, originally scheduled to be completed before Christmas.

Vancouver Tech wiped up the mainland competition right on schedule before the festive season. On the other hand, things weren't progressing quite so well locally.

In fact, it was well past the middle of January before Vic High finally downed Oak Bay 3-0, in the fourth game of what was originally scheduled as a best-of-three series.

Victory brought Keith Long's squad the right to meet Vancouver Tech on the home grounds of the mainland team in a sudden-death game for the B.C. championship.

All that was required by the Vics after their win was notification by the mainland champions that they were ready to do battle.

Word has not been forthcoming, however, which leaves coach Long in a rather baffled frame of mind.

"I would like to know what's happening," he said. "My boys are in good shape right now, and I'd like to get the game over with.

"If we wait much longer there's always the chance of becoming rusty with lack of practice. I know the boys feel the same way I do about the situation.

"If we play them now, I think we can win; later, I couldn't be so sure."

St. Louis—Virgil Honey Bear Akins, '51, St. Louis, stopped Ar Andrews, 157¼, St. Paul, 6.

Los Angeles—Kid Ceniella, 135½, Los Angeles, outpointed Tommy Romulo, 135½, Philippines, 10.

'I Saw Part of a Body Flying at Me'---Eyewitness

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—"I saw part of a body flying at me.

"I tripped and fell and hurt my head and broke my left arm."

This is how 12-year-old Floyd Negrete described the scene when an airliner crashed into a school athletic field filled with children at Pacoima Junior High School.

A teacher said: "The boys fell as though they were hit by a scythe."

Said Alex Gorles, who lives across the street from the school:

"I saw the thing hit and bounce.

"I counted eight kids mangled.

"One of them had his leg torn off.

"They were running every way, like quail."

Seconds before, the plane had been in a mid-air collision with a jet fighter plane. Four in the airliner were killed. The jet pilot was killed, but his radarman parachuted to safety, seriously injured.

TWO KILLED

Two students died, 78 were injured.

Shocked citizens today sought some curb on plane testing over such populous areas as this sprawling San Fernando Valley.

One of the students, Tony Berrios, 13, said he and all the others started to run when they saw the plane coming at them.

"Then I dropped to the ground and covered my face," he said.

"The gas was all over and the heat was terrific. Everybody was screaming. I laid there for a while and then I got up."

The school grounds and the hospitals were scenes of anguish as parents swarmed out trying to find their children.

MOWED DOWN

An armada of ambulances took the children to hospitals all over the valley.

Flying fragments mowed down children as they ran.

Sheets of flame spurted horizontally as the $2,000,000 sky giant plunged in.

Some children were scorched.

Smoldering clothing and shoes, scorched volley balls and other equipment littered the ground.

A metal goalpost was bent from a blow. There were great holes where the engines dug in.

DEADLY DEBRIS FROM THE SKY—This was the scene at the schoolyard in Pacoima, Calif., after the mid-air collision Thursday between an airliner, on a test flight, and a jet. The crippled airliner crashed into the crowded play area at noon-hour, killing two students, injuring 78. The four men in the airliner and the jet pilot were killed. A radarman in the jet parachuted but was severely injured. Nearly 100 Grade 7 boys were exercising in the school's athletic field when they were showered with shrapnel-like debris. Flying fragments cut them down as they tried to flee. (AP Wirephoto.)

'Mid-Air Collision...We're Going... Uncontrollable...Say Goodbye'

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — The final chilling words from the stricken DC-7 transport, which crashed into an athletic field full of children near here, were recorded by tape recorders at airport towers in the area.

This was the message:

"Mid-air collision . . . mid-air collision. Ten-how (an abbreviated identification for the test flight).

"We're going . . . uncontrollable . . . uncontrollable . . .

"Say goodbye to everybody."

Then silence.

The airliner had been struck a glancing blow, apparently from behind, by a Scorpion F-89D jet interceptor.

Both were disabled and nosed immediately into their death dives.

Harry Schwartz, teacher at a school for physically handicapped children, had his class of 100 outside to look at jet vapor trails.

"The plane I saw kept coming down, about level with a mountain ridge, and then it exploded. There was a sheet of yellow flame and it disintegrated. . . . After it hit the ground black smoke shot into the air. It seemed like 10 seconds before the sound reached us, first the roar of the dive and then the crash."

BOY'S CLOTHES 'BURNED OFF'

PACOIMA, Calif. (UP) — Injured when the airliner crashed into the school ground here Thursday, 12-year-old Richard Berger was asked how he managed to get his clothes off.

He replied: "I didn't take them off—they were burned off."

Inco Metals at Work in Canada

Copper is one of 14 elements obtained from Inco ores. Inco produces over 250,000,000 lbs. of copper a year. And more than half of all this copper goes to Canadian companies for the manufacture of copper tube and fittings and hundreds of other useful products. Copper tube and fittings for supply and drainage plumbing are easy and economical to install... and will usually last as long or longer than the buildings in which they are used.

INCO COPPER in millions of feet of plumbing for Canadian homes

... more jobs in Canada

FOR LONG LIFE and trouble-free service, there's nothing quite like copper plumbing in the home. It won't rust; it resists corrosion; under normal conditions, it will last as long as the building.

Today, nearly all the new homes being built in Canada have copper plumbing. And more than half of this copper comes from Inco.

Here's how Inco Copper helps make jobs for Canadians. Down in the mines, Inco workmen blast out the ore. It is milled, smelted and refined at Inco's plants in Copper Cliff, Ontario. Refined copper is sold to Canadian companies for the manufacture of tube, fittings and other plumbing items. Then plumbers install them in Canadian homes.

All these operations help provide jobs for thousands of workmen. That's how Inco helps stimulate the growth and development of industry in Canada.

Drug Traffic Controlled By One Man?

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Vancouver Sun says the illicit narcotics industry in Vancouver "has broken away from the national syndicate" and now is controlled by one man.

"This sordid racket, now costing Vancouver citizens an officially estimated $10,000,000 annually, is operating independently here and is being financed by a huge local 'bankroll'," the Sun says.

The man was not named, but the newspaper said he "has no rivals to worry about."

"It is the belief of senior police officers, based on a careful study of the method of distribution of heroin in the past year, that independent 'punks' or small-time operators are being financed by a local 'moneyed man' to purchase job-lots of dope in eastern Canada.

"Investigation has shown that almost any criminal character with the desire to branch out into narcotics can get the money and make the eastern contact if, as one officer said, 'he has the guts to do it.'

"Meantime the 'sponsor' remains in the background, reaping his percentage of the deal."

The Sun says Vancouver narcotics distributors supply between 1,500 and 2,000 users.

Police are quoted as saying that since 14 drug traffickers were sentenced last year to terms ranging from 10 to 14 years, distributors are finding it increasingly difficult to find non-addicted persons to sell the drugs to addicts.

Measles Epidemic Sweeping Saanich

Striking increase in cases of measles in Saanich Health District—87 since Jan. 1, compared with 81 in all of 1956—is reported by director Dr. A. N. Beattie.

The mild epidemic was blamed partly on a breakdown in personal resistance of school children due to cold weather of the last two weeks, and is expected to increase.

ak Bay reports 36 cases and in Victoria and Esquimalt combined there were 25 cases compared with eight in January, 1956.

Measles are endemic, or always present in the community, but reach epidemic peaks about every four years. The last big incidence was two years ago and the next peak should be in 1959.

Dr. Neil Stewart, Oak Bay medical health officer, said measles seems always to break out in cycles.

He said there was no significant change in cases of other communicable diseases in Oak Bay, with few reported cases of mumps, scarlet fever or rubella, last year's big ones. Oak Bay has about eight of the latter.

The Saanich outbreak of measles was "pretty general throughout the district," Dr. Beattie said.

Rubella was down to about six cases in January and 'flu-type diseases were down considerable.

Victoria-Esquimalt medical health officer Dr. Elizabeth Mahaffy said communicable diseases in her areas presented "about an average picture for this time of year."

There were 118 cases of rubella in the city and Esquimalt in January, 1956, and only nine last month.

Chicken pox incidence is down and mumps, 64 cases this month compared with 67 a year ago, were about average, Dr. Mahaffy said.

Threw Infant Son To Death; Father Sent to Prison

NEW YORK (AP) — A truck driver who allegedly threw his infant son to his death was given 10 to 20 years in prison Thursday. Charles Buether, 41-year-old Brooklyn beer truck driver, was charged with throwing his 16-months-old son, James, at his wife, during an argument. A witness testified that Mrs. Buether ducked and the baby hit the wall and fell to the floor.

Mr. Agnew succeeds George T. MacFarlane, who is returning to the Toronto Telegram after two years with The Record. Mr. Agnew has been with The Telegram since 1953.

Big Membership Gain Last Year At First United

Congregation at First United Church contributed more than $13,000 to the missionary and maintenance fund in 1956, chairman A. J. Anderson told an annual meeting this week.

The figure is $2,000 more than was contributed in 1955, he said.

Other reports showed a membership gain of 288 persons in the past year

All Sunday school classes have teachers at the present time, but additional staff is needed, especially in the intermediate department and for substitute duty in all departments, said general superintendent Kenneth O. Wright.

J. A. Syme was elected elder for a one-year term, and W. Howard Forrest and G. F. McCall for two-year terms.

Elected for three years were Robert B. Baker, H. Cashman, Dr. A. F. Gunning, T. M. Little, Kenneth McDonald, R. J. McInnes, N. R. Morrison and John H. Williams.

Parking Fees for New Areas Suggested

Another 1,000 parking spaces would result in downtown Victoria if parking lot operators would increase short-time parking facilities, Mayor Percy Scurrah said today.

He was commenting on a proposal by Ald. A. I. Curtis to divert the annual city income of $125,000 from parking meters to providing new off-street parking areas.

The alderman would replace the meter income with a $150,000 increase in revenue from either business licensing or a new business tax.

The extra $25,000 would go to general revenue to make up the $25,000 received up until this year from road and poll tax.

The mayor said he approved Ald. Curtis' plan in principle but wondered whether any new income shouldn't be used to relieve property taxpayers.

Business Tax Plan Recommended For City by C of C Committee

Implementation of a business tax in lieu of trades licence fees, providing that the "end result is a more equitable distribution of tax burden between various businesses," was advocated by the Chamber of Commerce civic affairs group at a meeting Thursday.

In a resolution, the group also recommended the appointment of a joint city council-Chamber of Commerce committee to study and reach an agreement on a business tax structure.

The resolution will be submitted to chamber directors for endorsement.

It was passed after a special committee of the civic affairs group presented an 18-page report on the business tax structure and its application in other Canadian cities.

The committee was composed of K. C. Murphy (chairman), E. C. Brown, H. Barnes and A. E. Webb.

OPENED DOOR

The resolution opened the door for an amicable settlement of the tax issue between the city council and businesses.

In addition, it cleared the air as to the business man's views on the implementation of a business tax as proposed by Ald. J. Donald Smith.

All members agreed in principle that the business tax is fairer and more equitable.

"Let's squarely face up to the fact that business tax as a mode of raising revenue is here to stay," said Mr. Murphy.

Arnold Webb, secretary of the chamber, said he believed provincial government officials also favored the implementation of the business tax structure.

Patrick Birley pointed out that while the business tax would be an improvement over the trade licence fee, it would not abolish inequalities.

Members felt that the tax could not be implemented before 1958 in view of the amount of work involved in setting up a fair tax structure.

The group suggested a city council-chamber committee to study the business tax and reach an agreement on three basic points for submission to the council.

These points were:

1. Whether the city should impose a flat rate tax or a graduated classified tax. (The civic affairs group is against a graduteed tax scale but subscribes to the theory of a fixed percentage assessment. Ald. Smith favors the graduated scale.)

2. Reach an agreement with members of the council on the maximum amount to be raised in the first year by the imposition of the business tax.

3. Decide whether or not the trades licence system will remain, allowing a rebate against the business tax paid, or whether trades licences will be abolished.

The group also urged hiring an official from Vancouver or New Westminster to assist in the setting up the tax structure. (Vancouver and New Westminster have a businses tax.)

WARDEN POOR SECOND IN FIGHTING BEAVERS

COURTENAY (CP)—An unsentimental beaver chopped down a weeping willow tree that had been a favorite of Mrs. G. A. Kirk at her home on the Courtenay River.

Game Warden J. Osman trapped the 70-pound animal and sent it to the University of British Columbia, which has a standing order for them.

At Puntledge River, two Beavers opened their logging season by blocking the stream. Osman was on the job again and trapped two big beavers.

Lugging one on his back in a specially-built wire cage, Mr. Osman figured he had mastered the beaver racket. But this one managed to get his teeth through wire and took a sizable piece of the warden's pants.

When Mr. Osman saw what the beaver had done to the trees he realized he was lucky.

IN STRAWBERRY PATCH

Saanich Farmer Fined ---Let Cattle Wander

Allowing his cows to wander into the strawberry patch of neighbors cost Saanich dairy farmer Byron McNutt, 4149 Grange, a total of $25 in fines Thursday.

McNutt was found guilty in Saanich court on two charges of allowing his cattle to trespass.

Mrs. L. Whitney, 1170 Roy Road, testified she saw six cows in the back yard of her home, about a quarter of a mile from the McNutt farm, on Jan. 10.

One of the cows was at her back doorstep, Mrs. Whitney said.

Another witness, Clare Kvitne, who was visiting with Mrs. Whitney, said McNutt "just nicely got them (the cows) off when the police drove up."

McNutt, who vigorously cross-examined witnesses as he conducted his own defence, told the court that on this occasion the cows got out of his yard while he was distracted by a visitor.

Two days later the cows were back, court was told.

This time there were only three, but police found tell-tale hoofprints across the front yard of the Whitney home, down the side, and through the strawberry patch.

"Ironically enough," McNutt told Magistrate Hall, "this second charge arose from my trying to protect my neighbor's boulevard."

He explained that in order that the cows will not damage the boulevard next to his property he takes them by a circuitous route to another pasture, "at great inconvenience to me."

Because of this, he lost track of three cows who went through a wrong gate and subsequently wound up on the Whitney property.

Magistrate Hall fined McNutt $10 on the first charge and $15 on the second and warned him:

"You'll have to take better care of your cattle or you'll have more of these charges coming up."

Legal Snarl Delays Library Finance Pact

A further year's delay in formation of a Greater Victoria library partnership was forecast Thursday by library board chairman J. E. Neely.

He said municipal solicitors for Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich, Esquimalt and Central Saanich were attempting to correct legal technicalities in a proposed new financial agreement.

After two years' negotiations, all municipalities now using the Victoria library reached agreement last fall to a financing scheme based on sharing of costs based on circulation, plus donations of 50 cents per capita, annually.

After 20 years under the plan, the library was to have become the joint property of the municipalities. At present it is owned by Victoria and although the other municipalities elect representatives to the board they do not have voting powers.

The new scheme was devised by Victoria city manager C. C. Wyatt and approved by former city solicitor Arthur Patton.

NEELY RE-ELECTED

Victoria board member Capt. D. J. Proudfoot explained the legality of transfering to municipal ownership the library assets which were left in trust to the city by the Carnegie foundation, is now in doubt.

"There is legal trouble with the (proposed) agreement," said Mr. Neely. "It may be a year before it is finally finished."

Mr. Neely was re-elected chairman for a third term, by the board. Other Victoria members are Ald. G. I. Edgelow (one-year term); J. E. Neely, H. G. McWilliams, F. G. Mulliner (two-year terms); Prof. R. T. Wallace, Capt. Proudfoot and Miss Jane Hall (one year of two-year terms to be completed).

Municipal, non-voting representatives are Coun. W. E. A. Barclay (Esquimalt), Coun. C. H. G. Mann (Oak Bay), and Coun. L. H. Passmore (Saanich).

Annual report for 1956 showed for the second consecutive year circulation set a new record. It increased from 452,671 in 1955 to 493,191 and bookmobile use increased from 38,895 to 47,225.

The board was told by librarian John Lort that Victoria this year will host the annual meeting of the Canadian Library Association, June 12 to June 15.

By Wm. Shakespeare
Starring LAURENCE HARVEY, SUSAN SHENTALL, MERVYN JOHNS - FLORA ROBSON, NORMAN WOOLAND, BILL TRAVERS, LYDIA SHERWOOD
With all Italy for a studio and particularly the actual location of Verona where Shakespeare laid the scene of his immortal love story, this is one of the finest motion pictures ever produced of this play . . . magnificently photographed soft Technicolor tones and with a wide scope of action unobtainable on the stage, it becomes vitally real and alive and will continue to live with you for a long time to come. Refreshing and pure entertainment in its finest form, it was the Prize Winning Film at the Venice Film Festival.

Worker Electrocuted As Crane Hits Wire

PORT ALBERNI — A workman was electrocuted here Thursday when a crane came in contact with a high-tension wire on a pulp mill construction job.

A second man suffered minor burns and shock.

The dead man was identified as Gordon Neal, 28, of Vancouver.

Both Dominion Bridge Co. employees, they were working with the crane when the boom touched a 12,000-volt wire. A Port Alberni Volunteer Fire Department crew worked for more than an hour in a vain attempt to revive the dead man.

The other man, who suffered minor burns on his hands, is believed to have been saved from serious injury or death by the rubber boots he was wearing.

Neal had been at work only since Tuesday. He is survived by his widow and two children.

72-Cent Wage Boost Asked by Carpenters

Nanaimo Workers Also Request 30-Hr. Week, Several Fringe Benefits in New Contract

NANAIMO (CP) — Some 230 carpenters here are asking for a 30-hour week and a 72-cent wage boost to $3 an hour.

The men, members of Local 527, Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, have submitted their demand to the Nanaimo Contractors' Association.

They now work a 40-hour week at $2.28 an hour.

The union also asks that the apprentice wage scale be raised to 50 per cent from 25 per cent.

Also asked in the submission are: A welfare plan to cover $30 a week sick pay, including Medical Services Association, and payment of life insurance premiums; an increase to 7 per cent from 4 in holiday pay to make up for lack of statutory holidays; allowance for statutory holidays where carpenters work regularly for one contractor; double time instead of time and a half for overtime.

MOTOR JUST PURRED ALONG —THEN MEOW!

PARKSVILLE (CP)—Duncan Turner's cat risked one of its nine lives and won when it stowed away next to the engine of the family car.

Mr. Turner drove from his home in Qualicum to Parksville, where he works, and checked when he heard a faint meowing.

The cat had climbed in when he opened the hood before starting out. It was none the worse for the ride.

Red Cross Meets Monday Night At Chemainus

CHEMAINUS — Annual meeting of the Chemainus branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society will be held in the Anglican Parish Hall Monday evening at 7.30.

Business will include the reading of annual reports and the election of a new slate of officers.

F. R. Duncanson, president, announced today that J. E. Hess has again accepted the post of campaign chairman. Quota for Chemainus and district this year is $2,350. Chemainus has exceeded its quotas in its Red Cross campaigns for the past three years.

Chemainus Rejects Yacht Basin Plan

CHEMAINUS—Application of W. A. McKenzie, Crofton, for foreshore rights on lot 9 in the Smith Bay Beach Reserve area at Crofton, for the purpose of creating a yacht basin, was turned down by council. Reeve C. A. P. Murison said there was the possibility of a large park being developed in the area as a permanent centennial project, and that council was not in a position to release any foreshore rights.

BABICH NOT GUILTY IN ACID-THROWING CASE

VANCOUVER (CP) — John Babich, facing a charge of assault with intent to maim stemming from an alleged acid-throwing attack, was found not guilty here Thursday by an all-male Supreme Court jury after 15 minutes of deliberation.

Babich, 53, was accused of throwing acid at Mrs. Helen Orsolets during a quarrel last May. Mrs. Orsolets won $140,000 on a sweepstake ticket which Babich said he had purchased and given to her.

It was Babich's second trial. A retrial was ordered after an earlier jury had been unable to reach a verdict.

Collie Dog Aids Man Too Injured to Walk

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A Collie dog here carried a note to bring assistance to a man badly injured in a fall.

Hugh Bennett, superintendent of the YMCA Men's Camp at Garibaldi Park, is resting comfortably in hospital here with five broken ribs.

Mr. Bennett was driving home at night from nearby Haney and parked his car because of ice, planning to walk the last mile.

He fell three times, once on a steel box he was carrying. When he regained consciousness, almost frozen, he knew from the pain his ribs were broken. He made it home and went to bed without lighting the heater.

Next morning, unable to walk, he crawled to the door and fired three shots. They attracted a neighbor's collie dog.

Mr. Bennett tied a note to the dog's collar and sent it home. Half an hour later, assistance arrived.

SHED FALLS, KILLS MAN

WHALLEY — A 65-year-old man was killed today when a lean-to shed collapsed on him outside his home here. Police identified the victim as Hartley Donald Fisher.

AUTO DEALERS JAILED

NEW WESTMINSTER—Two used car dealers, Victor Usher and Osborne F. Stanley, have been sentenced to 18 months in jail each for defrauding three customers who sold them used cars.

MINERS INJURED

SMITHERS—Two immigrant miners, Andy Braun and Alex Toth, were injured Thursday morning in an explosion at Silvan Mines, 17 miles from here.

NAMED TO BCE POST

VANCOUVER — Dr. John Davis, a senior economist on the Gordon Royal Commission staff, has been appointed director of B.C. Electric's department of research and administrative control.

VERNON — J. B. McCallum has been installed as 1957 president of the Vernon Board of Trade. He succeeds Martin J. Conroy. New vice-president is E. Bruce Cousins.

$100,000 DREDGE SINKS

VANCOUVER—The seven crew members of a $100,000 dredge were forced to abandon ship Thursday after an unsuccessful all-night battle to keep it from sinking in the Fraser River here.

PHONE RATE INCREASE

KAMLOOPS—City council indicated Thursday that telephone rates in the Kamloops district may be increased because of a reclassification of the Kamloops zone into the 5,000-subscriber group.

AIRPORT SOUGHT

VERNON—Mayor Frank Becker said Thursday he has urged federal air transport authorities to purchase a ranch six miles north of here for use as a civic airport.

SERVE-YOURSELF FINE BOX

VANCOUVER—A serve-yourself system of paying parking meter fines is being considered in Vancouver. The method employs one of three deposit boxes per block for on-the-spot payment of parking fines. The theft-proof boxes are bolted to parking meter posts. Payment is made by putting the amount of the fine in a special envelope, sealing it and dropping it into a deposit box.

PGE TERMINUS OPENED

NORTH VANCOUVER—The new southern terminus of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway was officially opened for business here Thursday. Premier Bennett described the 460-mile railroad as a gateway to "the great empire of the north."

Victoria Daily Times

VICTORIA, B.C., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1957

Bob Whyte (right), former athletic star and member of the Victoria YMCA for 52 years, and Archie McKinnon happily admire life membership presented to Whyte during annual YMCA meeting Thursday night.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP FOR RESPECTED VICTORIAN

'Y' Honors Veteran Sportsman

By DOUG PEDEN
Times Sports Reporter

Bob Whyte, one of Victoria's greatest and most respected athletes during his playing days, was honored during the annual general meeting of the Victoria YMCA Thursday night.

Whyte, who possessed a rare combination of outstanding ability and true sportsmanship, was presented with a life membership in the "Y" by president Denis Humphries.

The award was given for Bob's many years of work to help younger Victorians.

Another life membership was presented to Harold E. Fryer, a member of the association in Britain and Canada since 1906.

Becoming a member of the YMCA at 16, when he was given a membership by his brother Ed, Bob Whyte has remained with the association for 52 years.

It was at the YMCA that he started soccer and basketball careers that continued into the early 1930s. He played goal for the "Y" team and later moved to the Victoria West club that dominated the soccer scene for many years, playing both goal and fullback.

Although noted mainly for his team efforts, Whyte was also a scoring threat on the basketball court. He was probably the greatest dribbler ever developed in the city and an artist at setting up scoring plays for his teammates.

Since ending his playing career, Mr. Whyte has continued to coach young basketball players. His teams have always absorbed much of his outlook on sport and placed sportsmanship ahead of winning.

B.C. CHAMPS

He left the YMCA basketball club to join the First Presbyterian Church team late in his career and helped the team to the provincial championship.

Archie McKinnon, YMCA physical director, paid tribute to Mr. Whyte:

"Bob has been the city's most self-effacing and unassuming influence for good over a period of years," said McKinnon. "I have played with and against him and he has always been one of my heroes. Bob was a rugged athlete, but when he took a hard knock his only retaliation was a smile."

"He did not talk about fair play in sports and everyday life," McKinnon said, "he showed you by his examples of sportsmanship."

YMCA Re-Elects President

Denis Humphries was returned for another term as president of the YMCA, and the Hon. R. W. Mayhew was re-elected honorary president at a meeting Thursday.

Also returned to office were Arthur H. Stott, first vice-president; George H. Wheator, second vice-president; Donald Davis, treasurer, and Alan Macfarlane, past-president. Douglas Abbott was named recording secretary.

The meeting re-elected Bruce Humber, Ray Parfitt, Alan Macfarlane, Lawrence J. Wallace, Robert T. Wallace, Albert Coomber, Courtney Haddock and William Gilmour to the board of directors.

Added to the board were George Bredner, Nigel Tomlin, Donald E. Smith, Justin Harbord and Fred hawes.

MONTE ROBERTS

Each year, for the past several years, I have complained about May 24.

And each year, for the same past several years, my complaints have been to no avail.

Working on the theory I have previously left my complaints to too late a date, I am going to do my May 24 complaining early this year.

Right now, in fact.

The reason I complain about May 24 is, it never falls on May 24.

Last year for instance, May 24 fell on May 21.

This may seem a matter of small importance to you, but it means a great deal to me.

May 24 happens to be the date of my birth (and I will not tell you how many decades ago this occurred).

So, when the powers that be got around to making May 24 fall on May 21, they threw me into a state of utter confusion, caused me to bite my nails, and wander aimlessly about, bumping into people and uttering low moans.

Last year, when May 24 fell on May 21, I could not decide whether this made me three days older, three days younger, or perhaps neither older, younger, or at all.

If you follow me.

This year, it is even worse.

There was a piece in the paper the other day, announcing that May 24 would be held from May 17 to May 20, inclusive.

The paper said: "Victoria Day celebrations will begin on Friday, May 17, this year and extend through to Monday, May 20, the official holiday."

You can imagine what this is going to do to me, whose birthday is May 24.

I will be having a birthday on May 17, May 18, May 19, May 20 and May 24.

I am old enough as it is, without aging five years in less than a week.

Let us arise in protest before it is too late.

Let us get up a petition to restore May 24 to the proper date.

In other words, let us have May 24 fall on May 24.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

New snow fell overnight at Duncan, Nanaimo and on the Alberni Summit, according to the provincial road report. Icy sections are common on all main roads, but sanding is under way where necessary.

Annual meeting of the B.C. Nurserymen's Association will be held in the Empress Hotel Monday, February 11.

Morning will be devoted to general business and election of officers and the afternoon sessions feature guest speakers. A banquet and social hour will be held in the evening.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Percy Scurrah, today re-elected as chairman of the Greater Victoria Civil Defence Control Board, will attend a special CD course for 200 Canadian mayors at Arnprior, Ont., Feb. 25. Esquimalt Reeve A. C. Wurtele will attend a CD orientation course at Arnprior Feb. 25. Two Greater Victoria representatives will be named to a similar course April 1.

Morris Davis, 1041 Lodge, a postman, was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital today with undetermined head injuries suffered in a fall.

He was found by a milkman lying unconscious on a roadway in front of 3671 Kathleen, where he had apparently slipped on an icy slope. He regained consciousness after being taken to hospital in a Saanich police ambulance.

Dale Carnegie Club International will meet in the Chamber of Commerce board room Monday at 7.45 p.m.

At a recent meeting, Mrs. Bertha Downie won the Wal Angus silver trophy for public speaking.

Three Victoria army cadet chief instructors will attend a cadet conference in Nanaimo Saturday and Sunday to discuss all phases of the cadet program on Vancouver Island.

Similar conferences will be held in districts throughout B.C. area.

From Victoria will be Capt. F. N. Fotheringham, 4 Light Anti-Aaircraft Battery Cadet Corps; Capt. G. Dudley Stephens, Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) Cadet Corps, and Lt. David Kaye, 5 Area Signals Squadron Cadet Corps.

Oak Bay building figure total for January was $77,589.

Of this amount, $73,500 was for construction of five homes. The difference was made up in alterations.

NAVAL SHIP MOVEMENTS

Ontario, Jonquiere, Stettler on training cruise, return May 3.

Comox, James Bay, Fortune on exercises, return Feb. 7.

Crescent, Sioux, Athabaskan, Cayuga on exercises in California waters. Sioux returns 8 a.m. Feb. 7, remainder March 7.

Two 14-year-old boys reported missing here Wednesday were presumed today to be on their way to Calgary.

Parents of the two boys, Steve Marty, 149 Superior, and Michael Porter, 1101 Hillside, received postcards from the boys mailed in Vancouver. With about $60 between them, they were believed to be going to relatives in Calgary.

★ ★ ★

A special meeting of city council will be held Feb. 8, Mayor Percy Scurrah said today.

The meeting would normally be held Feb. 14 but was moved ahead to permit council to formulate a request to the B.C. government in time for consideration at the spring session of the Legislature.

Council will ask permission to use either the special powers of the 1919 City of Victoria Act, or the new Municipal Act, whichever is more beneficial, in planning either for business tax or revision of present trade licence schedules.

Esquimalt's building program got off to a slow start this year with 11 permits issued in January to an estimated value of $45,588.

In January of 1956, 20 permits were issued covering $242,000 in construction. The figure included a $122,000 plate shop at Yarrows and $14,000 oil tank installed by Imperial Oil.

Court Tests TV Antenna Permit Need

4 Charges Against Victoria Company

A test of city legislation requiring a permit for erection of television antenna opened in police court today.

Edward Drew Television Ltd., 745 View, is contesting a charge of failing to obtain a building permit on the grounds that the city by-law, enacted in 1938, does not cover television aerials.

The firm is faced by four charges.

The case heard in court today deals with the erection of an antenna at the home of Edward Anderson at 1464 Begbie.

The job of putting up the aerial was given to the firm by Mc & Mc Ltd., which sold Mr. Anderson his television set.

DOESN'T APPLY

Defence counsel L. F. Lindholm contended that the by-law was "clearly inapplicable" to TV antenna.

Prosecutor Alan Bigelow countered that TV antenna would come within the meaning of "wireless masts and radio poles" defined in the by-law.

Magistrate H. C. Hall said the definition of the word "structure" was a key factor in the case.

TRIAL ADJOURNED

"There is quite a problem here," Magistrate Hall said.

He adjourned the trial until next Friday for judgment.

The magistrate said he will study the provincial Municipal Act for further guidance.

The city has been requiring all contractors or house owners to secure a permit for erecting a TV antenna. The average cost is $1.25.

Mr. Lindholm argued that the by-law "must be construed strictly."

He pointed out that there are no regulations laid down governing installation of an antenna, while other building requirements are spelled out in detail.

Veteran Forester Addresses Parley

Dean of the B.C. Registered Foresters' Association, F. D. Mulholland, 77 Beach Drive, will address the annual dinner meeting of the association tonight at 7 in the Empress Hotel.

He will speak of development of the forester from earliest times, with predictions concerning the future of the occupation.

The association meeting started this afternoon with an address by the president, Ken McCannel.

About 100 foresters are attending the gathering which ends with the dinner tonight.

'Panic-Frozen' Driver Fined For Hit-Run

A motorist who admitted he drove away after knocking a 12-year-old girl from her bicycle because he "froze with panic," was fined a total of $85 in city police court today.

Evan Settle, 2735 Belmont, said he was "sorry afterwards" that he had not stopped. He admitted, however, he had not reported the accident to police.

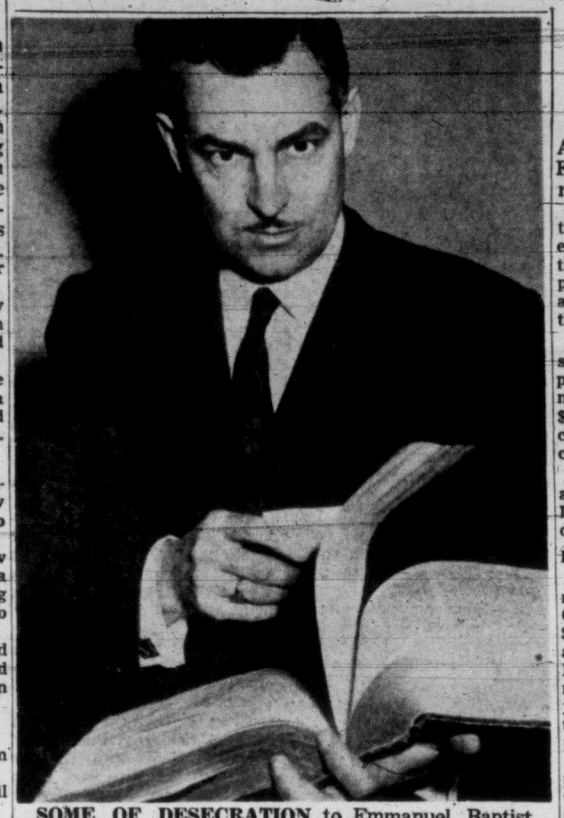
He was fined $35 or five days for careless driving and $50 or 10 days for failing to remain at the scene of the accident.

The girl, Vera Hulford, 2808 Rock Bay, was unhurt when she fell off the bicycle into a puddle on the road.

The accident occurred at Bridge and Hillside Jan. 4.

Witnesses said he turned out his headlights as he drove away.

Saanichton Fair Wins Financial Recognition



SOME OF DESECRATION to Emmanuel Baptist Church is displayed by Pastor James Smith. Pages of pulpit Bible were stuck up with glue-back convenant texts.

Class B Rating Means Up to $4,000 Grants

Annual exhibition of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society, better known as the "Saanichton Fair," has won its fight for Class B rating, it was announced today.

The change in status means that more than $4,000 in government grants, over and above the present allowance from the provincial government, will be available for the presentation of the fair each year.

To win this classification, observed by both the federal and provincial agriculture departments, it had to pay out at least $3,000 in prize money for agricultural classes alone for three consecutive years.

This was done in 1954, 1955 and 1956, and as a result Albert Doney, society president, has received word of the "promotion."

FIX GROUNDS

The federal government recognizes only Class A and Class B fairs, paying up to $5,000 annually toward the first, and up to $2,500 for the second. Money must be used for maintenance of buildings and grounds, judges' fees, and 4-H work, and the government is not bound to pay the full sum.

The provincial agriculture department also pays $2,500 toward a Class B fair, a marked increase over the 25 per cent of the prize money it offers the average fall fair.

There are no actual Class A fairs in B.C., the Pacific National Exhibition being a show outside of the system, and the Saanichton Fair will be the fifth Class B fair to operate in B.C. Others are at Armstrong, Duncan, Chilliwack and Cloverdale.

The forthcoming fair, to be held at the Saanichton agricultural grounds on the Labor Day weekend, will be the 89th staged by the society. It boasts the longest record of continuous operation of any fair west of the Great Lakes.

EARLY START

Mr. Doney said today that a program of improvements will be carried out at the fair grounds as soon as weather moderates.

"We put up two new buildings last year, and the first thing we will do is finish them off," he said. "We also will expand the program, and will have classes for three additional 4-H clubs."

Excavations will take place under the large hall to make room for an office and other facilities, and improvements will be made in the water system.

Mr. Doney was elected in November to his fifth consecutive term as president of the society. Membership now numbers about 250.

SHAWN CHAPIN

Little Girl Gets Medal For Bravery

Girl Guide medal for life-saving was to be presented this afternoon to nine-year-old Shawn Chapin who rescued a young boy from drowning off Macaulay Point last Thanksgiving.

Daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. W. L. Chapin, 971 Clent, Shawn pulled to shore Roger Gaetzman, two, when he waded beyond his depth.

She carried the unconscious child to shore and immediately applied artificial respiration learned from a TV program on water rescue.

In a letter from Mary T. Nesbitt, chief commissioner of the Girl Guides, Shawn is commended for the "splendid way" in which she carried out her Brownie training.

Brownie with the Work Point pack, Shawn was to receive the blue and white ribboned medal from Mrs. F. W. Midgley, Girl Guides area commissioner.

The ceremony was planned for 4.30 p.m. at Work Point Barracks.

Church Damage Puzzles Cleric

By TONY DICKASON

Juvenile delinquency seems to rise frequently in the Fernwood-Gladstone area and concentrate on the neighborhood church, Emmanuel Baptist.

Latest senseless episode involves three district boys aged 13, 11 and 10, who broke into the church Thursday and went on a spree of destruction and outright sacrilege. One of the boys was a new pupil of the Sunday school.

The pastor, Rev. James E. Smith, soft-spoken 41-year-old minister who has had Emmanuel Baptist six years, today put a worried hand to his head and tried to answer "why?"

"This is a tough area for kids going wrong, and that's why we try and do so much youth work. But so few of the parents have any real church connections. The appeal must be to the parents, but you just can't seem to get them to think at all. It makes one wonder. They can't even seem to understand themselves what their youngsters are doing."

The minister, who recently conducted a five-week boys' work survey throughout Western Canada for the Baptist Union, has had little but trouble with neighborhood boys.

Looked Like Carnival Aftermath

"We have a bill for broken glass every month," he said. Last fall $30 worth of windows were broken. When the new $50,000 Sunday school hall was being built one and a half years ago, cement blocks were knocked down; paint strewn around; scaffolding nuts removed to the danger of workmen.

The juvenile trio who perpetrated the latest church binge have been the only delinquents caught so far.

There will be no prosecution.

"It is the constructive angle we take on such things," said the pastor.

The interior of the 75-year-old church today looked like a carnival aftermath. Toilet tissue hung from the gallery and a broken roll dropped from the organ. Offering envelopes, hundreds, were scattered along aisles. The pulpit Bible, which has been with the church since 1922—gift of a parish family—was hurled from the pulpit into the organ loft, after page after page had been carefully glued with church covenant texts.

Christmas decorations were taken from containers and broken everywhere. Hymn books were strewn about. A match was struck on a piano—leaving a glaring streak of damage—and a piece of music burned on the floor.

All but two rooms in the church were ransacked in one way or another.

Mr. Smith's office was entered, but was not damaged, due, said the pastor, to the one-shot Sunday school pupil who said "I don't think we should wreck anything here."

There was no real trouble apprehending the boys. They were seen running from the church by Mrs. Lillian Given, who had arrived for a weekly clean-up. She found she needed real help.

Parents of the offending kids came down to see the damage and help clean up as best they could.

The boys were "playing hookey" from nearby George Jay School.

They Weren't Sorry About Damage

Talking with the lads, Mr. Smith was upset. Said he: "They seemed to be sorry they were caught, but not sorry for what they did."

There is a great deal of work done with youth at Emmanuel. Scouts number 18; Cubs, 30; a teenage program is held each Saturday night; there are two girls' clubs.

Church membership is 200 persons.

But even when youth meetings are being held in the church, there are always a group of kids whooping and hollering around outside.

"We can't seem to get these into the church organizations," said Mr. Smith.

In his survey of boys' work in the West appear these two lines which sum up the situation:

"I have a boy and I want him to know
We reap in life just what we sow."

Next Sunday's evening sermon subject at Emmanuel is: "We Can All Live Together."

This would seem a little difficult to date in the Fernwood-Gladstone area.

LETTERS TO DRIVERS

(In this column the Times presents letters from and to drivers about careless, discourteous or reckless infractions of driving and pedestrian rules. When you see one, just send in the place, date and time, and what happened. DON'T give the number of the offending vehicle. Only initials of complainants will be used.)

TODAY'S BEEFS

Last Sunday at 10.45 a.m. I was driving north on Cook Street going through the intersection at Yates with the green light when an elderly driver in a green Consul came down Yates, and turned right on the red light without looking at the line of traffic going through the intersection. To avoid crashing into him I had to swerve into the pile of snow in the middle of the road. Luckily it wasn't icy or there would have been at least a three-car crack-up.

— P. K.

About 8.25 a.m. Thursday on Shelbourne near Derby, a yellow panel truck bearing the name of a well-known wholesale automobile equipment company pulled out and passed a line of three cars which were already travelling at just over 30 mph. His estimated speed, close to 50 mph. The car ahead of mine was just easing over to pass a boy on a bicycle, and as a result was almost sideswiped.

W. G. F.

I was coming down Courtney Street at 2 p.m. Thursday when I saw a Buick and an Oldsmobile. The road was very narrow because of the ditches on either side of the road. The two drivers were facing each other. The driver in the Oldsmobile told the man in the Buick to back up. The Buick driver would not. So the driver in the Olds was not going to back up. They were there for three or four minutes cursing each other. Finally the driver in the Olds backed up, then he went forward and passed the Buck. If looks could kill I am sure both of them would have died an awful death. Pretty childish, what say?

ASK The TIMES

Q. Will you inform me as to how the Pacific Great Eastern Railway got its name? J. E. M.

A. A substantial part of the original investment in the system was provided by interests identified with the Great Eastern Railway in England, and the Great Eastern part of the name was adopted as a gesture of courtesy to them, the word Pacific being added to identify it with this part of Canada.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Want to Come A-Browsing 'Round Fun Foods Shelves?

By PENNY SAVER

As I sit here munching a rather uninteresting sandwich my thoughts turn to foods that one doesn't usually find in packed lunches, but at little parties, dinners, cocktails and such. I can see little bristling sardines in sherry wine. They come in 29-cent tins. On crackers, they're wonderful. Here's something bordering on the exotic—frogs legs a la Newberg! A tin is yours for $2.50. Perhaps your tastes run to smoked frog's legs, these, imported from Japan, are $2.05 a tin. On order in town are some more delicacies, though considered a little unusual by western tastes, delicacies nevertheless. These are chocolate-coated ants and French fried grasshoppers. I'm serious! The last shipment went like hotcakes, so they've ordered more. They both sell at $1.29 a tin.

The hostess who has a yen to serve a light dessert that's really different and appetizing will love the port wine gelatin dessert that you can buy in town. A package is 35 cents. The same price is a pure coffee gelatin. Just mix the powder with boiling water and let it set like any other jelly.

Soup for a crowd or just for one can be made quickly with turtle soup tablets. In a box, costing 39 cents, are four tablets that need only to be dissolved in hot, hot water. Add salt and pepper to taste, and there's lunch!

If you want to go Hawaiian for an evening, you can buy bottles of poi, the much-talked-about paste-like food popular in Hawaii. If you've never tried it, here's your chance. It's 39 cents a jar. Mango slices in thick syrup are $1 a tin, and sliced papaya is 35 cents a tin.

Off to another part of the world, here's pumpernickel, that wonderful pure rye grain bread that I love. It comes in 25 or 49 cent packages. The bread is ready sliced, ready to be buttered or spread with preserves.

I noticed packages of wild rice selling at 69 cents a quarter pound. A little further along, I found tins of sliced ripe olives, good for tidbit nibbling, or for decorating your dinnertime masterpieces. A tin is 19 cents.

If you'd like to know where I found these tasty and interesting foods, call me at 2-3131. I'll tell you the names of the stores.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

About naming the divorced father in an engagement story:

My son has recently become engaged and the mother of his fiancee wishes to make an announcement in the newspaper. My husband and I have been separated for nearly 25 years. Not knowing his whereabouts in all that time, should my husband's name be mentioned in the announcement, and, if so, should it be "George Brown address unknown)"? I have been told that the father is always mentioned if living, but we neither know whether he is living or his whereabouts.

Louise

Louise Davis answers: Ordinarily in the case of separation or divorce, both father and mother are included in an engagement announcement. The boy or girl concerned is often friendly with both mother and father, and there is no point in abusing or hurting one simply because the parents can't get along. But circumstances are different in your case and I would omit the father's name. Obviously the father has shown no interest in his son, nor has he helped to support him, and, as far as you know, the father may not even be alive. It would be dreadful to use the phrase "George Brown (address unknown," for the announcement would be publicly airing a situation of unhappiness and neglect. As far as you and your son are concerned, your husband doesn't exist, so delete his name by all means.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q.—"I am 13 years old and want to wear lipstick but my mother won't allow me to because she thinks I am too young. All my girl friends wear lipstick and I don't see why I can't wear it. Please tell me what you think in your question box."

A.—Thirteen does seem quite young to begin wearing lipstick. However, if all your friends do, perhaps your mother would be willing for you to use a very light pink shade when you dress up and go to parties. I think it is much better taste at your age not to wear it to school or generally.

Q.—"How can I develop my thighs?"

A.—Deep knee bends are good. If necessary place one hand on a chair or the wall for balance. Slowly bend your knees all the way down. Do not keep the heels on the floor. The important thing is to keep your back straight. Do not bend at the waist. Slowly straighten the knees. Continue bending and straightening legs."

Q.—"Is it all right to use a blackhead remover to remove blackheads? If so, where can I buy one?"

A.—Care should be taken not to bruise the tissues. Also be sure that the tool you use is sterile and use alcohol afterwards. It really would be better to go to a dermatologist for this.

Q.—"I am 14 years old. I am 5 feet 7 inches tall and weigh 152. My measurements are 36, 26, and 36½. Please tell me if I am overweight."

A.—Your measurements are perfect but you are overweight. If you have a very heavy frame you still should lose a few pounds.

Q.—"How can I correct sway back? Is there any way to do it?"

A.—In the first place, remind yourself many times each day to watch your posture. Pull your abdomen in and tuck your hips under. Then do the following exercise. Lie on the floor. Bend both knees and place your feet on the floor. Press your back down toward the floor, trying to touch as much of your back to the floor as possible. Hold while you count to 10 slowly. Relax and repeat.

SHADES OF 1920— THE VAMP IS BACK!

PARIS (AP)—Bubble skirts that blow up the hips and brow-gripping headbands that recall the 1920s spiced the Jacques Heim fashion collection shown Monday. The vamp was clearly the heroine of openings in Paris which began with Patou Monday morning.

Thomas Fuller, 17th century English essayist, philosophized, "Of soup and love, the first is best." Breakfast-wise, we agree.

IN SOUTH AFRICA

Those Who Fought and Failed Now Leave Country They Love

The whites who "think," who have fought in all ways they know how to bring about a perfect union in South Africa, and who see their efforts worthless because of bitter differences of opinion among leaders, political parties and national groups, are now leaving the country in thousands.

In a thoughtful and illuminating talk at this week's supper meeting of Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club, Miss Sybil Lees, stressed this point with all its tragic inference.

Miss Lees came from South Africa, a little over a year ago, to make her home in Victoria.

In quick, decisive words, the speaker sketched the history of South Africa from the time of Vasco da Gama in 1497. She described the different races that make up its population: The whites (or Europeans) that include the Afrikaans (Dutch, Hugenot and German), British and recent immigrants from Europe, including Holland; the off-whites (non-Europeans) that include native Africans, Cape colored, Indians and Cape Malays.

The political situation was explained, also the widely divergent policies of the government (the nationalists and Afrikaaners) and the opposition (the United Party including unionists and Labor).

The scourge of "separateness": the history of native education, "thousands are turned away yearly"; the police state in which "the police are ruled by fear"; the trade unions "where 99 per cent of members may be colored but may have no representative on executive"; the courts and the white laws, all have a responsibility for the situation in South Africa today, Miss Lees insisted.

"I cannot see any hope," she concluded, "except through waking up the whole Christian outside world before it is too late. It is not an 'internal' matter. It is a matter for the survival of humanity and all it should stand for, and of the principles of Christiandom, no matter what sect."

The speaker was introduced by Miss L. Henderson and thanked by Miss M. Cottingham.

A liberal amount of good used clothing, toiletries, blankets and a generous donation of money was collected during the evening in response to an appeal for Hungarian refugees by the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women. These articles will be packed and sent to BPW shipping headquarters in Toronto and then re-shipped by air to Austria where they will be distributed to BPW women refugees there.

Seated at the head table with the president, Mrs. R. Masters, were members of the executive and Mrs. Dollie Darling, a former member of the club who has just returned to Victoria from England where she has spent the past six years.

TODAY'S RECIPE

BUTTERSCOTCH RAISIN TAPIOCA

Three-quarter cup light or dark raisins, 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 2 cups milk, ½ cup brown sugar (packed), ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Rinse and drain raisins. Combine with tapioca, milk, sugar and salt, and cook and stir until mixture comes to a full boil. Stir in beaten egg and cook a minute longer over low heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in butter and flavoring. Cool. Serve with cream, if desired. Serves 5.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Wrap pastry squares around drained canned peach halves filled with mincemeat. Bake and serve the dumplings warm with sherry flavored whipped cream.

Suede shoes should have a professional cleaning by a shoe expert about once a month if they're to keep their velvety look.

Serve crisp cole slaw, garnished with well-drained canned peach slices, along with an oven dinner of meat loaf and scalloped potatoes.

Women

Between Ourselves

By ELIZABETH FORBES

In mid-January this year newspapers headlined the fact that three B-52 Stratofortresses had travelled around the world in 45 hours 19 minutes.

Buried in the story was a sentence: "In 1889, New York newspaper, woman Nellie Bly completed the first actual round-the-world trip in 72 days." That sentence stirred my imagination. I went searching for Nellie Bly.

She was quite a person, it would seem from writings of her day. A dynamic five-foot-three, with mournful grey eyes and soft but persistent manners, she had been the centre of a number of startling newspaper stories. She had gone down in a diving bell and up in a balloon. She had posed as a lunatic in order to write of conditions among the insane at New York's Blackwell Island. She had acted the parts of beggar, factory hand, shop girl and Salvation Army lass.

Elizabeth

All her stories appeared in Joseph Pulitzer's New York World, and it was that newspaper that backed her in her dash around the world.

The idea was born out of interest being shown at the time in French novelist Jules Verne's description of an imaginary trip by Phileas Fogg in "Around the World in 80 Days."

"If Fogg can do it in 80 days, our Nellie should be able to do it in less," said Joseph Pulitzer. (Her real name was Nellie Cochrane; the "Bly" was coined for her when she first started newspaper work in Pittsburgh.)

Once Pultizer made up his mind he gave Nellie four days to get ready. Four days or not, in the ways of all women, she had to have the "right" clothes.

Travelled Light as Modern Women Do

She chose a "blue plaid in lady's cloth," which reports say was "boned and fitted, tried on, and made up to special order, in 12 hours." A tropical costume of camel's hair cloth was also completed and she picked out a Scottish plaid "ulster" and a lightweight "waterproof." She didn't take an umbrella—a daring departure from tradition back in 1889.

She carried two "satchels," one a substantial "gripsack" and the other a lightweight bag which she slung over her shoulder. She had a toothbrush, a bank book, a pair of easy-fitting shoes and some changes (shades of our grandmothers!) of flannel underwear. Her good luck charm was a thumb ring which she had worn on the day she sought and found work on The World.

To keep track of New York time, she carried a 24-hour watch.

Only rules laid down were that she was to take her chance along the way. No charter trains or extra-fast ships were to be used.

Nellie Bly sailed from New York on Nov. 14, 1889, aboard the Augusta Victoria. There was no such thing as quick ship-to-shore communication in those days and The World staffers were hard put to keep the interest going until Nellie's stories started coming back—first from London, then Boulogne, then Amiens, where she visited Jules Verne and received his blessing. He told her, "I do not think you can do better than Phileas."

She rejoined a ship in France and went on to Brindisi, Port Said, Aden and finally to Colombo. Here she had to wait five days for another ship but spent the time writing fascinating articles of the Cinnamon Gardens and the beauties of Kandy.

By this time the whole English-speaking world was racing with her and reporters met her at every stop.

Through Monsoon on Yellow Sea

From Colombo the traveller sailed for Singapore and then Hong Kong, experiencing a monsoon on the way. She ate her Christmas dinner in the Temple of the Dead in Canton and New Year's Eve was celebrated aboard ship crossing the Yellow Sea. She had four days to see Yokohama and Tokyo—again waiting for a ship—then set sail across the Pacific for San Francisco.

Her newspaper had arranged to have the train that rushed her across the United States decked with flags, bunting and banners. Crowds gathered at every stop. Bands played when she got off the train at Jersey City. Guns boomed from the Battery and Brooklyn to welcome her.

Nellie Bly reached New York on Jan. 25, 1890. She had covered 24,899 miles in 72 days, 6 hours and 11 minutes.

The World gave her its entire front page besides the greatest publicity that any newspaper woman had ever received. The page-wide headline read "Father Time Outdone."

Cablegrams and telegrams poured in to the newspaper office, among them one from Jules Verne, who wrote: "I never doubted the success of Nellie Bly. She has proved her intrepidity and courage. Hurrah for her and for the director of The World."

After the tumult had died down, Nellie told her story in four detailed chapters which were read by thousands of admirers. A race horse was named for her; her picture was distributed with The Sunday World; games were named after her and songs were sung about her.

The first woman—in fact, the first person—to travel against time in a successful dash to put a girdle around the world!

GIFT IN RETURN

GRANBY, Que. (CP) — A flag of the principality of Monaco will be officially presented to the city of Granby at ceremonies this month. The flag was offered by Prince Rainier when he acknowledged receipt of two beavers, given by Granby as a present on the occasion of his marriage to Grace Kelly.

Native Daughters Plan Coffee Party

Mrs. Hazel Pomeroy presided at a recent meeting of the Native Daughters of British Columbia, Post No. 3 in Orange Hall, when plans for a coffee party to be held in Hudson's Bay Company's Douglas Room were made. The affair will be on Feb. 16 from 11 a.m. to 1.30 p.m.

Mrs. M. Davies reported on the Historical Society meeting and Mrs. B. Creech, on Local Council of Women. Mrs. R. Nickerson told of senior citizen work of the post.

Plans for a rummage sale in April were discussed and members were reminded of a social evening to be held next Thursday at the home of Mrs. R. Nickerson, 1322 Vimy Street, where hostesses will be Mrs. H. Corbett and Miss M. Gillies.

LATEST DECREE ON HEMLINE

PARIS (AP)—The hem came down several inches Thursday and as usual fashion designer Christian Dior is at the bottom of it all.

Displaying his new "liberty line," the French style-setter who once imposed the "flat look" on females decreed that a lady shouldn't show her calf in public and he dropped cocktail-time hemlines almost to the ankle.

However, Dior's latest is no revolution for North American and English women who already are wearing mid-calf length skirts. Hemlines in the latest London openings just about agree with Dior's competing Paris designers, stuck to the old 16 or 17-inch hemline which doesn't drop far below the knee.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Gather Before Ball

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Thomson and Mr. and Mrs. Graham Harris will entertain a few friends this evening at the Crescent Road home of the former. Later the party will go on to the Symphony Ball in the Empress Hotel.

A 'Happy Hour'

Arrangements have been completed for the first "Happy Hour" gathering in the Royal Victoria Yacht Club this Saturday evening, where members and their friends will gather to enjoy a program of music from 5.30 to 7 p.m. Those in charge of arrangements for this innovation plan to make it a weekly event if tomorrow evening's gathering proves successful.

For Bride-Elect

Mrs. T. Berg entertained at her home on Graham Street recently with an afternoon tea, and in the evening, an open house in honor of her daughter, Miss Glenda Berg, a February bride-elect. A lace cloth covered the refreshment table, where three dolls, a bride and two bridesmaids gowned in blue centred a trio of cakes. The novelty cakes formed the large skirts of the dolls' dresses. Blue candles completed the arrangement. Mrs. F. Leach, Sr., presided at the tea table during the afternoon.

Miss Berg was also guest of honor at a surprise party held at her home on Graham Street when Miss Joan Archer was hostess. A decorated sailboat held the many gifts for the popular bride-elect. A corsage of freesia was presented to Miss Berg while her mother, Mrs. T. Berg, and the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. F. Leach, Sr., received spring flower corsages. Guests were Mrs. R. McKay, Mrs. R. C. Davis, Mrs. W. Walton, Misses Toni Prosky, Mona McDonald, Sylvia Berg, Vanessa Wright, Frances McDonald and Bodil Sundby.

Mrs. Frank Leach entertained at her home at 3110 Kingsley Avenue, with a linen and china shower for Miss Berg. A blue container held the gifts. Among the guests were Mrs. T. Berg, Mrs. F. Leach, Sr., Mrs. F. G. Palmer, Mrs. H. Cruise, Mrs. A. Van Druten, Mrs. N. Davis, Mrs. Doane, Mrs. M. Wood, Mrs. M. Joyce, Mrs. C. Watson, Mrs. C. Howell, Mrs. M. Waring, Mrs. V. Davis, Mrs. L. Smith, Mrs. R. Walton, Mrs. F. Leach, Jr., and Miss Sylvia Berg.

In Vancouver At Meeting

Attending the annual meeting of the British Columbia Division, Canadian Mental Health Association, in Vancouver, yesterday and today are the following Victoria branch members: Mrs. C. Frankham, president; Dr. A. N. Beattie, Miss Violet Ashdown, and Mrs. Norman Clark. Highlight of yesterday's session was a talk by Dr. J. D. Griffin, national director of the CMHA. Today those attending the meeting were taken on a conducted visit to the Crease Clinic and other mental health centres on the lower mainland. Annual meeting of the Victoria Branch of the CMHA will be held on Feb. 7 at 8 p.m. at 1947 Cook Street.

GIRL GUIDES

Langford—Annual meeting of the Lakes District Guides and Brownies Association will be held Monday in Colwood Community Hall. Divisional commissioner, Mrs. W. S. Emmerton, and Mrs. L. Mills, district commissioner, will present their yearly reports.

New Head At Norfolk House School

Miss Winnifred Scott, London, Ont., has been appointed headmistress of Norfolk House School, Hugh L. Henderson, chairman of the board of governors, announced today.

For the past six years Miss Scott has been headmistress of Miss Matthew's School in the eastern city. In her 23-year teaching career, she also has held positions at Edgehill, a school for girls in Windsor, N.S., and Miss Edgar's and Miss Cramp's School in Montreal.

Miss Scott received her education at Netherwood, Rothesay, N.B., Edgehill and Bournemouth High School, Bournemouth, England.

On returning from England, she attended King's College, Dalhousie University, Halifax, and graduated in 1934 with a BSc degree.

Mrs. Ivy L. Cheetham is acting headmistress until Miss Scott's appointment becomes effective July 1.

5 CARD OF THANKS

At some time or other the thought that we would suffer the loss of a loved one occurred to us, but we little realized the extent of sympathetic understanding that would exist. We are more grateful than mere words can express to all of you who did so much to help us through this time. We wish to extend special thanks to Father Justin Riley, Father Costello, members and staff of St. Joseph's Hospital, Sands Funeral Chapel, Dr. David M. Boyd, and especially to Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Borsman.—Mr. and Mrs. Michael John Miron.

I wish to thank the many kind friends for their floral tributes, expressions of sympathy and kind acts at the time of the passing of my brother-in-law, the late Walter Harvey Bromwich. Especially to Drs. Homer and Appleyard, Canon S. J. Wickens, nurses and the staff of the Veterans' Hospital.—Mrs. Emily Bromwich.

6 IN MEMORIAM

McINTOSH—In memory of my beloved wife, Helen T. McIntosh, who passed away Feb. 1, 1956.
At home with her Saviour
Whom she loved so well.
Therefore I murmur not.
—Ebb.

BRIDGE LESSON

By Oswald Jacoby

A Milwaukee correspondent writes: "In a duplicate game my opponents quickly contracted for a spade game in spite of my partner's third hand opening bid of one diamond.

"I chose to open the queen of clubs from five headed by queen-jack-nine. Nothing could have been more disastrous. I ran into ace-king-ten in dummy. The king smothered my queen and after drawing trumps declarer finessed successfully against my jack and was able to get rid of his losing diamond. Then to complete the slaughter he led a low heart from dummy and finessed the ten in his own hand. This enabled him to hold his heart losers to one and gave him six odd for an absolute top score.

Opening lead—♣ Q

"My partner was extremely critical of my lead and claims that I definitely should have opened his bid suit. Just how bad was my lead and should I always open my partner's suit in preference to my own?"

The answer to the first part of this question is that the lead was very bad indeed. West should have realized that his partner had opened the bidding with a weak hand. Otherwise North and South would not have bid game so confidently. The only reason for a light minor suit opening is to secure a lead. You can't expect to steal the contract with a minor suit bid.

As for the second part of the question the answer is that there are many occasions when you should shy away from your partner's suit and choose your own. I will show one tomorrow.

ISSAC LOGART FIGHTS YAMA BAHAMA ON C-4 AT 7

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

CHANNEL CHATTER — On Sunday at 4.30 Channels 11 and 12 will carry a 90-minute See It Now documentary covering the complexities of Burma, a country about the size of Alberta with a population of some 18,000,000 souls.

Cameras will visit the monasteries and record ceremonies hundreds of years old in a land where people are devout Buddhists and every male citizen spends a part of his life in religious seclusion. One striking ceremony, the ordination of a young priest, has never before been filmed. The beautiful Shew Dagon monastery, which has a main tower constructed of solid gold, will be shown. One will see the Burmese parliament in session and hear interviews on Burma's neutralism with a Rangoon newspaper editor, a history professor and students at Rangoon University.

Another highlight will be a visit to see the 200-bed hospital at Namhkam headed by Dr. Gordon Seagrave, famed "Burma Surgeon" of the Second World War. It is in these precincts that Dr. Seagrave has performed some 25,000 operations, often with little more than a razor blade at his disposal.

IAN G. CLARK, president of Twin Cities Television Ltd., said that TV programs, some to be produced locally, will be available in Kamloops in less than a month. Equipment necessary for CFRC-TV is expected to be shipped soon from San Diego testing laboratories. Construction of a 60-foot tower that will house a 32-foot transmitting antenna will start in the near future. The tower will be erected on the TV-radio building in the city centre.

CARMEN RIDDER'S ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

SATURDAY, FEB. 2, 1957

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Daytime brings chance to gain data you need privately from experts and those who have confidence in you. Also time for secretely planning days to come, as well as aiding those who look to you for support.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—You awaken with a happy and warm-hearted feeling. Be outgiving to your loved ones. Also fine during daytime for whatever is creative. Tonight finds you tired out and feeling out of sorts, so you want to lash out. Don't. Clean place and get rest.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Daytime finds you able to do some very interesting things to please one of your family. Make sure you do the little things requiring upswing. Get finances in better shape. P.M. enjoy romantic interest.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—Serious-minded companion, partner who is devoted to you thinks you are the cat's whiskers, gives you more pointers you hadn't thought of ere this. Listen to understand and swiftly put into motion.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—You can save some money to spend on more fascinating outlets by handling your job with more care. You also can enhance the charm of your surroundings, office, den, special niche. Make sure you do let others see your devotion to them.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Long-time pleasures or some invention, special talents upon which you have been occupying your attention bring satisfactory outlet daytime. Fine for entertainment also. Then tonight let associates know what you want from them, tactfully.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Spend today and night at all those duties awaiting your attention. Get down to earth fixing furnishings, office, home, car, health, diet, pets, correspondence, painting—make sure your surroundings operative and more attractive. Work away.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Think most strongly in terms of being of greater delight to those toward whom you have duties and are most strongly drawn, emotionally or romantically. Let them know of your devotion. Also fine for getting charm accessories. Cement deals.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Your mind is almost exclusively preoccupied, rightly today, with methods for having a more secure basis to all departments of your affairs. See that you devise more sane, sensible, systematized budget.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Your charm is at a new peak and you can get others to do pretty much whatever you would like them to extend you. Be sure it's exactly what you want. Otherwise you may be saddled for some time with what was a momentary fascination.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Secretly letting others know how much you think of them can get them at last to release the support and assistance you can use to build up your joint well-being. Reduce your lofty ideas to a workable basis.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Now you have a day when you can be very practical in letting charmers know just how they can be helpful to you. Be equally sure to extend them whatever favor is in your power. Then a new understanding is possible. But you both must join.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN SATURDAY . . .

Saturday's child is one of those very astute youngsters who is able to get a pretty good idea of almost anything that attracts his or her attention. For this child has a tremendous curiosity and will persist in asking questions or seeking the answers to questions that interest until they are uncovered. Better early teach your offspring "the facts of life" so that they will be learned properly, than through less desirable means. A splendid chart for accomplishment and achievement.

SUNDAY, FEB. 3, 1957

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—Let others see you can make your inner convictions workable in some public or civic manner. You have accurate hunch if you are quiet for a while. The evening finds you all stirred up to argue with associates. Don't. Instead, co-operate.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Go off with close companion to high-minded advisor who can answer questions which have been perplexing you, early preferably at church or other spiritual outlet. P.M. brings chance to really benefit by refusing to yield to erraticism.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Showing respect, affection for one in authority yields daytime additional well-being. Let others know you like or admire them, in personal alliances also. Tonight finds you separating from friend, unless you restrain that snide comment.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—All that is on the higher plane of consciousness aids you even more than usually today. Go to find site of your choice with serious-minded associate and renew your worthwhile convictions. Tonight finds you irking official, unless tact used.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—You are unusually perceptive of best course of action and should be with those able to make such ideas workable during daytime. Tonight finds you eager to get off to some new appeal, but it's pretty much a mirage. Await better time.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Much conversation with those who are vital to your feelings that you are getting ahead produces more and more happiness. Have good time while being creative, too. P.M. time when you have inaccurate intuition you'd be wise to not follow.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Think in terms of being of greater service to co-workers and usual associates today. Then you find you have right slant for greater mutual advancement. Tonight be sure not to talk back to irate partner who is very unfair.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Generous feeling flows from you today which can bring you much of worth by letting others know you approve of them, which is rare for you to tell them. Tonight be sure you do not overexert. Take it easy. Get good night's rest.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Home is where you can show you've appreciated the benefits received in that important realm of your affairs, as well as from parents, older members of your clan and their religion. Tonight don't try to force fun. Let is come naturally.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Much conversation with all others brings you the answers for which you have been searching for some time. Let them know what you are interested in rather than talking around the bush. Be sure to side-step argument at home tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Your inherited background holds the answers for which you have been seeking, as well as the sum total of your past experiences. Be sure you do show others you are endowed with good, common sense. Tonight use real care on highway, in motion.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—This is your day to find that high-minded friend who has had the answers that solve your own particular need. Tonight be careful with expenses. Budget. Then you have more revenue during days to come, that you really need.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN SUNDAY . . .

Sunday's child is one of those very clever and astute youngsters who will be able to tune in almost anywhere —or with anyone that he or she wishes. Be sure you early have only the finest type of literature, the best youngsters, the finest food, etc., for your highly receptive progeny. For he or she will take up himself those conditions, and your early training will have an unusually powerful effect upon the whole later life. Fine chart for either big business or artistic pursuits.

'Fuzzy Thinking' Blamed By Bennett for Tight Money

Premier Bennett agrees with Royal Bank president James Muir that Canadians should save their money but not with his view that they should "make do without their own homes."

"Of course people should save their money," the Premier said today. "But that is no reason why they should not buy homes. With the huge increase in our population, it is only logical that money should be made available for home building.

"Any policy short of that is unrealistic."

The Premier said there was no tenable reason for any shortage of money for mortgages.

FUZZY THINKING

"That is just the kind of fuzzy thinking Social Credit is always combatting. Just put a Social Credit government in Ottawa and you won't have any shortage of money for homes.

"It is absurd to say we can get along without mortgage money—quite absurd."

In Vancouver Thursday Mr. Muir said housing loans have been reduced to a trickle and money is not available for new home mortgages.

"The sensible thing for a man to do is to save," he said. "We have to save to fight inflation."

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS PRESIDENT Donald Gordon and Mrs. Gordon will attend the opening of the B.C. Legislature Thursday. Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today he expects to discuss "railway matters" with him. Mr. Gordon will stay here two days during a CNR inspection trip and may later visit Prince Rupert and Kitimat.

Socred Caucus Scheduled Here Next Wednesday

All of the 39 Social Credit MLAs elected in last September's election will meet in the legislative buildings next Wednesday for a pre-session party caucus.

They will be given a rundown on government activities during the past year and a preview of new legislation to be introduced at the coming session opening on Thursday.

CCF members will hold their caucus in Vancouver next Monday and Tuesday.

REAPPOINTED — B.C. Protestant Orphanage again named Edward Williams (above) president of the board of managers at a meeting Thursday. Other officers elected were D. S. Tuck, Charles Ellington, H. H. Shanks, E. H. Pope, Denis Humphries, R. W. Hampton, Brigadier C. J. Milley, Capt. Burges J. Gadsden, Mrs. E. G. Hart and Mrs. Walter Holder.

Let Prince Alone, Queen Asks Press

LONDON (Reuters) — Pictures of Prince Charles at school faded from the British press Thursday after admonitions from Buckingham Palace that excessive publicity might spoil the new experiment in democratic education for the heir to the throne.

The eight-year-old prince began classes at a London school Monday.

Hitherto—as has been the tradition in the Royal Family—he was taught by private tutors within the palace.

Scores of large pictures and stories have chronicled his skill as a soccer player, a water-colorist, and in rough-and-tumble play.

Photographers massing outside the school Wednesday were interviewed by security men.

Later, the papers they worked for were telephoned by a palace official who stressed the Queen's concern that Charles should have the chance of going to school normally like other children.

Explosive Plant Workers Celebrate No-Accident Mark

Three accident-free years at the James Island explosives plant of Canadian Industries Limited will be marked at a dance tonight at the Sirocco Club here, sponsored by the company.

The plant employs 155 persons, who by December 14 had worked 1,113 injury-free days to make an all-time plant record.

Because of extensive safety measures taken in manufacturing explosives, employment in this occupation in recent years has proved safer than that of a store clerk.

Domestic Copper Price Drops

TORONTO (CP) — International Nickel Company of Canada Thursday announced a decrease of 2¼ cents in the price of domestic Canadian copper, f.o.b. Toronto, effective Feb. 1.

The new price is 32½ cents and replaces the price of 34¾ cents set Nov. 19. The American price is 34 cents U.S.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

MONTREAL, Jan. 31st — Hurdles . . . is that what you see when you and your husband look ahead? Financial hurdles all along the way — insurance premiums, mortgage repayments, food and laundry bills, shoes for the children, that new dress you must have this year or perhaps a refrigerator to be bought in the summer. Every list is different, yet every item on every list is a financial hurdle that must be surmounted! Well, we've found the best way to clear those 'sticks' is with a savings plan that ensures that we have the money when we need it. We've figured out what we need for food, rent, etc., each pay day, and the rest goes into a Savings Account at the BANK OF MONTREAL. Why not follow our example — save regularly and keep on saving at the B of M. You'll find that those financial hurdles are not nearly so formidable when you have money in "MY BANK".

It's The Truth . . . as we all know! A nourishing, hot breakfast is very important for a restful, healthful day. That's why so many of us serve our family RED RIVER CEREAL these bright mornings. It's so good for everybody! If the man of the house, for instance, is doing heavy work of any kind — Red River gives him energy-producing nourishment. If he is a sedentary worker, Red River will guard regularity. For the youngsters, of course, there's nothing better — for Red River is so delicious a blending of fine grains that they really enjoy it. Do try some yourself this very week! It's good.

Makes Me Sad . . . to see little ones with rough, chapped hands because there's no need for such discomfort. Campana's Italian Balm is so easy to use — and so sure in its promise of keeping hands soft and pretty. If you and your family will rub ITALIAN BALM into your hands after every exposure to wind . . . water . . . weather — you'll never have sore, chapped hands. I can be positive about it, for generations of women and children have proved it. And now you can buy the handy household size — with the handy new dispenser — both for only 69c — at any drug counter. Pick up a bottle, won't you — today!

Family Fun . . . Together . . . is a precious part of family living which doesn't just happen. Plan for it, with a shelf-full of exciting games like MONOPOLY — CLUE — SORRY!—and The NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE GAME. After the favorite TV show — there's nothing like a good game to keep the young ones stimulated and interested—and at home. With the dark winter evenings and week-ends here — do be wise and stock up with some of these fascinating games. Thousands of families are re-discovering the fun of playing together — with some of these new games . . . Mum and Dad and the kids, too. Get one or more this week . . . and see!

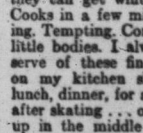
"Mother! Mother! Mother!" . . . Into the house they rave, shouting "I'm cold! I'm hungry!" . . . "When do we eat?" Bless them — and lucky us to have the joy of children rushing home! That's when a hot bowl of LIPTON CHICKEN NOODLE SOUP is so wonderful — ready as fast as they can get winter clothing off! Cooks in a few minutes. Nourishing. Tempting. Comforting to cold little bodies. I always keep a reserve of these fine Lipton Soups on my kitchen shelf — ready for lunch, dinner, for a cheery warmth after skating . . . or for a pick-me-up in the middle of a busy day. And do watch for the new Lipton Green Pea Soup that's coming — it's simply delicious!

There's A Big Coffee Bargain at your grocer's now! Right now, when you buy INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE, you save 25c on the large 6-ounce jar . . . and 10c on the regular 2-ounce jar! Isn't that a generous saving? This is the famous instant coffee with the window in the jar. Look through the window, and you'll see the rich coffee color that means real coffee flavor . . . full-bodied and deeply satisfying. If you haven't tasted Instant Chase & Sanborn lately, now's your chance to stock up for the weeks ahead, and save money on every jar. It's the big coffee bargain at your grocer's . . . Instant Chase & Sanborn . . . a wonderful coffee, a wonderful buy!



You Never Saw Such Eyes! Our little neighbor was starry-eyed with joy when our Budgie, Sir Isaac, flew to her finger and perched there happily. Children love to own a pet as amusing and absorbing as a Budgie — and it's so good for them! It's easy to keep Budgies healthy and gay with BROCK'S BUDGIE CONDITIONING FOOD — an important element in Brock's Natural Feeding Diet.

I'm Sure Every Dog Owner realizes that a complete nutritionally balanced diet is vital to a dog's continued good health and well-being. And, regular feedings of DR. BALLARD'S CHAMPION DOG FOOD assures your dog of all the body building vitamins, proteins and minerals he needs for sturdy growth, strong bones and a lustrous coat. And what's more, Dr. Ballard's Champion Dog Food is available in 3 flavours — Liver, Chicken and Regular — to add variety to your dog's daily diet. If you'll pardon the pun — dogs think they're simply DOGlicious! Yes, penny for penny, pound for pound, Dr. Ballard's is best for your pet . . . so better get some Dr. Ballard's Champion Dog Food, next time you shop!

Families Are Fun! Specially when you're all laughing together at your favorite TV star — or having the neighbors in for coffee. Nicest things to nibble at — or serve with pride to your guests — are the New McCORMICK'S CLUB CRACKERS. They've got a restful, delicately salted flavor that makes you ask for more . . . and they blend wonderfully with any kind of spread. You'll find some wonderful new ideas for delectable spreads in the booklet inside every package — "Hostess Hints". New ideas with cheese, eggs, tuna, ham, olives and so many tricky combinations that your family and your guests will really enjoy!

Sailor Wrecks Stolen Truck, Takes Auto

Three sailors appeared in city police court today and pleaded guilty to charges laid in connection with two separate stolen car escapades Thursday night.

Ross Buchanan, Harley Andrew and Kenneth Brown, all of HMCS Naden, were remanded to Wednesday for sentence.

Buchanan pleaded guilty to two charges of taking cars without the owners' consent and one of careless driving.

We was arrested at 11.30 p.m. after a truck he had taken from Broad Street earlier in the evening slammed into a car parked at Quadra and Broughton.

HEAVY DAMAGE

Force of the impact sent both vehicles on to the lawn of Pioneer Square. Damage to the cars was heavy.

Buchanan then ran from the Square toward

Windsor Park Troops—Scoutmasters Bill McFarlane invested as Scouts, Bob Alton, Michael Bell, Allen Ferguson, Jack Angus and Richard Robarts. "Leaping Wolf" badges were presented to them by Akela P. Sheffield. Chris Tuck was also invetsed as a Scout.

All of these boys have gone through the "B" Cub pack as Wolf Cubs.

Marigold Pack—Jack Carter was invested as a leader by district cubmaster Phyllis Sheffield on Wednesday evening at the regular meeting; he in turn invested Darrol Irwin, Ken Currey, Russell Nielson, Bruce Thomson, Allen McWilliams and Stephen Blackburn as Wolf Cubs. Parents of the boys attended.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he select to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Gale Davis, 13, Minden, La., for the question:

What Is the History of the Indian Mounds?

The Stone Age is part of the history of all mankind. It is named from the materials used to make weapons and tools. We live in the Iron Age, when iron and steel are used to make most of our heavy equipment. Our ancestors outgrew the Stone Age when they learned to smelt metals and entered the Bronze Age.

The American Indians, too, had a Stone Age in their history. It lasted to a much later date than did the Stone Age in Europe and parts of Asia. Perhaps this was because they lived in a rich land where the struggle to cope with Nature, to supply food and shelter, was not so hard. At any rate, many Indian tribes were just emerging from the Stone Age when Columbus and his men arrived from Europe. The visitors had long forgotten their own Stone Age and the customs and habits of the Indians seemed strange and primitive. The clash between the old and the new led to conflict and warfare. It was a long time before scholars from the New World studied the history of the Indians with the proper respect for the history of all mankind.

When they did, evidence of the recent Stone Age cropped up all over the place. Countless mounds in North America, especially along the Ohio and Mississippi, were investigated and gave up their secrets. It was these old earthworks that told how the Stone Age Indians had lived and thought, right up to a few hundred years before Columbus came.

The shapes of the mounds tell us something of what the First Americans thought and believed. Many of them are in the form of animals. The tribes worshipped Nature and held certain of her creatures sacred. Even a model of one of their favorite creatures could, they believed, keep them from harm. Perhaps this began by fearing certain animals, trying to keep on the good side of them and hoping that the sacred ones would befriend them if properly treated.

In Adams County, Ohio, the earth was heaped to form a serpent 1,348 feet long. The gaping jaws were made 75 feet wide and even after years of wind and weather the mound is still five feet high. In Wisconsin there is an eagle-shaped mound with a wingspread of 1,000 feet. There are countless mounds formed like panthers, some having tails 350 feet long.

The Indians tended to build their mounds near their villages. We can be sure they expected the models of sacred animals to protect their communities from harm and misfortune. There are signs that the Indians worshipped at their mounds. There are piles of stones believed to be primitive altars and charred stones tell tales of burnt sacrifices.

It was natural for the Indians to bury their dead in their sacred mounds. For even Stone Age men knew that life went on after death. Many, many tombs have been found in and near the mounds. A large grave near Nashville shows how the burial styles changed through the years. The lower, older tombs revealed neat piles of bleached bones. The higher, more recent tombs, revealed orderly skeletons, peacefully stretched to full length.

At Grave Creek, near Wheeling, West Virginia, is a huge dome covering two tombs. In the upper chamber reposed a skeleton adorned with beads, copper bracelets and plates of mica. In the lower chamber was a bead-adorned skeleton and one with ornaments. The Grave Creek tomb shows signs of being very recent, perhaps only a few hundred years old.

Roman Coins

WARRINGTON, Eng. (Reuter) — Siegfried Frochling, a plowman, turned up an earthenware jar containing 2,500 Roman coins in a field near here.

J. A. Rimmer, director of the Warrington Museum, said the coins were bronze and dated from about 275 AD. He added that they are worth about two shillings and sixpence (36 cents) apiece.

NYLON PRICES GOING UP SOON

MONTREAL (CP)—A price increase in women's nylon stockings is coming shortly, a trade spokesman said today. It should show up in the shops after Easter.

The increase may not affect some "nationally branded" lines but will range from 10 to 30 cents a dozen pairs wholesale elsewhere, he said.

SHE DOESN'T LIKE IKE

Mrs. Charles Wilson, wife of the U.S. secretary of defence, is much in the U.S. foreground today after rising to the defence of her husband against what she called the criticism of President Eisenhower. At press conference Ike said that Wilson made "a very . . . unwise statement, without stopping to think" when he mentioned "draft dodging" in connection with U.S. National Guard during the Korea war. Mrs. Wilson termed the president's comment "uncalled for," hints she's "browned off." (AP Wirephoto.)

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Canada decided today to withdraw as a sponsor of a U.S.-backed resolution aimed at breaking the Sinai desert deadlock, informed sources said.

These informants said Canada's decision was to allow itself freedom to move an amendment if it felt such action necessary in the course of debate in the General Assembly.

The United States was planning to introduce two resolutions.

The first would call for an Israeli withdrawal from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area. The second would permit the UN Emergency Force to be stationed in both areas.

Informed sources said Canada's attitude would be governed by the interpretation given to the latter resolution.

Hon. L. B. Pearson, leader of the Canadian delegation, had favored a strongly-worded resolution on the second point. This would have outlined with some precision how the UN Emergency Force would be deployed following an Israeli withdrawal.

Up until today, the Canadian and U.S. delegations had worked together on this resolution. Then the U.S. decided to sponsor a resolution of its own wording—much more general in its terms.

Canada was said to fear this watering down of the resolution had left it open to interpretations that would not be acceptable to Israel.

Informed sources said that if Canada finds itself in agreement with the interpretations given it during the General Assembly debate starting this afternoon, it will vote for the resolution.

If it does not, it will move an amendment aimed at securing a clearer definition of the functions of the UN force.

Earlier, a U.S. spokesman, conceding Canada had not been won over to the American draft, had expressed hope Canada might still decide to come in as a sponsor at the last moment.

U.S. MAY BAN TEST FLIGHTS OVER CITIES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Civil Aeronautics Administration today ordered immediate steps toward restricting of plane-flight testing to remote areas.

The action followed Thursday's mid-air collision near Van Nuys, Calif., when wreckage plunged into a school yard killing two students and injuring 78.

(See Page 10 for more photos, stories.)

1 Survives Active Pass Shipwreck

Two Nanaimo men drowned in Active Pass following the sinking at 9.30 a.m. today of the 40-foot fishboat Lady Billie.

They died when the skiff into which they leapt for safety was dragged under.

There was one survivor of the sinking, the owner-skipper of Lady Billie, Peter Kelly, 1140 Strathmore Street, Nanaimo.

He was saved by his father, Nicholas Kelly, 34 Robart Street, who was alone on his fishing craft, the Rose Lind.

Active Pass is on the main steamship route to Vancouver, about 40 miles from Victoria.

The Rose Lind was about a half mile behind the Lady Billie, near Georgina Light, in a fresh gale. Mr. Kelly Sr. told RCAF air-sea rescue that the Lady Billie "suddenly disappeared."

It is believed the father found his son clinging to wreckage and hauled him aboard.

CALL FOR HELP

Call for assistance was answered by four towboats—including the Victoria tug Island Despatcher—an RCAF motor launch, and an RCAF helicopter.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of relatives in England. They were both residents of Nanaimo after coming here from England a few months ago. Each was married, and each had a small child. Their wives and children are in Nanaimo.

The helicopter was recalled to base shortly after 12 noon, following an intensive, low-level search of the shoreline near the scene of the sinking.

WRECKAGE FOUND

The surface craft picked up a considerable quantity of wreckage, indicating the Lady Billie broke up in heavy seas.

Air-sea rescue officials believe the fishboat must have sprung its seams in the heavy going and gone down quickly.

Russia Charges U.S. Speeds A-War Plans

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia today accused the Western Powers of deliberately evading a solution to the problem of world disarmament.

The Soviet government charged in a statement distributed by Tass, that the United States is "speeding up preparations" for an atomic war.

The statement said the U.S. used not only evasion but delaying tactics within the United Nations to avoid a solution on the disarmament problem.

Foreign ministry spokesman Leonid F. Ilyichev, who called a press conference to announce the official statement, said that despite what he called Western provocations the Soviet Union "is and will continue its efforts towards solving the problem."

The Soviet statement said the new plan of the U.S. government for the establishment and expansion of military bases abroad, and for equipping them with atomic weapons, is "proof that the United States is speeding up preparations for an atomic war."

Death Toll at 13 In U.S. Floods

BARBOURVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The toll of death and destruction mounted today as new heavy rains fed one of the worst floods in the history of the Appalachian Mountains region and carried the threat into the south.

Thirteen were dead in Kentucky, West Virginia, and Virginia—first to be struck when flood water rolled out of the mountains four days ago.

Prices Here Kept At High Level, Parliament Told

OTTAWA (CP)—The B.C. Sugar Refining Co. today was accused before Parliament of monopolizing most of sugar sales in the west and setting prices at the highest possible level.

The allegations were contained in a 200-page report by the restrictive trade practices commission, tabled in Commons by Justice Minister Garson.

The report said it would be in the public's best interests to prevent extension of B.C. Sugar Refining Co. to Manitoba.

The three-man body recommended that the company be prevented from carrying through its merger with the Manitoba Sugar Co. Ltd. of Fort Garry, Man.

The amalgamation, the commission said, would increase the B.C. company's share of the Manitoba market to about 75 per cent from the present 25 per cent and destroy effective competition in that province.

Justice Minister Garson said the Company will be given an opportunity to consider its position before the federal government decides whether to take legal action.

(In Winnipeg, R. R. Hetherington, assistant manager of the Manitoba firm, said the merger of the Manitoba and the B.C. companies took place several months ago when the Vancouver company acquired 40 per cent of the shares of the Manitoba company and took an option on another 55 per cent. The B.C. company also has a management contract to operate the Manitoba firm.)

Vancouver Price Used as Yardstick

The report tabled in Commons today said the B.C. company has maintained its wholesale factory price of refined sugar at Vancouver about 35 cents for each 100 pounds higher than Montreal factory prices and has used this Vancouver price for setting the tab in other provinces.

Its pricing system had the effect of enabling its subsidiary, Canadian Sugar Factories Ltd., to sell sugar at the highest possible price throughout Alberta without regard to the actual shipping costs from Alberta factories.

(In Victoria, sugar prices were practically static until October with the wholesale price $8.62 per 100 pounds. Since late October, prices have risen—sometimes twice a month, and sometimes even once a week—to the present wholesale level of $11.27 per 100 pounds. Retail price increases during the same period were from 47 to 62 cents for five-pound sacks, and 93 cents to $1.23 for 10 pounds. The present price is said by veteran grocers to be the highest since the First World War.)

The B.C. company, during an inquiry last year, countered that its labor costs were higher than in the east. But the commission suggested the lack of foreign competition had something to do with the price level. It found the highest sugar prices in eastern Saskatchewan.

Tariff protection provided for Canadian refineries was sufficiently high to keep almost the entire Canadian market for Canadian producers. If the Manitoba Sugar Company was allowed to remain independent, there would be only one way in which western sugar prices could go under increased competition and that was down, the commission said.

The commission made no charge of collusion between B.C. sugar and eastern refineries.

Toronto Police Intensify Hunt For Woman Beater

TORONTO (CP) — Police methodically checked scores of automobiles in suburban North York today after a brutal attack on an attractive 35-year-old mother run down by the motorist whose advances she ignored.

Mrs. Phyllis Cumming suffered a broken spine and leg, internal injuries and multiple lacerations.

The assailant was linked to similar attacks on three women, one of them injured seriously, and an attempt to run down two boy scouts last evening.

PREMIER'S PURCHASE OMEN?

Sunday Ball Backers See New Ray of Hope

VANCOUVER (CP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett Thursday bought shares in the Vancouver Mounties Baseball Club and stock sales chairman Bill Clancey seems to think it was a good omen for the Sunday sport issue in Vancouver.

Mr. Bennett stopped in at the stock-selling offices of the Pacific coast League club and bought "shares"—more than one, at $25 each—to boost the club's current drive for funds.

Clancey said the premier wished the club luck in its campaign, adding: "You'd almost think that was a tipoff, wouldn't you."

Vancouver city council has asked the Legislature for permission to allow commercial Sunday afternoon sport here, the request being included in a list of proposed amendments to the city charter.

Tugboat Strike Hits New York, Great Lakes

NEW YORK (AP)—Crews of tugboats along the east coast and Great Lakes went on strike today in a contract dispute over improved wages and working conditions. Four thousand men walked out in the New York harbor area.

The strike held a threat to the movement of fuel oil, coal and some foods to the city.

63 MILES PER HOUR GUSTS LASH CITY

Mercury Dips to 20 Tonight; Partial Relief Due Sunday

Winter galloped back into Victoria today astride winds that reached 63 miles per hour in gusts at 7.30 a.m., and with temperatures down to 31 degrees at 1 p.m.

Weatherman William Mackie—who did not expect the cold air to hit Victoria for another 12 hours—said the thermometer started dropping from a comparatively warm 39 degrees Thursday at 10.30 p.m.

"We are predicting a minimum temperature tonight of from 20 to 25 degrees, and a maximum Saturday of 32," he said. "But with good fortune our skies will remain clear tonight and Saturday."

RELIEF SUNDAY

He predicted some relief Sunday or Monday. There are signs of milder air creeping across western Alaska today.

A summary of January's weather, prepared by Mr. Mackie, showed that although the last month was one of the coldest in 58 years of recording, its mean temperature of 33.8 degrees was well above the mean of 26.1 degrees recorded in January of 1950.

11.6 DEGREE LOW

It was still 5.3 degrees lower than the customary 39.1 degrees. Maximum temperature was 46.8 degrees Jan. 1, and the minimum was 16.8 degrees Jan. 25. Minimum at ground level was 11.6 degrees, also on Jan. 25.

Rainfall totaled 1.63 inches, or 2.29 below normal, and there were 12.4 inches of snow, or 6.8 more than normal. Total precipitation (with snow converted to rain) was 2.87 inches, or 1.61 inches under the average.

There were 13 days with precipitation, five less than normal, and 95.2 hours of sunshine, to make the month the fourth sunniest January on record. Others were in 1922, with 107.1 hours; 1930, with 138.1, and 1949, with 117.5.

2 Die in Stabbing; Policeman Critical

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) — A high school teacher and his wife were slain in their boarding house today and police said three of the four constables who overpowered a suspect were stabbed, one of them critically.

Mrs. Charlotte Castonguay was killed in her bedroom, and her husband, Gerard, wounded so severely that he died after staggering across the street to the home of a sister-in-law.

Constable Gino Pollesel was in critical condition in hospital, his stomach slashed by the six-inch blade of a knife swung upward by a crouching man who opened the rooming house door at the policeman's knock.

Constable Richard Dixon was stabbed in the thigh by a vicious upward swing described as "commando-like." The third officer, Constable Robert Young, was wounded in the hand.

The knife wielder was finally overpowered.

Dies in Oakalla

VANCOUVER (CP) — John Petrie, 45, sentenced to 14 years for conspiracy to traffic in drugs, died of a heart attack in Oakalla Prison Farm Thursday night.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

O heavenly Father, I pray today that this may not be just another day of monotonous routine in which I seek only to get through its hours. Free me from the curse of loneliness, which holds me back from fellowship with friends; through Christ, Amen.

CHEK Transmitter Move Aim of 150

Salt Spring Island Site Asked At Meeting on Interference Issue

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

A meeting that early threatened to erupt into fireworks fizzled out Friday night, and about 150 persons settled for a petition to be started to ask the CBC to look into and then eliminate interference set up by local television station.

The meeting was sponsored by the Saanich Voters' Association at the instigation of the TV Interference Committee, a group of Saanich residents. It was held in the Lake Hill Women's Institute Hall.

Prime concern of the majority of speakers and those present was that David M. Armstrong, CHEK-TV president, should, at the earliest possible moment, have the station's transmitter, now located at Epsom Drive, Saanich, moved to Salt Spring Island where "it would interfere with no one."

However, James J. Proudfoot, legal adviser to Mr. Armstrong, arose to read two telegrams to the meeting.

The first, addressed to F. C. Nixon, controller of telecommunications, department of transport, Ottawa, sought permission for CHEK-TV to move its transmitter to Mount Bruce on Salt Spring Island.

The second, from Mr. Nixon to Mr. Armstrong, stated, in part: "Regret department cannot consider granting special permission to move CHEK-TV transmitter site to Mount Bruce . . . because this location would not be in accordance with the technical rule used in the application of the government television coverage policy . . ."

After two panel speakers, W. R. Margetts and E. W. Wilkinson, had stated their case against the local station, Mr. Armstrong started reading a prepared statement.

He had reached only the second paragraph—"CHEK-TV is providing viewers with many of the finest programs available in the U.S. and Canada"—when he was interrupted by boos and catcalls by a small but noisy minority.

Armstrong Told to 'Sit Down'

"Do you want to hear this?" Mr. Armstrong asked, beginning to gather up his papers, "or will I sit down?"

"Sit down," a few shouted.

Panel moderator Dr. J. M. Thomas intervened.

"I would suggest," he said, "that we ask Mr. Armstrong to please come back and continue and surely those who have voiced their protest just now will remain silent until he is through."

After that, the speaker continued in a comparative calm to outline the objectives of CHEK-TV.

He promised: "The finest Hollywood movies . . . will be seen on CHEK-TV right in the heart of the evening. Local live amateur talent shows, a hunting and fishing program, a live local panel quiz show, and an audience-participation show should be on the air in the next few weeks."

He then pointed out that CHEK-TV "actively supports all of the important medical and community service drives as part of its service to the community" and, with the completion of the cross-Canada microwave link next year, CHEK-TV will carry many of the top U.S. and Canadian network shows on a live basis.

He mentioned the Friday night fights, the World Series, Grey Cup, All-Star game, U.S. Bowl games.

Mr. Armstrong concluded by listing the channels open to this area.

"All the channels available have now been taken or spoken for," he said, "and if we hadn't moved when we did Victoria now wouldn't have a television station at all."

'We're Not Here to Apologize'

In explaining CHEK-TV's request to the Department of Transport for change of transmitter site, Mr. Proudfoot told the meeting:

"We did not come here to apologize for CHEK-TV. We believe we are doing very well."

"Yes," a voice called from the floor, "by ramming it down our throats."

"Maybe the gentleman would like to come up and say a few words," Mr. Proudfoot suggested.

But no one stepped forward.

E. W. Langston, representing the TV interference committee, pointed out that set-owners in the Greater Victoria area had invested some $10,000,000 in sets and antennas as against the local station's $250,000 investment.

Not only was CHEK-TV a "nuisance," he said, but it was having a definitely adverse effect upon real estate values in Saanich. He concluded by adjuring the meeting "to get behind CHEK-TV and help it get its transmitter moved by starting a petition to Ottawa."

Another committee speaker, R. Baird, also spoke about the local station having an adverse effect upon Saanich real estate.

When questioned by various members from the floor, Roy Farrett, local television technician, said a transmitter located on Salt Spring Island would not set up interference for anyone in the Victoria area.

The meeting concluded with the request for volunteers to circulate petitions throughout the Greater Victoria area asking that the transmitter site be changed. Exact wording of the petition was still to be worked out.

PLEAD GUILTY, APOLOGIZE

Hungary Expels Youthful U.K. 'Spies'

LONDON (Reuters) — The Hungarian government has informed Britain that four young Britons held in Hungary on spying charges will be expelled from the country Saturday, a British foreign office spokesman said today.

The four students are Miss Judith Cripps, 19-year-old granddaughter of the late Sir Stafford Cripps; Roger Cooper, 21; Basil Lord, 25, and his brother, Christopher, 21.

The spokesman said Hungarian Ambassador Janos Katona told British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore this afternoon that the four have "pleaded guilty and apologized."

The four were accused of carrying forged passes, trying to make contact with members of the revolutionary committee in Budapest and trying to gather information about Russian and Hungarian troops.

'Infinite Kindness of People'

WHEN IRA DILWORTH was convalescing from a serious illness a few years ago, I asked him if his enforced inactivity had changed his outlook on life. He told me his views had been modified. With nothing to do but rest and think, he had gained a sharper appreciation for "the infinite kindness of people."

Stott

It's a point you don't often give your mind to. Yet when misfortune strikes close, you catch the significance of Ira Dilworth's words. You find the comfort of kindness from others, the touch of sympathy expressed in countless ways.

TAKEN FOR GRANTED

It's normal, I guess, to overlook "the infinite kindness of people." If you like them, you take it for granted. The show of friendliness, the shared happiness, the favor without thought of recompense are all part of the business of living together—the kind of thing you give without thought and accept the same way from those joined in affection.

You don't expect them from casual acquaintances or relative strangers. And probably because you receive so much kindness in an off-hand way, your reaction to it isn't impressive.

You're more apt to notice the discourtesies than the courtesies. You feel the rough edges acutely. The smooth don't snag the fabric of your consciouness.

If, as they say in the north of England, too many people deal you a thick un, you respond actively enough and develop a retaliatory character. That, I think, is what happened some where along the line to John Dean, whose gravestone is probably the most remarkable piece of inscribed granite in this region. "It's a rotten world," the epitaph reads.

You look at it, smile cynically and then feel a little sorry for a man who passed through life to reach that final philosophy. Sure there are lots of things wrong with this world. But there's quite a lot that shines in it, too, if you look.

Call me Pollyanna if you like, but I'm reaching the point where I think there are few virtues greater than compassion. And I think, too, that it is expressed so often that it escapes attention.

When distress is your neighbor, you notice these things. Your sight is clearer. You see in sharper outline what somebody called "those little unremembered acts."

When you're in trouble, you're sensitive to the atmosphere around you. The efforts of people to help mean more.

REMINDER

Perhaps that is one of the consolations of a private grief. It reminds you that there is a lot to be grateful for in the consideration shown by others.

You begin to achieve a warmer appreciation for the human family. There's a great deal to be admired in it. And not in the field of big accomplishment so much as in the simple display of that "infinite kindness" Ira Dilworth and so many people have learned to recognize when some affliction has given them time for thought and, perhaps, wisdom.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Gallstones

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Many persons suffering from gallstones want to know why the surgeon insists on removing the gallbladder as well as the stones. The reason is that it was discovered years ago that if only the stones are removed, the symptoms will soon return in half of the cases. Then another operation may have to be performed. The trouble lies not so much in the gallstones as in the inflammation in the wall of the gallbladder.

Alvarez

Many persons say, "The other day, during a routine examination, the X-ray man discovered that I have several large gallstones. They never bothered me, but now my surgeon wonders if he ought to operate on me right away. What do you think?" Forty years ago I used to do what I had been taught to do, and I told persons with gallstones that they had better have them out. But gradually, as the years passed, and I saw so many hundreds of cases in which the gallstones, long present, had never produced any distress of any kind, and I saw at autopsies the bodies of so many hundreds of persons in whom "silent" gallstones were found incidentally, that I lost my enthusiasm for ordering the immediate removal of the gallbladder. Then my old friend, Dr. John Blackford, of Seattle, reported that for 25 years he had kept in touch with a few hundred persons who had had gallstones, and half of them had never had any trouble from them.

As a result, I now never ask a woman to part with her gallstones unless they are producing attacks of severe colicky pain, or are causing much indigestion, gas, abdominal discomfort or severe constipation. I tell her of the small risks that she will run, and then I let her decide what she prefers to do.

Years ago I was influenced by the statement of some authorities that gallstones commonly produce cancer of the gallbladder, but a while ago I stopped worrying about this possibility when I read that, in a large series of cases of persons with gallstones who long ago had been insured by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., it had been found that their final mortality rate had been only about 1 per cent higher than that for persons without gallbladder trouble. Obviously, then, the danger of getting cancer of the gallbladder, when one has stones, is mighty small.

DIABETICS AND CANDY

Diabetic persons, and especially those who are taking insulin, often want to know if they can ever take sugar or sweets. Yes; many a diabetic could take a certain amount of sugar and sweets if he were taking enough insulin to help him handle the sugar.

There are two schools of thought in the treatment of diabetes; some physicians prefer that a diabetic go as far as he can in the control of his disease by cutting down on the use of sugar, starches and sweets. Then, if he cannot control the situation in this way, he can take enough insulin to control it. Other experts feel that it is permissible, or even better, to let a diabetic eat fairly normally and then give him enough insulin to keep his blood sugar down.

There are two important points in the handling of diabetes; one is that the diabetic ought to stay thin. If he allows himself to get stout, he is likely to get arteriosclerosis, and he is likely to lose his life because of that. Also, it is extremely important that the diabetic live very sensibly and stick to his diet every day of his life. Then he is likely to keep his sight, to keep good arteries, and to live into his seventies. It is the man who occasionally goes on a binge and eats a couple of pounds of candy who is likely someday to lose some of his vision and to get into serious trouble.

Every person who has a diabetic ancestry ought to see to it that he never allows himself to get stout—even if he is not diabetic himself. If he stays thin, he has an immensely better chance of not getting diabetes.

SPOTS BEFORE THE EYES

Many worrisome persons wonder why, when they look at the sky, they can see dots and little strings floating about. Most of these are little imperfections in the tears that bathe the front of the eye, while others are due to imperfections in the fluid which lies between the front surface of the lens of the eye and the back of the cornea (the window of the eye). Such spots should never worry anyone.

The only spot that might worry a person would be one that could be seen always in the same place, or that could be seen with one eye when the other eye is covered with the hand. If, after middle age, such a spot shows up suddenly, the person should go and see an ophthalmologist. Usually, nothing can be done about it, but it is well to know what has happened.

SYNOPSIS—A cold Arctic air mass now covers all of the province. Northeast winds blowing out of the Fraser Canyon and across southern Georgia Strait at times reached 60 miles per hour with the first rush of the cold air across the south coast.

In the southern interior light snow is falling from a weak disturbance south of the Arctic air. This disturbance will drift slowly southeastward so that there will be gradual clearing in this region during the day.

In other areas of B.C. the weather is clear and cold.

FIXED DATES FOR HOLIDAYS

OTTAWA (CP) — The Queen's birthday and Thanksgiving Day, only holidays fixed each year by government proclamation, have been made permanent dates on the Canadian calendar.

State Secretary Pinard announced them Thursday: the sovereign's birthday to coincide with Victoria Day, the Monday preceding May 25, and Thanksgiving Day to be the second Monday of October.

Unified Mainland Police Plan Revived

VANCOUVER (CP) — Plans for a metropolitan Vancouver police force—gathering dust on municipal shelves for 26 years — are being taken down and given an airing.

But despite enthusiastic support from a number of Vancouver's municipal neighbors, a cross-section of civic leaders feel that now is not the time. The bugaboo is the cost.

The reeve in North Vancouver district says it "would be a very good idea" while the West Vancouver reeve calls a single police force for the whole Vancouver area a "logical step."

The reeve of Surrey says it will "definitely come in time" while New Westminster's mayor explains that he's "always ready to listen to a metropolitan policing plan" and the Delta reeve said the proposal "must be carefully studied."

There is considerable hedging, though, on putting the plan into action.

With the exception of New Westminster, which has its own force, all the smaller municipalities in the greater Vancouver area are served by the RCMP and all seem more than happy with RCMP service despite a sharp rise in costs.

The plan was revived this week when Burnaby municipal council voted to write to Vancouver city council and ask for its views on a joint Vancouver-Burnaby police force.

Mayor Fred Hume of Vancouver has pledged his support for a joint force with Burnaby, which is separated from Vancouver's east end only by imagination.

Burnaby's new spark of interest follows an announcement that the RCMP will increase its policing charge to 75 per cent of actual costs from 40 per cent next June 1.

The council's move came despite opposition from Reeve Charles MacSorley, who called it "harebrained."

Israelis Return Egyptian Officers

RAFFA, Sinai Desert (Reuters) —Israel Thursday handed back to Egypt 49 officers captured during the Sinai campaign last fall. Five civilians, including two women doctors, also were returned.

Canadians and other members of the United Nations Emergency Force witnessed the handover, part of a program to return 5,419 prisoners of war.

About 200 prisoners at Sharm el Sheik, at Sinai's southern tip, will be returned to Egypt next week.

16,806 Lost Driver's Licences In 1956, 3,000 More Than '55

In in effort to cut the death toll on B.C. highways, the motor vehicle branch stepped up the number of licence suspensions in 1956 to 16,806 — 3,000 more than the year before — motor vehicles superintendent George Lindsay said today.

Mr. Lindsay said magistrates were responsible for the suspension of 1,738 licences; 3,163 drivers failed in their re-examinations; 9,896 failed to file financial responsibility, and 2,009 drivers were suspended.

Total suspensions numbered 16,806 compared with 13,525 in 1955.

Most of the drivers involved in fatal accidents last year were repeaters—those with previous convictions or bad-accident records.

Forest Market Bleak, Official Warns Labor

VANCOUVER (CP) — B. M. Hoffmeister, chairman of the board of Macmillan and Bloedel Ltd., said Wednesday the outlook for marketing forest products is not good and both sides must remember this when labor negotiations begin in a few weeks.

The industry is in a critical period, said Mr. Hoffmeister, during which every effort must be made to keep costs down. British Columbia was an exporting province and there was danger of the industry pricing itself out of major markets. This would result in economic disaster to the industry and unemployment.

Atom-Powered Battery Will Last Five Years

NEW YORK (AP)—Development of a tiny atomic-powered battery that will yield low-powered electricity for as long as five years was announced Tuesday by Elgin National Watch Co. and Walter Kidde Nuclear Laboratories Inc.

The cell, about the size of a cough drop, is the result of five years of development work, the companies said, and should prove useful in miniature radios, hearing aids and watches. It has only limited commercial use now because of the cost.

Bank Savings Show Increase

OTTAWA (CP)—Savings on deposits in Canada's chartered banks at Dec. 31 last amounted to $6,007,000,000 against $5,974,000,000 at Nov. 30 and $5,633,000,000 at Dec. 31, 1955, the chartered bank statement for December showed Thursday.

Call and short loans in Canada amounted to $226,000,000 at Dec. 31 against $189,000,000 at Nov. 30 and $260,000,000 at Dec. 31, 1955.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Prices Level Off After Two Advances

Profit-taking in oils sections and discouraging news about copper today levelled off prices on the Toronto Stock Exchange following two sessions of advancements.

International Nickel's reductions Thursday by 2¼ cents a pound in the price of domestic copper sent stocks downward in almost a solid line. The oils, which supplied leadership to the rise in the previous sessions, were taken back by investors' selling profits.

Steels and coppers took losses as a slow decline deepened late today on the New York exchange. Prices were at their worst of the day in late trading. Steels were under mild selling pressure.

AT TORONTO Trans Mountain Pipe Line went against the trend, adding a point at 111 as its shareholders awaited the proposed five-for-one split in common stock. Other than that issue, there were few bright spots in industrials. Losses ranged to two points.

Western oil price changes were nearly all confined to 10 cents or less. Bailey Selburn gave up ⅞ at 17½. There were few gains in the section.

AT NEW YORK Bethlehem Steel extended earlier losses to about two points, reversing the rising trend shown on the Pacific Coast Thursday after the dividend announcement. U.S. Steel was off close to a point.

Rising Canadian stocks included Dome Mines, up ¼. Going down were International Nickel, off 2¼, Distillers-Seagrams ¾, Aluminum Ltd. ⅝, Canadian Pacific ⅜, Hudson Bay Mining ⅛ and McIntyre ⅛.

On the American Stock Exchange gaining Canadian stocks included Preston East Dome, up ¼, Shawinigan ⅛, Molybdenite ⅛, and Sapphire Petroleums 1/16. Brazilian Traction dropped ⅛.

AT MONTREAL the Canadian stock exchange went lower today as some industrial losses ran to two points in listless trading.

AT LONDON the demand continued on the stock market today, where a further rise in British funds was the feature.

Dominion and colonial issues were steady though foreign issues were easier where changed.

Industrials had a firm undertone but appeared easier. Engineering issues made a good showing but steels were dull. Leading tobaccos eased. Newspapers improved, textiles showed little change and shipping firmed. Electricals were irregular.

Gold shares opened lower but improved in later trading. Oils started off well but prices later wavered. Canadian Eagle firmed. Rubbers were neglected though teas continued to improve.

AT VANCOUVER prices varied on a moderate market. Fort St. John went to $6.15 on a sale of 2,000. Pacific Nickel sold 7,500 at 76.

Mortgage Money for Homes Not Available, Says Banker

VANCOUVER (CP) — James Muir, president of the Royal Bank of Canada, said Thursday money is not available for new home mortgages.

And unless something unforeseen happens, it won't be available for a long time, Mr. Muir said.

"The sensible thing for a man to do today is save," he added in an interview. "We have to save to fight inflation."

The bank president, here on a routine visit to west coast branches, said money being poured into capital development is creating "tremendous purchasing power" without a compensating gain in production of goods. Until the two come into balance, inflation would continue.

Housing loans have been reduced to a trickle, Mr. Muir said.

"If the Bank of Canada had not instituted a more restrictive credit policy in 1955, beyond any doubt inflation would be more rampant than it is today."

INCO's $65 Million Contract Highest in Manitoba History

WINNIPEG (CP) — International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., today announced the signing of a $65,000,000 contract — largest in Manitoba's history—with the Foundation Company of Canada, for construction work at Moak Lake, 400 miles north of here.

J. C. Parlee, manager of INCO's newly-created Manitoba division, made the announcement from his office in Copper Cliff, Ont. He said the main work to be done under the contract will be construction of two mine surface plants, a mill smelter and service buildings. Work will start immediately, he said.

The contract is the third to be awarded on the $175,000,000 nickel mining project.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prices generally showed irregularity today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

The easier tone reflected declines in United States markets, which had been affected by possible interruption of shipping due to a tugboat strike in U.S. ports. Foreign demand was quieter.

Some action in flax was reported, with buying indicating the development of possibility of overseas business. There were some selling by American interests. Prices were lower.

Rye prices were off in sympathy with U.S. trends. Offerings increased.

Oats and barley showed some resistance to downward trends and the commercial demand was mostly of a domestic nature.

Lakehead prices for class two, IWA and domestic wheat were all down one-eighth cent.

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains dropped in an active market today to new low levels in the current downward movement on the board of trade.

Losses at one time were steep but by the finish there was some recovery, engineered partly by short covering prior to the weekend.

Wheat sold at lows since October while most corn futures hit seasonal lows. Soybeans held steady in the face of weakness everywhere else.

VICTORIA, B.C., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1957

Bob Whyte (right), former athletic star and member of the Victoria YMCA for 52 years, and Archie McKinnon happily admire life membership presented to Whyte during annual YMCA meeting Thursday night.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP FOR RESPECTED VICTORIAN

'Y' Honors Veteran Sportsman

By DOUG PEDEN
Times Sports Reporter

Bob Whyte, one of Victoria's greatest and most respected athletes during his playing days, was honored during the annual general meeting of the Victoria YMCA Thursday night.

Whyte, who possessed a rare combination of outstanding ability and true sportsmanship, was presented with a life membership in the "Y" by president Denis Humphries.

The award was given for Bob's many years of work to help younger Victorians.

Another life membership was presented to Harold E. Fryer, a member of the association in Britain and Canada since 1906.

Becoming a member of the YMCA at 16, when he was given a membership by his brother Ed, Bob Whyte has remained with the association for 52 years.

It was at the YMCA that he started soccer and basketball careers that continued into the early 1930s. He played goal for the "Y" team and later moved to the Victoria West club that dominated the soccer scene for many years, playing both goal and fullback.

Although noted mainly for his team efforts, Whyte was also a scoring threat on the basketball court. He was probably the greatest dribbler ever developed in the city and an artist at setting up scoring plays for his teammates.

Since ending his playing career, Mr. Whyte has continued to coach young basketball players. His teams have always absorbed much of his outlook on sport and placed sportsmanship ahead of winning.

B.C. CHAMPS

He left the YMCA basketball club to join the First Presbyterian Church team late in his career and helped the team to the provincial championship.

Archie McKinnon, YMCA physical director, paid tribute to Mr. Whyte:

"Bob has been the city's most self-effacing and unassuming influence for good over a period of years," said McKinnon. "I have played with and against him and he has always been one of my heroes. Bob was a rugged athlete, but when he took a hard knock his only retaliation was a smile."

"He did not talk about fair play in sports and everyday life," McKinnon said, "he showed you by his examples of sportsmanship."

MONTE ROBERTS

Each year, for the past several years, I have complained about May 24.

And each year, for the same past several years, my complaints have been to no avail.

Working on the theory I have previously left my complaints to too late a date, I am going to do my May 24 complaining early this year.

Right now, in fact.

The reason I complain about May 24 is, it never falls on May 24.

Last year for instance, May 24 fell on May 21.

This may seem a matter of small importance to you, but it means a great deal to me.

May 24 happens to be the date of my birth (and I will not tell you how many decades ago this occurred).

So, when the powers that be got around to making May 24 fall on May 21, they threw me into a state of utter confusion, caused me to bite my nails, and wander aimlessly about, bumping into people and uttering low moans.

Last year, when May 24 fell on May 21, I could not decide whether this made me three days older, three days younger, or perhaps neither older, younger, or at all.

If you follow me.

This year, it is even worse.

There was a piece in the paper the other day, announcing that May 24 would be held from May 17 to May 20, inclusive.

The paper said: "Victoria Day celebrations will begin on Friday, May 17, this year and extend through to Monday, May 20, the official holiday."

You can imagine what this is going to do to me, whose birthday is May 24.

I will be having a birthday on May 17, May 18, May 19, May 20 and May 24.

I am old enough as it is, without aging five years in less than a week.

Let us arise in protest before it is too late.

Let us get up a petition to restore May 24 to the proper date.

In other words, let us have May 24 fall on May 24.

Or is this too revolutionary?

TOPICS OF THE DAY

New snow fell overnight at Duncan, Nanaimo and on the Alberni Summit, according to the provincial road report. Icy sections are common on all main roads, but sanding is under way where necessary.

A special meeting of city council will be held Feb. 8, Mayor Percy Scurrah said today.

The meeting would normally be held Feb. 14 but was moved ahead to permit council to formulate a request to the B.C. government in time for consideration at the spring session of the Legislature.

Council will ask permission to use either the special powers of the 1919 City of Victoria Act, or the new Municipal Act, whichever is more beneficial, in planning either for business tax or revision of present trade licence schedules.

Esquimalt's building program got off to a slow start this year with 11 permits issued in January to an estimated value of $45,588.

In January of 1956, 20 permits were issued covering $242,000 in construction. The figure included a $122,000 plate shop at Yarrows and $14,000 oil tank installed by Imperial Oil.

Court Tests TV Antenna Permit Need

4 Charges Against Victoria Company

A test of city legislation requiring a permit for erection of television antenna opened in police court today.

Edward Drew Television Ltd., 745 View, is contesting a charge of failing to obtain a building permit on the grounds that the city by-law, enacted in 1938, does not cover television aerials.

The firm is faced by four charges.

The case heard in court today deals with the erection of an antenna at the home of Edward Anderson at 1464 Begbie.

The job of putting up the aerial was given to the firm by Mc & Mc Ltd., which sold Mr. Anderson his television set.

DOESN'T APPLY

Defence counsel L. F. Lindholm contended that the by-law was "clearly inapplicable" to TV antenna.

Prosecutor Alan Bigelow countered that TV antenna would come within the meaning of "wireless masts and radio poles" defined in the by-law.

Magistrate H. C. Hall said the definition of the word "structure" was a key factor in the case.

TRIAL ADJOURNED

"There is quite a problem here," Magistrate Hall said.

He adjourned the trial until next Friday for judgment.

The magistrate said he will study the provincial Municipal Act for further guidance.

The city has been requiring all contractors or house owners to secure a permit for erecting a TV antenna. The average cost is $1.25.

Mr. Lindholm argued that the by-law "must be construed strictly."

He pointed out that there are no regulations laid down governing installation of an antenna, while other building requirements are spelled out in detail.

Veteran Forester Addresses Parley

Dean of the B.C. Registered Foresters' Association, F. D. Mulholland, 77 Beach Drive, will address the annual dinner meeting of the association tonight at 7 in the Empress Hotel.

He will speak of development of the forester from earliest times, with predictions concerning the future of the occupation.

The association meeting started this afternoon with an address by the president, Ken McCannel.

YMCA Re-Elects President

Denis Humphries was returned for another term as president of the YMCA, and the Hon. R. W. Mayhew was re-elected honorary president at a meeting Thursday.

Also returned to office were Arthur H. Stott, first vice-president; George H. Wheator, second vice-president; Donald Davis, treasurer, and Alan Macfarlane, past-president. Douglas Abbott was named recording secretary.

The meeting re-elected Bruce Humber, Ray Parfitt, Alan Macfarlane, Lawrence J. Wallace, Robert T. Wallace, Albert Coomber, Courtney Haddock and William Gilmour to the board of directors.

Added to the board were George Bredner, Nigel Tomlin, Donald E. Smith, Justin Harbord and Fred Hawes.

'Panic-Frozen' Driver Fined For Hit-Run

A motorist who admitted he drove away after knocking a 12-year-old girl from her bicycle because he "froze with panic," was fined a total of $85 in city police court today.

Evan Settle, 2735 Belmont, said he was "sorry afterwards" that he had not stopped. He admitted, however, he had not reported the accident to police.

He was fined $35 or five days for careless driving and $50 or 10 days for failing to remain at the scene of the accident.

The girl, Vera Hulford, 2808 Rock Bay, was unhurt when she fell off the bicycle into a puddle on the road.

The accident occurred at Bridge and Hillside Jan. 4.

Witnesses said he turned out his headlights as he drove away.

Saanichton Fair Wins Financial Recognition

Class B Rating Means Up to $4,000 Grants

Annual exhibition of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society, better known as the "Saanichton Fair," has won its fight for Class B rating, it was announced today.

The change in status means that more than $4,000 in government grants, over and above the present allowance from the provincial government, will be available for the presentation of the fair each year.

To win this classification, observed by both the federal and provincial agriculture departments, it had to pay out at least $3,000 in prize money for agricultural classes alone for three consecutive years.

This was done in 1954, 1955 and 1956, and as a result Albert Doney, society president, has received word of the "promotion."

FIX GROUNDS

The federal government recognizes only Class A and Class B fairs, paying up to $5,000 annually toward the first, and up to $2,500 for the second. Money must be used for maintenance of buildings and grounds, judges' fees, and 4-H work, and the government is not bound to pay the full sum.

The provincial agriculture department also pays $2,500 toward a Class B fair, a marked increase over the 25 per cent of the prize money it offers the average fall fair.

There are no actual Class A fairs in B.C., the Pacific National Exhibition being a show outside of the system, and the Saanichton Fair will be the fifth Class B fair to operate in B.C. Others are at Armstrong, Duncan, Chilliwack and Cloverdale.

The forthcoming fair, to be held at the Saanichton agricultural grounds on the Labor Day weekend, will be the 89th staged by the society. It boasts the longest record of continuous operation of any fair west of the Great Lakes.

EARLY START

Mr. Doney said today that a program of improvements will be carried out at the fair grounds as soon as weather moderates.

"We put up two new buildings last year, and the first thing we will do is finish them off," he said. "We also will expand the program, and will have classes for three additional 4-H clubs."

Excavations will take place under the large hall to make room for an office and other facilities, and improvements will be made in the water system.

Mr. Doney was elected in November to his fifth consecutive term as president of the society. Membership now numbers about 250.

Church Damage Puzzles Cleric

By TONY DICKASON

Juvenile delinquency seems to rise frequently in the Fernwood-Gladstone area and concentrate on the neighborhood church, Emmanuel Baptist.

Latest senseless episode involves three district boys aged 13, 11 and 10, who broke into the church Thursday and went on a spree of destruction and outright sacrilege. One of the boys was a new pupil of the Sunday school.

The pastor, Rev. James E. Smith, soft-spoken 41-year-old minister who has had Emmanuel Baptist six years, today put a worried hand to his head and tried to answer "why?"

"This is a tough area for kids going wrong, and that's why we try and do so much youth work. But so few of the parents have any real church connections. The appeal must be to the parents, but you just can't seem to get them to think at all. It makes one wonder. They can't even seem to understand themselves what their youngsters are doing."

The minister, who recently conducted a five-week boys' work survey throughout Western Canada for the Baptist Union, has had little but trouble with neighborhood boys.

Looked Like Carnival Aftermath

"We have a bill for broken glass every month," he said. Last fall $30 worth of windows were broken. When the new $50,000 Sunday school hall was being built one and a half years ago, cement blocks were knocked down; paint strewn around; scaffolding nuts removed to the danger of workmen.

The juvenile trio who perpetrated the latest church binge have been the only delinquents caught so far.

There will be no prosecution.

"It is the constructive angle we take on such things," said the pastor.

The interior of the 75-year-old church today looked like a carnival aftermath. Toilet tissue hung from the gallery and a broken roll dropped from the organ. Offering envelopes, hundreds, were scattered along aisles. The pulpit Bible, which has been with the church since 1922—gift of a parish family—was hurled from the pulpit into the organ loft, after page after page had been carefully glued with church covenant texts.

Christmas decorations were taken from containers and broken everywhere. Hymn books were strewn about. A match was struck on a piano—leaving a glaring streak of damage—and a piece of music burned on the floor.

All but two rooms in the church were ransacked in one way or another.

Mr. Smith's office was entered, but was not damaged, due, said the pastor, to the one-shot Sunday school pupil who said "I don't think we should wreck anything here."

There was no real trouble apprehending the boys. They were seen running from the church by Mrs. Lillian Given, who had arrived for a weekly clean-up. She found she needed real help.

Parents of the offending kids came down to see the damage and help clean up as best they could.

The boys were "playing hookey" from nearby George Jay School.

They Weren't Sorry About Damage

Talking with the lads, Mr. Smith was upset. Said he: "They seemed to be sorry they were caught, but not sorry for what they did."

There is a great deal of work done with youth at Emmanuel. Scouts number 18; Cubs, 30; a teenage program is held each Saturday night; there are two girls' clubs.

Church membership is 200 persons.

But even when youth meetings are being held in the church, there are always a group of kids whooping and hollering around outside.

"We can't seem to get these into the church organizations," said Mr. Smith

In his survey of boys' work in the West appear these two lines which sum up the situation:

"I have a boy and I want him to know
We reap in life just what we sow."

Next Sunday's evening sermon subject at Emmanuel is: "We Can All Live Together."

This would seem a little difficult to date in the Fernwood-Gladstone area.

SHAWN CHAPIN

Little Girl Gets Medal For Bravery

Girl Guide medal for life-saving was to be presented this afternoon to nine-year-old Shawn Chapin who rescued a young boy from drowning off Macaulay Point last Thanksgiving.

Daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. W. L. Chapin, 971 Clent, Shawn pulled to shore Roger Gaetzman, two, when he waded beyond his depth.

She carried the unconscious child to shore and immediately applied artificial respiration learned from a TV program on water rescue.

In a letter from Mary T. Nesbitt, chief commissioner of the Girl Guides, Shawn is commended for the "splendid way" in which she carried out her Brownie training.

Brownie with the Work Point pack, Shawn was to receive the blue and white ribboned medal from Mrs. F. W. Midgley, Girl Guides area commissioner.

The ceremony was planned for 4.30 p.m. at Work Point Barracks.

LETTERS TO DRIVERS

(In this column the Times presents letters from and to drivers about careless, discourteous or reckless infractions of driving and pedestrian rules. When you see one, just send in the place, date and time, and what happened. DON'T give the number of the offending vehicle. Only initials of complainants will be used.)

TODAY'S BEEFS

Last Sunday at 10.45 a.m. I was driving north on Cook Street going through the intersection at Yates with the green light when an elderly driver in a green Consul came down Yates, and turned right on the red light without looking at the line of traffic going through the intersection. To avoid crashing into him I had to swerve into the pile of snow in the middle of the road. Luckily it wasn't icy or there would have been at least a three-car crack-up.

P. K.

About 8.25 a.m. Thursday on Shelbourne near Derby, a yellow panel truck bearing the name of a well-known wholesale automobile equipment company pulled out and passed a line of three cars which were already travelling at just over 30 mph. His estimated speed, close to 50 mph. The car ahead of mine was just easing over to pass a boy on a bicycle, and as a result was almost sideswiped.

W. G. F.

I was coming down Courtney Street at 2 p.m. Thursday when I saw a Buick and an Oldsmobile. The road was very narrow because of the ditches on either side of the road. The two drivers were facing each other. The driver in the Oldsmobile told the man in the Buick to back up. The Buick driver would not. So the driver in the Olds was not going to back up. They were there for three or four minutes cursing each other. Finally the driver in the Olds backed up, then he went forward and passed the Buick. It looks could kill I am sure both of them would have died an awful death. Pretty childish, what say?

ASK The TIMES

Q. Will you inform me as to how the Pacific Great Eastern Railway got its name? J. E. M.

A. A substantial part of the original investment in the system was provided by interests identified with the Great Eastern Railway in England, and the Great Eastern part of the name was adopted as a gesture of courtesy to them, the word Pacific being added to identify it with this part of Canada.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Want to Come A-Browsing 'Round Fun Foods Shelves?

By PENNY SAVER

As I sit here munching a rather uninteresting sandwich my thoughts turn to foods that one doesn't usually find in packed lunches, but at little parties, dinners, cocktails and such. I can see little bristling sardines in sherry wine. They come in 29-cent tins. On crackers, they're wonderful. Here's something bordering on the exotic—frogs legs a la Newberg! A tin is yours for $2.50. Perhaps your tastes run to smoked frogs legs, these, imported from Japan, are $2.05 a tin. On order in town are some more delicacies, though considered a little unusual by western tastes, delicacies nevertheless. These are chocolate-coated ants and French fried grasshoppers. I'm serious! The last shipment went like hotcakes, so they've ordered more. They both sell at $1.29 a tin.

The hostess who has a yen to serve a light dessert that's really different and appetizing will love the port wine gelatin dessert that you can buy in town. A package is 35 cents. The same price is a pure coffee gelatin. Just mix the powder with boiling water and let it set like any other jelly.

Soup for a crowd or just for one can be made quickly with turtle soup tablets. In a box, costing 39 cents, are four tablets that need only to be dissolved in hot, hot water. Add salt and pepper to taste, and there's lunch!

If you want to go Hawaiian for an evening, you can buy bottles of poi, the much-talked-about paste-like food popular in Hawaii. If you've never tried it, here's your chance. It's 39 cents a jar. Mango slices in thick syrup are $1 a tin, and sliced papaya is 35 cents a tin.

Off to another part of the world, here's pumpernickel, that wonderful pure rye grain bread that I love. It comes in 25 or 49 cent packages. The bread is ready sliced, ready to be buttered or spread with preserves.

I noticed packages of wild rice selling at 69 cents a quarter pound. A little further along, I found tins of sliced ripe olives, good for tidbit nibbling, or for decorating your dinnertime masterpieces. A tin is 19 cents.

If you'd like to know where I found these tasty and interesting foods, call me at 2-3131. I'll tell you the names of the stores.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

About naming the divorced father in an engagement story:

My son has recently become engaged and the mother of his fiancee wishes to make an announcement in the newspaper. My husband and I have been separated for nearly 25 years. Not knowing his whereabouts in all that time, should my husband's name be mentioned in the announcement, and, if so, should it be "George Brown address unknown)"? I have been told that the father is always mentioned if living, but we neither know whether he is living or his whereabouts.

Louise

Louise Davis answers: Ordinarily in the case of separation or divorce, both father and mother are included in an engagement announcement. The boy or girl concerned is often friendly with both mother and father, and there is no point in abusing or hurting one simply because the parents can't get along. But circumstances are different in your case and I would omit the father's name. Obviously the father has shown no interest in his son, nor has he helped to support him, and, as far as you know, the father may not even be alive. It would be dreadful to use the phrase "George Brown (address unknown," for the announcement would be publicly airing a situation of unhappiness and neglect. As far as you and your son are concerned, your husband doesn't exist, so delete his name by all means.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q.—"I am 13 years old and want to wear lipstick but my mother won't allow me to because she thinks I am too young. All my girl friends wear lipstick and I don't see why I can't wear it. Please tell me what you think in your question box."

A.—Thirteen does seem quite young to begin wearing lipstick. However, if all your friends do, perhaps your mother would be willing for you to use a very light pink shade when you dress up and go to parties. I think it is much better taste at your age not to wear it to school or generally.

Q.—"How can I develop my thighs?"

A.—Deep knee bends are good. If necessary place one hand on a chair or the wall for balance. Slowly bend your knees all the way down. Do not keep the heels on the floor. The important thing is to keep your back straight. Do not bend at the waist. Slowly straighten the knees. Continue bending and straightening legs."

Q.—"Is it all right to use a blackhead remover to remove blackheads? If so, where can I buy one?"

A.—Care should be taken not to bruise the tissues. Also be sure that the tool you use is sterile and use alcohol afterwards. It really would be better to go to a dermatologist for this.

Q.—"I am 14 years old. I am 5 feet 7 inches tall and weigh 152. My measurements are 36, 26, and 36½. Please tell me if I am overweight."

A.—Your measurements are perfect but you are overweight. If you have a very heavy frame you still should lose a few pounds.

Q.—"How can I correct sway back? Is there any way to do it?"

A.—In the first place, remind yourself many times each day to watch your posture. Pull your abdomen in and tuck your hips under. Then do the following exercise. Lie on the floor. Bend both knees and place your feet on the floor. Press your back down toward the floor, trying to touch as much of your back to the floor as possible. Hold while you count to 10 slowly. Relax and repeat.

SHADES OF 1920—THE VAMP IS BACK!

PARIS (AP)—Bubble skirts that blow up the hips and brow-gripping headbands that recall the 1920s spiced the Jacques Heim fashion collection shown Monday. The vamp was clearly the heroine of openings in Paris which began with Patou Monday morning.

IN SOUTH AFRICA

Those Who Fought and Failed Now Leave Country They Love

The whites who "think," who have fought in all ways they know how to bring about a perfect union in South Africa, and who see their efforts worthless because of bitter differences of opinion among leaders, political parties and national groups, are now leaving the country in thousands.

In a thoughtful and illuminating talk at this week's supper meeting of Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club, Miss Sybil Lees, stressed this point with all its tragic inference.

Miss Lees came from South Africa, a little over a year ago, to make her home in Victoria.

In quick, decisive words, the speaker sketched the history of South Africa from the time of Vasco da Gama in 1497. She described the different races that make up its population: The whites (or Europeans) that include the Afrikaans (Dutch, Hugenot and German), British and recent immigrants from Europe, including Holland; the off-whites (non-Europeans) that include native Africans, Cape colored, Indians and Cape Malays.

The political situation was explained, also the widely divergent policies of the government (the nationalists and Afrikaanders) and the opposition (the United Party including unionists and Labor).

The scourge of "separateness": the history of native education, "thousands are turned away yearly"; the police state in which "the police are ruled by fear"; the trade unions "where 99 per cent of members may be colored but may have no representative on executive"; the courts and the white laws, all have a responsibility for the situation in South Africa today, Miss Lees insisted.

"I cannot see any hope," she concluded, "except through waking up the whole Christian outside world before it is too late. It is not an 'internal' matter. It is a matter for the survival of humanity and all it should stand for, and of the principles of Christiandom, no matter what sect."

The speaker was introduced by Miss L. Henderson and thanked by Miss M. Cottingham.

A liberal amount of good used clothing, toiletries, blankets and a generous donation of money was collected during the evening in response to an appeal for Hungarian refugees by the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women. These articles will be packed and sent to BPW shipping headquarters in Toronto and then re-shipped by air to Austria where they will be distributed to BPW women refugees there.

Seated at the head table with the president, Mrs. R. Masters, were members of the executive and Mrs. Dollie Darling, a former member of the club who has just returned to Victoria from England where she has spent the past six years.

TODAY'S RECIPE

BUTTERSCOTCH RAISIN TAPIOCA

Three-quarter cup light or dark raisins, 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, 2 cups milk, ½ cup brown sugar (packed), ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Rinse and drain raisins. Combine with tapioca, milk, sugar and salt, and cook and stir until mixture comes to a full boil. Stir in beaten egg and cook a minute longer over low heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in butter and flavoring. Cool. Serve with cream, if desired. Serves 5.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Wrap pastry squares around drained canned peach halves filled with mincemeat. Bake and serve the dumplings warm with sherry flavored whipped cream.

Suede shoes should have a professional cleaning by a shoe expert about once a month if they're to keep their velvety look.

Serve crisp cole slaw, garnished with well-drained canned peach slices, along with an oven dinner of meat loaf and scalloped potatoes.

FATHER RESCUES SON AS TWO DIE IN WRECK

2 Die in Stabbing; Policeman Critical

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) — A high school teacher and his wife were slain in their boarding house today and police said three of the four constables who overpowered a suspect were stabbed, one of them critically.

Mrs. Charlotte Castonguay was killed in her bedroom, and her husband, Gerard, wounded so severely that he died after staggering across the street to the home of a sister-in-law.

Constable Gino Pollesel was in critical condition in hospital, his stomach slashed by the six-inch blade of a knife swung upward by a crouching man who opened the rooming house door at the policeman's knock.

Constable Richard Dixon was stabbed in the thigh by a vicious upward swing described as "commando-like." The third officer, Constable Robert Young, was wounded in the hand.

The knife wielder was finally overpowered.

Dies in Oakalla

VANCOUVER (CP) — John Petrie, 45, sentenced to 14 years for conspiracy to traffic in drugs, died of a heart attack in Oakalla Prison Farm Thursday night.

Active Pass Gale Sinks Nanaimo Boat

Two Nanaimo men drowned in Active Pass following the sinking at 9.30 a.m. today of the 40-foot fishboat Lady Billie.

They died when the skiff into which they leapt for safety was dragged under.

He was saved by his father, Nicholas Kelly, 34 Robart Street, who was alone on his fishing craft, the Rose Lind.

Active Pass is on the main steamship route to Vancouver, about 40 miles from Victoria.

The Rose Lind was about a half mile behind the Lady Billie, near Georgina Light, in a fresh gale. Mr. Kelly Sr. told RCAF air-sea rescue that the Lady Billie "suddenly disappeared."

The sinking occurred as the vessels were heading into Active Pass on their way to Vancouver. The Lady Billie was loaded with herring.

Capt. Kelly said "everything seemed fine, then suddenly the Lady Billie began sinking . . ."

"The crewmen leaped into the skiff but they had nothing to cut the rope tying it to the fishboat," the captain said. "It went down fast and the skiff was pulled with it.

"Peter stayed in the cabin as she went down and pulled on a life-jacket. As she went under he began to swim. By the time we got there, there was wreckage floating around but no trace of the two men."

Call for assistance was answered by four towboats—including the Victoria tug Island Despatcher—an RCAF motor launch, and an RCAF helicopter.

Peter Kelly was put ashore at Mayne Island while the search went on. He was in good condition.

It was his second escape from marine disaster in less than five years.

In September, 1952, he was skipper of a former Rose Lind when she sank in a boiling tide near Ripple Rock, famed navigation hazard in Seymour Narrows.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of relatives in England. They were both residents of Nanaimo after coming here from England a few months ago. Each was married, and each had a small child. Their wives and children are in Nanaimo.

The helicopter was recalled to base shortly after 12 noon, following an intensive, low-level search of the shoreline near the scene of the sinking.

WRECKAGE FOUND

The surface craft picked up a considerable quantity of wreckage, indicating the Lady Billie broke up in heavy seas.

Air-sea rescue officials believe the fishboat must have sprung its seams in the heavy going and gone down quickly.

SEEKS FIRM POLICY ON UNEF ROLE

Canada Splits With U.S. Over UN Plan for Israel

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Canada decided today to withdraw as a sponsor of a U.S.-backed resolution aimed at breaking the Sinai desert deadlock, informed sources said.

These informants said Canada's decision was to allow itself freedom to move an amendment if it felt such action necessary in the course of debate in the General Assembly.

The United States was planning to introduce two resolutions.

The first would call for an Israeli withdrawal from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area. The second would permit the UN Emergency Force to be stationed in both areas.

Informed sources said Canada's attitude would be governed by the interpretation given to the latter resolution.

Hon. L. B. Pearson, leader of the Canadian delegation, had favored a strongly-worded resolution on the second point. This would have outlined with some precision how the UN Emergency Force would be deployed following an Israeli withdrawal.

Up until today, the Canadian and U.S. delegations had worked together on this resolution. Then the U.S. decided to sponsor a resolution of its own wording—much more general in its terms.

Canada was said to fear this watering down of the resolution had left it open to interpretations that would not be acceptable to Israel.

Informed sources said that if Canada finds itself in agreement with the interpretations given it during the General Assembly debate starting this afternoon, it will vote for the resolution.

If it does not, it will move an amendment aimed at securing a clearer definition of the functions of the UN force.

Earlier, a U.S. spokesman, conceding Canada had not been won over to the American draft, had expressed hope Canada might still decide to come in as a sponsor at the last moment.

High Sugar Prices Laid to B.C. Firm

Report Urges B.C. Refinery Barred From Extending Holdings to Manitoba

OTTAWA (CP)—The B.C. Sugar Refining Co. today was accused before Parliament of monopolizing most of sugar sales in the west and setting prices at the highest possible level.

The allegations were contained in a 200-page report by the restrictive trade practices commission, tabled in Commons by Justice Minister Garson.

The report said it would be in the public's best interests to prevent extension of B.C. Sugar Refining Co. to Manitoba.

The three-man body recommended that the company be prevented from carrying through its merger with the Manitoba Sugar Co. Ltd. of Fort Garry, Man.

The amalgamation, the commission said, would increase the B.C. company's share of the Manitoba market to about 75 per cent from the present 25 per cent and destroy effective competition in that province.

Justice Minister Garson said the Company will be given an opportunity to consider its position before the federal government decides whether to take legal action.

(In Winnipeg, R. R. Hetherington, assistant manager of the Manitoba firm, said the merger of the Manitoba and

PREMIER'S PURCHASE OMEN?

Sunday Ball Backers See New Ray of Hope

VANCOUVER (CP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett Thursday bought shares in the Vancouver Mounties Baseball Club and stock sales chairman Bill Clancey seems to think it was a good omen for the Sunday sport issue in Vancouver.

Mr. Bennett stopped in at the stock-selling offices of the Pacific coast League club and bought "shares"—more than one, at $25 each—to boost the club's current drive for funds.

Clancey said the premier wished the club luck in its campaign, adding: "You'd almost think that was a tipoff, wouldn't you."

Vancouver city council has asked the Legislature for permission to allow commercial Sunday afternoon sport here, the request being included in a list of proposed amendments to the city charter.

Tugboat Strike Hits New York, Great Lakes

NEW YORK (AP)—Crews of tugboats along the east coast and Great Lakes went on strike today in a contract dispute over improved wages and working conditions. Four thousand men walked out in the New York harbor area.

The strike held a threat to the movement of fuel oil, coal and some foods to the city.

63 MILES PER HOUR GUSTS LASH CITY

Mercury Dips to 20 Tonight; Partial Relief Due Sunday

Winter galloped back into Victoria today astride winds that reached 63 miles per hour in gusts at 7.30 a.m., and with temperatures down to 31 degrees at 1 p.m.

Weatherman William Mackie—who did not expect the cold air to hit Victoria for another 12 hours—said the thermometer started dropping from a comparatively warm 39 degrees Thursday at 10.30 p.m.

"We are predicting a minimum temperature tonight of from 20 to 25 degrees, and a maximum Saturday of 32," he said. "But with good fortune our skies will remain clear tonight and Saturday."

He predicted some relief Sunday or Monday. There are signs of milder air creeping across western Alaska today.

A summary of January's weather, prepared by Mr. Mackie, showed that although the last month was one of the coldest in 58 years of recording, its mean temperature of 33.8 degrees was well above the mean of 26.1 degrees recorded in January of 1950.

It was still 5.3 degrees lower than the customary 39.1 degrees. Maximum temperature was 46.8 degrees Jan. 1, and the minimum was 16.8 degrees Jan. 25. Minimum at ground level was 11.6 degrees, also on Jan. 25.

Rainfall totaled 1.63 inches, or 2.29 below normal, and there were 12.4 inches of snow, or 6.8 more than normal. Total precipitation (with snow converted to rain) was 2.87 inches, or 1.61 inches under the average.

There were 13 days with precipitation, five less than normal, and 95.2 hours of sunshine, to make the month the fourth sunniest January on record. Others were in 1922, with 107.1 hours; 1930, with 138.1, and 1949, with 117.5.

CHEK Transmitter Move Aim of 150

Salt Spring Island Site Asked At Meeting on Interference Issue

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

A meeting that early threatened to erupt into fireworks fizzled out Friday night, and about 150 persons settled for a petition to be started to ask the CBC to look into and then eliminate interference set up by local television station.

The meeting was sponsored by the Saanich Voters' Association at the instigation of the TV Interference Committee, a group of Saanich residents. It was held in the Lake Hill Women's Institute Hall.

Prime concern of the majority of speakers and those present was that David M. Armstrong, CHEK-TV president, should, at the earliest possible moment, have the station's transmitter, now located at Epsom Drive, Saanich, moved to Salt Spring Island where "it would interfere with no one."

However, James J. Proudfoot, legal adviser to Mr. Armstrong, arose to read two telegrams to the meeting.

The first, addressed to F. C. Nixon, controller of telecommunications, department of transport, Ottawa, sought permission for CHEK-TV to move its transmitter to Mount Bruce on Salt Spring Island.

The second, from Mr. Nixon to Mr. Armstrong, stated, in part: "Regret department cannot consider granting special permission to move CHEK-TV transmitter site to Mount Bruce . . . because this location would not be in accordance with the technical rule used in the application of the government television coverage policy . . ."

After two panel speakers, W. R. Margetts and E. W. Wilkinson, had stated their case against the local station, Mr. Armstrong started reading a prepared statement.

He had reached only the second paragraph—"CHEK-TV is providing viewers with many of the finest programs available in the U.S. and Canada"—when he was interrupted by boos and catcalls by a small but noisy minority.

Armstrong Told to 'Sit Down'

"Do you want to hear this?" Mr. Armstrong asked, beginning to gather up his papers, "or will I sit down?"

"Sit down," a few shouted.

Panel moderator Dr. J. M. Thomas intervened.

"I would suggest," he said, "that we ask Mr. Armstrong to please come back and continue and surely those who have voiced their protest just now will remain silent until he is through."

After that, the speaker continued in a comparative calm to outline the objectives of CHEK-TV.

He promised: "The finest Hollywood movies . . . will be seen on CHEK-TV right in the heart of the evening. Local live amateur talent shows, a hunting and fishing program, a live local panel quiz show, and an audience-participation show should be on the air in the next few weeks."

He then pointed out that CHEK-TV "actively supports all of the important medical and community service drives as part of its service to the community" and, with the completion of the cross-Canada microwave link next year, CHEK-TV will carry many of the top U.S. and Canadian network shows on a live basis.

He mentioned the Friday night fights, the World Series, Grey Cup, All-Star game, U.S. Bowl games.

Mr. Armstrong concluded by listing the channels open to this area.

"All the channels available have now been taken or spoken for," he said, "and if we hadn't moved when we did Victoria now wouldn't have a television station at all."

'We're Not Here to Apologize'

In explaining CHEK-TV's request to the Department of Transport for change of transmitter site, Mr. Proudfoot told the meeting:

"We did not come here to apologize for CHEK-TV. We believe we are doing very well."

"Yes," a voice called from the floor, "by ramming it down our throats."

"Maybe the gentleman would like to come up and say a few words," Mr. Proudfoot suggested.

But no one stepped forward.

E. W. Langston, representing the TV interference committee, pointed out that set-owners in the Greater Victoria area had invested some $10,000,000 in sets and antennas as against the local station's $250,000 investment.

Not only was CHEK-TV a "nuisance," he said, but it was having a definitely adverse effect upon real estate values in Saanich. He concluded by adjuring the meeting "to get behind CHEK-TV and help it get its transmitter moved by starting a petition to Ottawa."

Another committee speaker, R. Baird, also spoke about the local station having an adverse effect upon Saanich real estate.

When questioned by various members from the floor, Roy Farrett, local television technician, said a transmitter located on Salt Spring Island would not set up interference for anyone in the Victoria area.

The meeting concluded with the request for volunteers to circulate petitions throughout the Greater Victoria area asking that the transmitter site be changed. Exact wording of the petition was still to be worked out.

PLEAD GUILTY, APOLOGIZE

Hungary Expels Youthful U.K. 'Spies'

LONDON (Reuters) — The Hungarian government has informed Britain that four young Britons held in Hungary on spying charges will be expelled from the country Saturday, a British foreign office spokesman said today.

The four students are Miss Judith Cripps, 19-year-old granddaughter of the late Sir Stafford Cripps; Roger Cooper, 21; Basil Lord, 25, and his brother, Christopher, 21.

The spokesman said Hungarian Ambassador Janos Katona told British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore this afternoon that the four have "pleaded guilty and apologized."

The four were accused of carrying forged passes, trying to make contact with members of the revolutionary committee in Budapest and trying to gather information about Russian and Hungarian troops.

Doug Peden OUTDOOR REPORT

When the use of roe and fish compounds for angling was legalized last year, a lot of fishermen thought steelhead were going to take a beating. Many happily figured it would be a cinch to haul in limit catches.

Although roe is probably taking slightly more than half the steelies, there has been a host of disillusioned fishermen along Vancouver Island rivers this winter. Roe has not proved to be the magic key to steelhead success.

There are times when roe fishermen can make a killing, but there are also times when the ironheads will spurn bait yet hit savagely at artificial lures.

The old theory that the man behind the rod is more important than the lure on the end of the line still holds good. An experienced angler using an artificial will often take a fish where a novice dunking the juiciest hunk of roe you ever saw has failed.

It has been proved many times this winter. For instance, a Victoria angler spent several fruitless hours throwing everything in his tackle box, including roe, into a pool just above the Silver Bridge on the Cowichan River. Then a Duncan resident arrived, landed a 10-pounder on his first cast, lost a gob of roe on his second and hooked another steelhead on his third cast.

Gordon Lamont tried a pool on the Cowichan the other day after three other anglers had worked it for two hours without raising a fish. Within a few minutes he had landed one steelie and lost another.

Cowichan Yields 17-Pound Steelhead

Lamont, incidentally, had a good day on the river Sunday, topping it off with a 17-pounder, taken just below the Skutz Falls.

Although Grant Hawthorne beached a husky 14-pounder near the top end Wednesday, most of the fish have been taken in the middle section of the Cowichan during the past week. Golfer Gordon Whan and Herman May hit a hot spot Tuesday. Whan took three on different lures, May landed a pair and several fish broke loose.

Alan Potts reeled in two Saturday and followed up with another pair Sunday. Marty Brown pulled in 12 and eight-pounder at the Cowichan Monday and Jim Stewart beached one fish Tuesday.

Most Island rivers are currently fair bets for steelhead with the Cowichan, Nanaimo and Quinsam rivers the heaviest producers on the east coast during the past week. Water conditions have been near perfect but a thaw could raise the streams and make things tough for weekend fishing.

* * *

While few fishermen have been able to get out at Saanich Inlet because of ice around the boathouse, the hardy regulars at Oak Bay have been enjoying a good week.

A good run of winter springs, averaging around 12 pounds, has made things interesting in the area between Cattle Point and Gonzales Point. Most of the fish have been hooked on strip teasers, used with six or eight ounces of weight and about 50 feet of line.

Sunday was one of the better days off Oak Bay. Tiny Richards came in with three springs and Gordie Bell had two. Pete Coleman also boated a pair while Charlie Guiget, who has been scoring consistently, and Dave Grey shared a catch of two.

Jack Scott and Ray Deall each boated two springs Monday. Scott's biggest hit the scales at 20 pounds while Deall had eight and 14-pounders. Ted Parry took one and Colin Corbett lost what appeared to be the biggest of the day in the kelp.

Rough water washed out fishing Tuesday and Wednesday but Parry was back out Thursday morning and connected with a 13½-pounder.

* * *

Grilse fishing is still rated fair off Crofton and Cowichan Bay and there should be some good action at Saanich Inlet when the ice goes out.

Inlet boathouse owners expect to have the ice cleared for the weekend but a telephone call to check on conditions is suggested for those planning a trip to the Inlet.

Quare Times Assigned Top National Weight

LONDON (AP) — Quare Times, winner of the 1955 Grand National steeplechase at Aintree but withdrawn last spring because of injury, was assigned top weight of 170 pounds Thursday for the big race March 29.

Weights were announced for 64 horses, including two American-owned jumpers, Virginius and Monkey Wrench.

E.S.B., who rushed up in the stretch to win the 1956 race after the Queen Mother Elizabeth's Devon Loch fell while leading near the finish, got 167 pounds. Devon Loch recently was scratched from this year's race.

Virginius, an eight-year-old owned and bred by Raymond R. Guest of King George, Va., drew 152 pounds. Monkey Wrench, owned by Mrs. John F. C. Bryce of the Mill River Stud, Vt., a 12-year-old, is one of 17 horses assigned the minimum weight of 140 pounds. Both Virginius and Monkey Wrench were bred and formerly raced in the United States.

When Quare Times won the four miles, 856 yards event over 30 tough jumps two years ago it carried 154 pounds, while E.S.B. had 157 last year.

Listed at 166 pounds were Earl Mist, the 1953 winner, and Royal Tan, winner in 1954.

Vincent O'Brien, the Irish trainer, saddled Early Mist, Royal Tan and Quare Times when they won the National. He is also trainer of Virginius and Sam Brownthorn, who was assigned 166 pounds.

Battleship, who won the 1938 Grand National for Mrs. Marian Du Pont Scott of Orange, Va., is the last American horse to take the race on which an Irish Hospital sweepstakes is based.

'Fish' Style On View To Skiers

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich. (AP)—The revolutionary "fish" style in ski jumping will be seen here in the American international championships Feb. 23-24 on Giant Pine mountain slide.

Finland's world champion, Antti Hyvarinen, who used the style in winning the Olympic event last year at Cortina, will be in Iron Mountain for the meet.

Another great Finnish jumper, Juhani Karkinen, will be on hand.

With the new style instead of being outstretched during the air flight, the arms are drawn back and remain close to the sides. Sometimes the hands are used as side rudders, and the result is a still, spectacular air flight.

The bigger the hill, the experts say, the better the fish style is executed.

Observers here believe that the 316-foot North American record established on the Steamboat Springs, Colo., hill, may be endangered. About 100 jumpers will compete.

Bold Ruler Sets Record

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Bold Ruler, promising colt whose future suddenly clouded over last fall, is back among the top three-year-olds in the U.S.

He showed he still has his old zip when he handily covered seven furlongs in 1.22 to win Hialeah's $26,050 Bahamas Stakes. His time equalled the track record and eclipsed the Bahamas record of 1.22 2-5 which had stood since 1941.

Bold Ruler left such Flamingo and Kentucky Derby prospects as Gallant Man, King Hairan and Federal Hill far behind. He came in 4½ lengths ahead of Gen. Duke, Federal Hill was third by two lengths.

His performance earned Wheatley Stables $18,625 and rewarded his $2 backers with $9.70.

Players Take Over

PEMBROKE, Ont. (CP) — Players of Pembroke Lumber Kings of the Ontario Hockey Association, Eastern Division, will take over the club's operations.

Club spokesmen said Wednesday the decision was taken at a meeting of players' delegates and members of the executive who resigned because of financial troubles due to poor gate receipts.

Bell Voted Increase

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—National Football League owners Thursday night voted commissioner Bert Bell a $10,000-a-year salary increase, boosting his pay to $40,000.

The owners, meeting in special executive session without the commissioner, also voted Bell a $10,000 bonus for 1956.

Dulmage Named

TORONTO (CP)—Appointment of George Dulmage as sports editor of the Toronto Telegram was announced Wednesday night.

The announcement was made at a testimonial dinner for R. W. (Bobby) Hewitson, 65, retiring as sports editor of the afternoon newspaper after holding the post since 1949. Mr. Dulmage, 46, has been with the Telegram since Nov. 28, 1948. His appointment is effective Feb. 1.

HIGH SCHOOL SPORT NOTES

By IAN SMITH

Senior Squads Turn to Travel

Oak Bay and Vic High senior basketball squads put on their travelling boots this weekend.

Both teams journey to Vancouver today for return matches with Vancouver College and Lord Byng High in a last attempt to tighten their ranks for the interscholastic tournament at Vic High, Feb. 8 and 9.

Gary Taylor's Bays, currently basking in one of their better seasons, are hoping to improve upon their seven-three won-lost record when they tackle the College team on Friday.

On Saturday Taylor's club takes on Lord Byng, whom they defeated by a 36-30 count when the Byngs were on the Island earlier this year.

Meanwhile, Vic High Totems will cease their incessant rivalry with the Bays long enough to catch the same plane to Vancouver with them.

And their motive will be similar, too, although perhaps slightly more fervent; the Totems have not won a game this year, and, in the words of their coach Porky Andrews, "It's about time they did!"

Both Lord Byng, whom the Vics play Friday, and College, who are their Saturday opponents, have downed the Totems in earlier contests this season.

The losing margin in each game was a somewhat maddening three points. Mix the resulting humiliation and Andrews' hard eye from the bench, and maybe there's a winning combination, Totems believe.

Time will tell.

And time will also reveal the situation in the provincial senior soccer league finals, originally scheduled to be completed before Christmas.

Vancouver Tech wiped up the mainland competition right on schedule before the festive season. On the other hand, things weren't progressing quite so well locally.

In fact, it was well past the middle of January before Vic High finally downed Oak Bay 3-0, in the fourth game of what was originally scheduled as a best-of-three series.

Victory brought Keith Long's squad the right to meet Vancouver Tech on the home grounds of the mainland team in a sudden-death game for the B.C. championship.

All that was required by the Vics after their win was notification by the mainland champions that they were ready to do battle.

Word has not been forthcoming, however, which leaves coach Long in a rather baffled frame of mind.

"I would like to know what's happening," he said. "My boys are in good shape right now, and I'd like to get the game over with.

"If we wait much longer there's always the chance of becoming rusty with lack of practice. I know the boys feel the same way I do about the situation.

"If we play them now, I think we can win; later, I couldn't be so sure."

'I Saw Part of a Body Flying at Me'---Eyewitness

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—"I saw part of a body flying at me.

"I tripped and fell and hurt my head and broke my left arm."

This is how 12-year-old Floyd Negrete described the scene when an airliner crashed into a school athletic field filled with children at Pacoima Junior High School.

A teacher said: "The boys fell as though they were hit by a scythe."

Said Alex Gorles, who lives across the street from the school:

"I saw the thing hit and bounce.

"I counted eight kids mangled.

"One of them had his leg torn off.

"They were running every way, like quail."

Seconds before, the plane had been in a mid-air collision with a jet fighter plane. Four in the airliner were killed. The jet pilot was killed, but his radarman parachuted to safety, seriously injured.

TWO KILLED

Two students died, 78 were injured.

Shocked citizens today sought some curb on plane testing over such populous areas as this sprawling San Fernando Valley.

One of the students, Tony Berrios, 13, said he and all the others started to run when they saw the plane coming at them.

"Then I dropped to the ground and covered my face," he said.

"The gas was all over and the heat was terrific. Everybody was screaming. I laid there for a while and then I got up."

The school grounds and the hospitals were scenes of anguish as parents swarmed about trying to find their children.

MOWED DOWN

An armada of ambulances took the children to hospitals all over the valley.

Flying fragments mowed down children as they ran.

Sheets of flame spurted horizontally as the $2,000,000 sky giant plunged in.

Some children were scorched.

Smoldering clothing and shoes, scorched volley balls and other equipment littered the ground.

A metal goalpost was bent from a blow. There were great holes where the engines dug in.

Russia Charges U.S. Speeds A-War Plans

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia today accused the Western Powers of deliberately evading a solution to the problem of world disarmament.

The Soviet government charged in a statement distributed by Tass, that the United States is "speeding up preparations" for an atomic war.

The statement said the U.S. used not only evasion but delaying tactics within the United Nations to avoid a solution on the disarmament problem.

Foreign ministry spokesman Leonid F. Ilyichev, who called a press conference to announce the official statement, said that despite what he called Western provocations the Soviet Union "is and will continue its efforts towards solving the problem."

The Soviet statement said the new plan of the U.S. government for the establishment and expansion of military bases abroad, and for equipping them with atomic weapons, is "proof that the United States is speeding up preparations for an atomic war."

Toronto Police Intensify Hunt For Woman Beater

TORONTO (CP) — Police methodically checked scores of automobiles in suburban North York today after a brutal attack on an attractive 35-year-old mother run down by the motorist whose advances she ignored.

Mrs. Phyllis Cumming suffered a broken spine and leg, internal injuries and multiple lacerations.

The assailant was linked to similar attacks on three women, one of them injured seriously, and an attempt to run down two boy scouts last evening.

NYLON PRICES GOING UP SOON

MONTREAL (CP)—A price increase in women's nylon stockings is coming shortly, a trade spokesman said today. It should show up in the shops after Easter.

The increase may not affect some "nationally branded" lines but will range from 10 to 30 cents a dozen pairs wholesale elsewhere, he said.

. . . SUGAR

the B.C. companies took place several months ago when the Vancouver company acquired 40 per cent of the shares of the Manitoba company and took an option on another 55 per cent. The B.C. company also has a management contract to operate the Manitoba firm.)

The report tabled in Commons today said the B.C. company has maintained its wholesale factory price of refined sugar at Vancouver about 35 cents for each 100 pounds higher than Montreal factory prices and has used this Vancouver price for setting the tab in other provinces.

Its pricing system had the effect of enabling its subsidiary, Canadian Sugar Factories Ltd., to sell sugar at the highest possible price throughout Alberta without regard to the actual shipping costs from Alberta factories.

(In Victoria, sugar prices were practically static until October with the wholesale price $8.62 per 100 pounds. Since late October, prices have risen—sometimes twice a month, and sometimes even once a week—to the present wholesale level of $11.27 per 100 pounds. Retail price increases during the same period were from 47 to 62 cents for five-pound sacks, and 93 cents to $1.23 for 10 pounds. The present price is said by veteran grocers to be the highest since the First World War.)

The B.C. company, during an inquiry last year, countered that its labor costs were higher than in the east. But the commission suggested the lack of foreign competition had something to do with the price level. It found the highest sugar prices in eastern Saskatchewan.

Tariff protection provided for Canadian refineries was sufficiently high to keep almost the entire Canadian market for Canadian producers. If the Manitoba Sugar Company was allowed to remain independent, there would be only one way in which western sugar prices could go under increased competition and that was down, the commission said.

The commission made no charge of collusion between B.C. sugar and eastern refineries.

VANCOUVER (CP) — The president of the British Columbia Sugar Refining Co. Ltd. said today he is surprised a report submitted to Parliament accuses the company of monopolizing the western sugar market.

Forest Rogers said: "We have not received a copy of the report and are surprised at the conclusions reached. We have never considered that our acquisition of shares of the Manitoba Sugar Refining Co. Ltd. was contrary to the interests of the public."

BOY'S CLOTHES 'BURNED OFF'

PACOIMA, Calif. (UP) — Injured when the airliner crashed into the school ground here Thursday, 12-year-old Richard Berger was asked how he managed to get his clothes off.

He replied: "I didn't take them off—they were burned off."

Inco Metals at Work in Canada

Copper is one of 14 elements obtained from Inco ores. Inco produces over 250,000,000 lbs. of copper a year. And more than half of all this copper goes to Canadian companies for the manufacture of copper tube and fittings and hundreds of other useful products. Copper tube and fittings for supply and drainage plumbing are easy and economical to install... and will usually last as long or longer than the buildings in which they are used.

INCO COPPER in millions of feet of plumbing for Canadian homes

. . . more jobs in Canada

FOR LONG LIFE and trouble-free service, there's nothing quite like copper plumbing in the home. It won't rust; it resists corrosion; under normal conditions, it will last as long as the building.

Today, nearly all the new homes being built in Canada have copper plumbing. And more than half of this copper comes from Inco.

Here's how Inco Copper helps make jobs for Canadians. Down in the mines, Inco workmen blast out the ore. It is milled, smelted and refined at Inco's plants in Copper Cliff, Ontario. Refined copper is sold to Canadian companies for the manufacture of tube, fittings and other plumbing items. Then plumbers install them in Canadian homes.

All these operations help provide jobs for thousands of workmen. That's how Inco helps stimulate the growth and development of industry in Canada.
